4-POWER MEET FAILS TO SETTLE PEACE OF EUROPE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes reported to President Truman for two hours today on the Paris conference of foreign ministers—which failed to settle the peace of Europe but, in Byrnes' view as reported by associates, did not fail completely to advance the prospects for a settlement.

The secretary, returning by air today, hurried to the White House to tell his chief about the Paris session which had recessed Thursday until June 15. He will report to the nation on it by radio Monday night.

Returning with him were his two advisers from Capitol Hill, Senators Connally, Democrat, Texas, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, leading G. O. P. spokesman on international matters.

Connally told a news conference that he would report to the Senate Wednesday on the conference. Vandenberg is expected to speak to the Senate Tuesday after Byrnes' Monday night talk.

Connally said in a formal statement that "substantial progress" had been made at Paris which, it was believed, would "help the next meeting on June 15 to agree upon treaties."

Some of Vandenberg's friends report that he considered the Paris meeting pretty largely a failure but he declined public comment at the airport.

The White House session was entirely secret but some informants suggested that Byrnes probably told the NANKING, May 18.—(AP)—A call upon the Chinese government to "pool all its strength to put an end to the Communist rebels" was issued today by the government's own official organ, The Central Daily News.

The demand for full-scale action against Communist forces came at an hour when negotiations for a truce in Manchuria were stalled by refusal of the Communists to give up Changchun, the capital.

"The government has made all possible concessions," the Central Daily News declared in an editorial, "and we do not want to hear of more bargaining demands from the Communists."

The newspaper asserted some of the estimated 400,000 troops the Communists have deployed in gaining control of three-fourths of Manchuria were headed by "foreign officers"—an apparent reiteration of charges that Russian officers were involved.

BILBO ASSERTS HE WAS 'MISQUOTED'

JACKSON, Miss., May 18.—(AP)—Senator Theo G. Bilbo, candidate for renomination as U. S. senator, today said he had been misquoted in a newspaper story relative to a campaign speech he made at Leland, Miss., May 14.

"While shaking hands with friends after my regular speaking engagement in Leland Tuesday of this week, a girl with a tablet, supposedly a newspaper reporter, rushed up and asked how I stood on the question of the Jews," he said in a statement issued through his campaign headquarters here.

"I told her that I was for every good Jew from Christ on down."

"The statement about this incident which appeared in some newspapers as an Associated Press item from Leland, Miss., dated May 15, is untrue. My opposition is getting damnably desparate," the statement concluded.

The story to which the senator referred quoted him as saying he was "for every damn Jew from Jesus Christ on down."

Hodding Carter, editor of the Greenville Delta Democrat-Times, said at Greenville that Bilbo made the disputed statement in the course of his campaign speech at Leland. Carter sent the original news story to the Associated Press.

"He did say that 'I am for every damn Jew from Jesus Christ on down'," Carter declared.

Normal Schedules Will Be Resumed

60 Daily Trips Out Of Monroe Will Go Back Into Operation

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(AP)—Southern Bus Lines Motor Coaches were to begin rolling again early tonight, following termination of the three-day strike of about 1,200 employees.

Normal schedules were to be inaugurated as soon as possible after buses were serviced, but all equipment was not expected to be in operation before midnight.

Termination of the strike, which began at midnight Wednesday, was announced today in a joint statement by company and union, declaring that a mutually satisfactory agreement has been reached between the union and the company and full operations will be resumed as speedily as possible."

Negotiations between the company and the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America broke down Wednesday evening over the issue of arbitrating differences.

There was no statement on details of the settlement, but C. H. Rollins, industrial relations director of the company, and Otto DeBate, local union president and national vice-president, said there appeared to be "no possibility of a breakdown between the firm and its union employes."

35 BUS STRIKERS HERE ARE RECALLED TO DUTY

Resumption of the 60 daily schedules of Southern Bus Lines through the Monroe station, including four trips that originate here, was expected Sunday, T. E. Russell, terminal manager, said after being notified by Shreveport headquarters Saturday afternoon that the strike of 1,200 union employes in nine states had been settled.

Mr. Russell in turn informed the four ticket sellers and three colored porters who had been idle since the strike went into effect at midnight Wednesday. The 35 striking drivers who reside here and the 13 union employes of the Southern company's East Monroe shops were told of the settlement by W. F. Nash, mechanical superintendent for this division.

MIAMI, Fla., May 18.—(AP)—Southern Baptists were told tonight that they will be confronted next year with "one of the most challenging and far-reaching programs" in the entire history of the denomination, but with a membership of more than a million men and "practically unlimited financial resources" to carry out their mission.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the night session of the 101st annual meeting in Miami's Bayfront Park, Dr. Lawson H. Cooke, executive secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood, Memphis, Tenn., said that accomplishment of the program "is well within our resources and capacities."

LEWIS TO FACE MAJOR DECISION

Must Pass Again This Week On Question Of Closing Mines

COULD CALL UPON MINERS TO WORK FOR GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—With contract negotiations at a standstill John L. Lewis faces next week one of the major decisions of his career on the question whether again to shut the nation's coa mines when the strike truce ends next Saturday.

His move is bound to affect the lives of 140,000,000 persons.

The threatened railroad strike, postponed Saturday for five days, may influence his determination to prolong or turn back. A rail tie-up would prevent large scale operation of the mines anyway near the end of the truce. In that event renewal of the coal stoppage could not be credited exclusively to Lewis.

Another possibility is that an agreement might be reached between the miners and the operators. If this appeared near, he might extend the

United States Submits Voluminous Report On Franco Spain

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Premier Ahmed Qavam of Iran tonight notified Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations assembly, that Iranian government authorities would report to the security council on the withdrawal of Russian troops from Northern Iran "as soon as they are in a position to do so."

Qavam's cable to Lie indicated his government would be unable to furnish the council with detailed information on the Red army by May 30, as proposed by a council resolution adopted on May 8.

In Washington, Ala said yesterday he had no information which showed definitely that all Russian troops were out of Iran.

There was no indication as to what action the council would take.

The United States today submitted to the United Nations a voluminous report which an informed source said contained information of "great importance" to the security council subcommittee investigating Franco Spain.

The contents of the report were not disclosed, but U. S. delegation sources said it consisted of a 62-page general document and 15 attachments, which altogether made up an exhibit between eight and 10 inches thick.

Much of the material previously had been published, but an informant who would not be identified said it contained more new material on the Franco regime than the sub-committee had received up to now from all other sources.

The main document was said to deal with the following subjects: German assets in Spain, Germany and Spain, Spanish war potential, efforts of Franco Spain to penetrate the American republics and the Franco regime's reactions in relations with the United States.

A spokesman for the U. S. delegation said some points on which the sub-committee requested information

BOND OF $10,000 MADE BY KRIEGER

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(AP)—John J. Krieger, former chief clerk of the public works division, who was charged with misappropriation of city funds, was released today under $10,000 bond.

A co-defendant, Oliver Bradford, former superintendent of a city incinerator, posted a similar bond late yesterday and was released. The charges were filed on the basis of a city audit.

District Attorney Herve Racivitch said that the parish grand jury would meet in extraordinary session next Tuesday to investigate the alleged misappropriations.

The audit reported misappropriation of city funds totaling $88,464 in the garbage division of the department of public property during the past several years.

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(Special)—Two students of Byrd High School of Shreveport won this year's annual Robert Ewing L. S. U. scholarships and each will receive a full four-year college education free at the state university, The Shreveport Times will announce tomorrow.

The scholarships, awarded through an annual Shreveport Times essay contest on the achievements of famous Americans in founding or preserving constitutional government, go to Gene Lafitte, 15, and to Marguery Lacey, 16. Lafitte's first place in the essay contest gives him a scholarship totaling $2,000.00 for the four years. Miss Lacey's scholarship, won through being second to Lafitte in the essay contest, totals $1,400.00. L. S. U. waives all general fees for Ewing scholarship holders. The Ewing scholarships are the most valuable awards at L. S. U.

The victories of Lafitte and Miss Lacey made it six scholarship in a row for Byrd High School, which includes the essay contest each year as part of its curriculum in history and literature, a plan all high schools have been urged to follow.

REDS, WEST DIVIDE ON SOCIAL ISSUES

U. N. Impasse Foreseen In Disagreement Over Refugees And Economic Crises

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—A split between Russia and the west on two important social issues was evident tonight in the final preparations for the meeting of the United Nations Economic and Social Council here next Saturday.

An analysis of the work this month of the various commissions named by the council at its meeting in London last February shows there is disagreement on these issues:

1. Whether representatives of government or experts in particular fields should sit on commissions being set up to study and try to alleviate world social and economic ills.

2. The refugee problem.

Russia has made it clear, particularly in the commission on human rights headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, that the Soviet Union feels governmental representatives, empowered to act for their states, should be named on the commissions.

This came out when Alexander Borisov, Soviet delegate, refused to go along with the majority of the commission, including Mrs. Roosevelt and Prof. Rene Cassin of France, in recommending that experts and not representatives of governments be named on the commission.

The divergence of opinion whether non-government representatives qualified in a particular field should serve on a commission or whether it should be strictly on the basis of governmental representation has extended to other groups during the month.

United nations observers said this will be one of the problems the council must deal with when it meets.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RAPS KU KLUX KLAN

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(AP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark, singling out the Ku Klux Klan, said tonight "we must rid ourselves of such things as organized bigotry" in standing "before the world as examples of what a free society can do."

Clark stated that all "federal laws at my command and all that Congress deems fit to give me in the future will be enforced to the very limit in stamping out any organization or group which aims at extermination of our priceless civil liberties."

The attorney-general's speech was prepared for a meeting of the National Conference on Citizenship.

RESERVE OFFICERS ARE OFFERED DUTY

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The Army today offered active military duty to 6,400 National Guard and reserve officers who volunteer to serve at home or abroad at least until mid-1947.

The quotas include 4,400 air forces and service force officers in addition to 2,000 who will be accepted for the ground forces. The air force quota, however, consists only of the 150 non-pilot technical specialists.

The War Department explained that the officers accepted would replace those who were eligible for separation and added that it was planned to follow this policy of service until the Army attained a permanent post-war status.

282 SENTENCES OF DEATH ARE IMPOSED

LONDON, May 18.—(AP)—The United Nations war crimes commission reported tonight that 282 sentences of death had been imposed thus far on war criminals in western and southern Europe, southeast Asia and Australia.

The progress described the results of war crimes trials as encouraging and said "even better results" were expected within the next few months.

BOWLES DEMANDS ADEQUATE FUNDS

OPA Chief And N. A. M. Clash Over Efficiency And Continuance Of Agency

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Price control can not be made an effective guarantee against inflation unless the OPA is given adequate funds to administer the law and fight black markets, Stabilization Director Chester Bowles said today.

A National Association of Manufacturers spokesman countered by saying that price controls in peace time stood in the way of production and led inevitably to scarcities and black markets.

Both Bowles and John C. Gebhart, research director for the N. A. M., spoke over the American Broadcasting Company system.

"Until we get through these difficult months," Bowles declared, we'll have to restrain a natural tendency to try to catch up with every little advantage the other fellow may seem to have."

Gebhart, said:

"As long as OPA operates as it has been operating we are postponing the day further and further when we will have enough goods. We have twice as many workers available to make civilian goods as were used to make war goods. But they can't work in peacetime under the tight wraps of war controls on prices.

LIFE COMPLICATED FOR RAIL ENGINEER

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(AP)—Life is becoming almost too complicated for J. C. Blackwell, engineer on the Southern Pacific railroad's Shreveport-Houston run. He is playing a dual role in labor relations now—as an engineer, member of a union which has postponed a nation-wide walkout for five days, and as an employer whose nine workmen want a $1.50 a day pay raise.

Blackwell operates a small window-screen factory in Houston, employing nine men—"all of them over 70."

He believes he made a mistake in talking to them about the engineers' campaign to obtain a pay increase, because they have presented an ultimatum of "more pay or we strike."

That would cost Blackwell $13.50 more a day to operate—considerably more than the about $2 per day he stands to gain if the engineers win their fight.

"And I would make a profit of about 35 cents a screen," he says.

Dramatic Delay Is Near Deadline

Operators and Unions Signify Willingness to Resume Negotiations; Talks Will Start Late Today or Monday

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—President Truman won a five-day postponement of the railroad strike today.

It came only minutes before the strike was to start in the Eastern part of the nation at 3 p. m. Central Standard Time—as dramatically as any fireman on a cowcatcher ever snatched a child from the tracks.

Some trains already had stopped. Officials, fully expecting the strike, had arranged for troop protection where necessary and had rushed other measures for an emergency.

The President called A. F. Whitney, head of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, and Alvanley Johnston, chief of the engineers, at Cleveland. Would they delay the strike five days and come back to Washington tomorrow for further negotiations with the management? Mr. Truman was sure they could make further progress if they did so. Whitney and Johnston said they would call him back.

At 3:34 p. m. they called. The union chiefs accepted.

Whitney and Johnston flashed one word to their subordinates throughout the country—a code word arranged in advance which signified that the strike was off, temporarily. Whitney's word was "convention." Johnston's was his own name, "Johnston."

The handful of reporters on Saturday duty tumbled over themselves to reach the President's oval office. There they found him flanked by Secretary of Labor Schwellenback and Dr. John R. Steelman, special assistant on labor matters, with both of whom he had been conferring.

There was no immediate White House comment on a union report in Cleveland that Whitney had received assurances from the President that the brotherhoods would get concessions beyond the wage and hour decisions of a special fact-finding board and that the delay would not make union officers liable under the Smith-Connally Act.

After the postponement announcement Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, said the operators had signified their willingness to resume negotiations and that the talks will be resumed here either late tomorrow or Monday morning.

Whitney announced the strike postponement in Cleveland at the same time as the President summoned his special news conference. He and Johnston planned to fly here immediately.

The news was a surprise to Charles H. Buford, federal manager of 337 railroads which the government took over yesterday, and to Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of defense Transportation.

"I am glad to hear it," Buford said.

Johnson issued this statement:

"We have been at work all day perfecting our plans for running the railroads with as little reduction of service as possible, and we will continue to develop these plans and have them ready so that, if the strike does come after the postponement, it will cause minimum damage to American transportation.

"It is very gratifying to me that the strike has been suspended. I sincerely hope that during the five days of suspension the differences between management and employees will be settled and that there will be no further inconvenience to transportation."

The postponement came too late to prevent some interruptions of train service.

ENGINEER HOLDS UP NEW ORLEANS TRAIN

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(AP)—Texas and Pacific passenger train No. 23 was ready to roll out of the station here today when the strike call was delayed, but the engineer said "no."

No. 23 was scheduled to leave for Fort Worth at 4 p. m., about the time the strike call was suspended, and was still standing under the shed at 6 p. m.

FAMED CHAPLAIN TO VISIT CITY

Commander O'Callahan Will Be Memorial Day Speaker Here Sunday

The first chaplain in the history of the United States to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military award—Commander Joseph T. O'Callahan, of Cambridge, Mass., sponsored by the veterans posts, will be the speaker next Sunday for the Memorial Day program to be given at the Brown field, Northeast Junior College, at 2:30 p. m. Arrangements have been completed by the Ouachita Parish Veterans council of which J. H. Trousdale, Jr., is council chairman.

Commander O'Callahan, who is national chaplain of the American Veterans of World War two, received the Medal of Honor for heroism abroad the USS Franklin when the 27,000 ton, Essex-class carrier was nearly sunk by Jap aerial bombs in the final stages of Pacific warfare.

Commander O'Callahan, first Jesuit priest to enlist in the naval service, displayed his extraordinary heroism just 17 days after assignment to the Franklin. He had previously seen combat duty in the Atlantic abroad the carrier Ranger.

The Franklin was severaly damaged while operating with a fast carrier task force against remnants of the Japanese fleet sighted in the inland sea. When the ship was struck and set afire Commander O'Callahan left his customary battle station on the island bridge and although wounded, rushed about the exposed, slanting flight deck administering last rites to the dying and comforting the wounded. He then led officers and men into the flames to carry hot bombs and shells to the edge of the deck for jettisoning. Moreover he personally recruited a damage control party that entered one of the main ammunition magazines to wet it down and prevent its exploding. Captain Leslie E. Hehres, commanding officer of the Franklin, characterized O'Callahan as "the bravest man I ever saw."

Entering the chaplain corps of the naval reserve Aug. 1, 1940 Commander O'Callahan, then director of the department of mathematics in Holy Cross college, Worchester, Mass., was called to active duty November 23 of that year as junior grade lieutenant and assigned to the Penzacola, Fla., naval air station.

In April 1942, he joined the Ranger,

JAPAN'S POLITICS SEETHES UNEASILY

TOKYO, May 18.—(AP)—Japan's turgid politics seethed uneasily tonight as leftwing organizers announced mass food protest demonstrations for tomorrow in Tokyo and Yokohama. American troops in the area were alerted for possible trouble.

Sanni Nosaka, Communist member of the diet, said 100,000 demonstrators would swarm around Emperor Hirohito's palace to demand adequate food and the elimination of the conservative regime to make way for a "democratic" cabinet.

A second food demonstration was planned for Yokohama.

Premier-Designate Shigeru Yoshida meanwhile floundered through another day of valn negotiations in his attempt to form a conservative coalition cabinet. Several of his choices were reported to have declined cabinet posts.

A discouraged and puzzled diet continued in recess. It awaited completion of a cabinet and pondered the status of Takekichi Miki, newly-elected speaker of the house of representatives who fears disqualification under General MacArthur's policitical purge directive.

Senzo Higahi, Liberal party member who was runner-up in the speakership contest, told newsmen he expected Miki to retire, leaving him to inherit the post.

The Sunday food and anti-conservative demonstrations were likely to hit a new high in public clamor if plans were fulfilled.

In line with American policy, MacArthur's troops were not to interfere except to protect U. S. lives and property if the crowds got out of hand.

HAIL STORM DAMAGE FIXED AT $250,000

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 18—(AP)—Unofficial estimates placed the damage from a severe hail and wind storm of last night in central Louisiana at $250,000.

Three persons were injured when their home was demolished in a small tornado at Echo, 18 miles south of Alexandria. They are Mrs. Nick Kelone, her daughter Nelyn and Curry Lachney, an ex-service man.

The home of C. E. Dupuy also was demolished by the wind in the Poland area.

Windows, automobiles and display signs were damaged by hail stones in Alexandria and crops were laid waste in rural areas.

At Brown's Bend, a farming area two miles west of Bayou Rapides, 300 acres of cotton, corn, potatoes and vegetables were destroyed. Orchards also were heavily damaged. Residents said hail covered the ground like snow.

In Alexandria one warehouse reported 87 glass windows smashed. A hail stone found here weighed 5 1/2 pounds.

COULD CALL UPON MINERS TO WORK FOR GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—With contract negotiations at a standstill John L. Lewis faces next week one of the major decisions of his career on the question whether again to shut the nation's coa mines when the strike truce ends next Saturday.

His move is bound to affect the lives of 140,000,000 persons.

The threatened railroad strike, postponed Saturday for five days, may influence his determination to prolong or turn back. A rail tie-up would prevent large scale operation of the mines anyway near the end of the truce. In that event renewal of the coal stoppage could not be credited exclusively to Lewis.

Another possibility is that an agreement might be reached between the miners and the operators. If this appeared near, he might extend the

United States Submits Voluminous Report On Franco Spain

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Premier Ahmed Qavam of Iran tonight notified Tryvge Lie, secretary general of the United Nations assembly, that Iranian government authorities would report to the security council on the withdrawal of Russian troops from Northern Iran "as soon as they are in a position to do so."

Qavam's cable to Lie indicated his government would be unable to furnish the council with detailed information on the Red army by May 30, as proposed by a council resolution adopted on May 8.

In Washington, Ala said yesterday he had no information which showed definitely that all Russian troops were out of Iran.

There was no indication as to what action the council would take.

The United States today submitted to the United Nations a voluminous report which an informed source said contained information of "great importance" to the security council subcommittee investigating Franco Spain.

The contents of the report were not disclosed, but U. S. delegation sources said it consisted of a 62-page general document and 15 attachments, which altogether made up an exhibit between eight and 10 inches thick.

Much of the material previously had been published, but an informant who would not be identified said it contained more new material on the Franco regime than the sub-committee had received up to now from all other sources.

The main document was said to deal with the following subjects: German assets in Spain, Germany and Spain, Spanish war potential, efforts of Franco Spain to penetrate the American republics and the Franco regime's reactions in relations with the United States.

A spokesman for the U. S. delegation said some points on which the sub-committee requested information

BOND OF $10,000 MADE BY KRIEGER

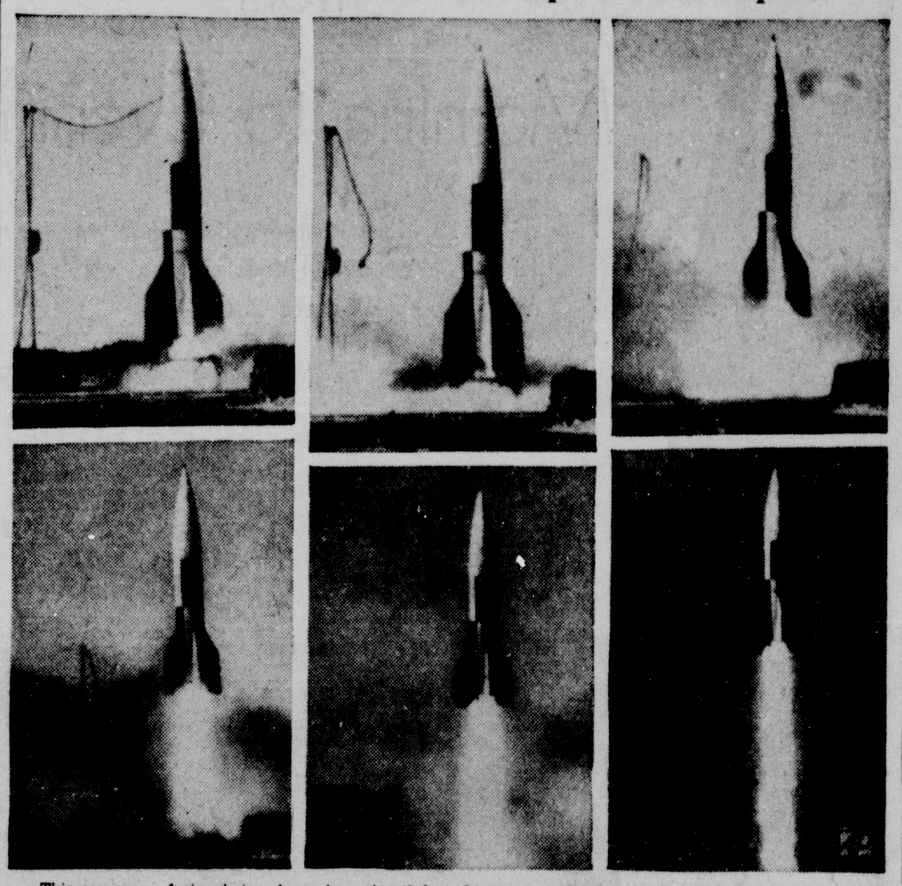
NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(AP)—John J. Krieger, former chief clerk of the public works division, who was charged with misappropriation of city funds, was released today under $10,000 bond.

A co-defendant, Oliver Bradford, former superintendent of a city incinerator, posted a similar bond late yesterday and was released. The charges were filed on the basis of a city audit.

District Attorney Herve Racivitch said that the parish grand jury would meet in extraordinary session next Tuesday to investigate the alleged misappropriations.

The audit reported misappropriation of city funds totaling $88,464 in the garbage division of the department of public property during the past several years.

Fourteen-Ton Rocket Flies Upward Into Space



This sequence of six photos shows how the 46-foot, 14-ton re-made German V-2 rocket defied the laws of gravity and rose, faster and faster, at the beginning of its estimated 75-mile flight above the earth in a test at White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico. It landed in the New Mexico desert 39 miles from the launching platform. (AP Wirephoto from Paramount News).

TWO BYRD HIGH STUDENTS WIN ROBERT EWING AWARDS

Gene Lafitte And Marguery Lacey Get L. S. U. Scholarships

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(Special)—Two students of Byrd High School of Shreveport won this year's annual Robert Ewing L. S. U. scholarships and each will receive a full four-year college education free at the state university, The Shreveport Times will announce tomorrow.

The scholarships, awarded through an annual Shreveport Times essay contest on the achievements of famous Americans in founding or preserving constitutional government, go to Gene Lafitte, 15, and to Marguery Lacey, 16. Lafitte's first place in the essay contest gives him a scholarship totaling $2,000.00 for the four years. Miss Lacey's scholarship, won through being second to Lafitte in the essay contest, totals $1,400.00. L. S. U. waives all general fees for Ewing scholarship holders. The Ewing scholarships are the most valuable awards at L. S. U.

The victories of Lafitte and Miss Lacey made it six scholarship in a row for Byrd High School, which includes the essay contest each year as part of its curriculum in history and literature, a plan all high schools have been urged to follow.

Cash awards of $50.00 each for the three next best essays went to George Ellis Sandoz, Jr., 15, and Dollye Sue Viebeg, 16, also Byrd students, and

REDS, WEST DIVIDE ON SOCIAL ISSUES

U. N. Impasse Foreseen In Disagreement Over Refugees And Economic Crises

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—A split between Russia and the west on two important social issues was evident tonight in the final preparations for the meeting of the United Nations Economic and Social Council here next Saturday.

An analysis of the work this month of the various commissions named by the council at its meeting in London last February shows there is disagreement on these issues:

1. Whether representatives of government or experts in particular fields should sit on commissions being set up to study and try to alleviate world social and economic ills.

2. The refugee problem.

Russia has made it clear, particularly in the commission on human rights headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, that the Soviet Union feels governmental representatives, empowered to act for their states, should be named on the commissions.

This came out when Alexander Borisov, Soviet delegate, refused to go along with the majority of the commission, including Mrs. Roosevelt and Prof. Rene Cassin of France, in recommending that experts and not representatives of governments be named on the commission.

The divergence of opinion whether non-government representatives qualified in a particular field should serve on a commission or whether it should be strictly on the basis of governmental representation has extended to other groups during the month.

United nations observers said this will be one of the problems the council must deal with when it meets.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RAPS KU KLUX KLAN

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(AP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark, singling out the Ku Klux Klan, said tonight "we must rid ourselves of such things as organized bigotry" in standing "before the world as examples of what a free society can do."

Clark stated that all "federal laws at my command and all that Congress deems fit to give me in the future will be enforced to the very limit in stamping out any organization or group which aims at extermination of our priceless civil liberties."

The attorney-general's speech was prepared for a meeting of the National Conference on Citizenship.

RESERVE OFFICERS ARE OFFERED DUTY

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The Army today offered active military duty to 6,400 National Guard and reserve officers who volunteer to serve at home or abroad at least until mid-1947.

The quotas include 4,400 air forces and service force officers in addition to 2,000 who will be accepted for the ground forces. The air force quota, however, consists only of the 150 non-pilot technical specialists.

The War Department explained that the officers accepted would replace those who were eligible for separation and added that it was planned to follow this policy of service until the Army attained a permanent post-war status.

282 SENTENCES OF DEATH ARE IMPOSED

LONDON, May 18.—(AP)—The United Nations war crimes commission reported tonight that 282 sentences of death had been imposed thus far on war criminals in western and southern Europe, southeast Asia and Australia.

The progress described the results of war crimes trials as encouraging and said "even better results" were expected within the next few months.

BOWLES DEMANDS ADEQUATE FUNDS

OPA Chief And N. A. M. Clash Over Efficiency And Continuance Of Agency

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Price control can not be made an effective guarantee against inflation unless the OPA is given adequate funds to administer the law and fight black markets, Stabilization Director Chester Bowles said today.

A National Association of Manufacturers spokesman countered by saying that price controls in peace time stood in the way of production and led inevitably to scarcities and black markets.

Both Bowles and John C. Gebhart, research director for the N. A. M., spoke over the American Broadcasting Company system.

"Until we get through these difficult months," Bowles declared, we'll have to restrain a natural tendency to try to catch up with every little advantage the other fellow may seem to have."

Gebhart, said:

"As long as OPA operates as it has been operating we are postponing the day further and further when we will have enough goods. We have twice as many workers available to make civilian goods as were used to make war goods. But they can't work in peacetime under the tight wraps of war controls on prices.

"Take off the wraps and there'll be

LIFE COMPLICATED FOR RAIL ENGINEER

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(AP)—Life is becoming almost too complicated for J. C. Blackwell, engineer on the Southern Pacific railroad's Shreveport-Houston run. He is playing a dual role in labor relations now—as an engineer, member of a union which has postponed a nation-wide walkout for five days, and as an employer whose nine workmen want a $1.50 a day pay raise.

Blackwell operates a small window-screen factory in Houston, employing nine men—"all of them over 70."

He believes he made a mistake in talking to them about the engineers' campaign to obtain a pay increase, because they have presented an ultimatum of "more pay or we strike."

That would cost Blackwell $13.50 more a day to operate—considerably more than the about $2 per day he stands to gain if the engineers win their fight.

"And I would make a profit of about 35 cents a screen," he says.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—President Truman won a five-day postponement of the railroad strike today.

It came only minutes before the strike was to start in the Eastern part of the nation at 3 p. m. Central Standard Time—as dramatically as any fireman on a cowcatcher ever snatched a child from the tracks.

Some trains already had stopped. Officials, fully expecting the strike, had arranged for troop protection where necessary and had rushed other measures for an emergency.

The President called A. F. Whitney, head of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, and Alvanley Johnston, chief of the engineers, at Cleveland. Would they delay the strike five days and come back to Washington tomorrow for further negotiations with the management? Mr. Truman was sure they could make further progress if they did so. Whitney and Johnston said they would call him back.

At 3:34 p. m. they called. The union chiefs accepted.

Whitney and Johnston flashed one word to their subordinates throughout the country—a code word arranged in advance which signified that the strike was off, temporarily. Whitney's word was "convention." Johnston's was his own name, "Johnston."

The handful of reporters on Saturday duty tumbled over themselves to reach the President's oval office. There they found him flanked by Secretary of Labor Schwellenback and Dr. John R. Steelman, special assistant on labor matters, with both of whom he had been conferring.

There was no immediate White House comment on a union report in Cleveland that Whitney had received assurances from the President that the brotherhoods would get concessions beyond the wage and hour decisions of a special fact-finding board and that the delay would not make union chiefs liable under the Smith-Connally Act.

After the postponement announcement Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, said the operators had signified their willingness to resume negotiations and that the talks will be resumed here either late tomorrow or Monday morning.

Whitney announced the strike postponement in Cleveland at the same time as the President summoned his special news conference. He and Johnston planned to fly here immediately.

The news was a surprise to Charles H. Buford, federal manager of 337 railroads which the government took over yesterday, and to Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of defense Transportation.

"I am glad to hear it," Buford said.

Johnson issued this statement:

"We have been at work all day perfecting our plans for running the railroads with as little reduction of service as possible, and we will continue to develop these plans and have them ready so that, if the strike does come after the postponement, it will cause minimum damage to American transportation.

"It is very gratifying to me that the strike has been suspended. I sincerely hope that during the five days of suspension the differences between management and employees will be settled and that there will be no further inconvenience to transportation."

The postponement came too late to prevent some interruptions of train service.

Commander O'Callahan Will Be Memorial Day Speaker Here Sunday

The first chaplain in the history of the United States to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest military award—Commander Joseph T. O'Callahan, of Cambridge, Mass., sponsored by the veterans posts, will be the speaker next Sunday for the Memorial Day program to be given at the Brown field, Northeast Junior College, at 2:30 p. m. Arrangements have been completed by the Ouachita Parish Veterans council of which J. H. Trousdale, Jr., is council chairman.

Commander O'Callahan, who is national chaplain of the American Veterans of World War two, received the Medal of Honor for heroism abroad the USS Franklin when the 27,000 ton, Essex-class carrier was nearly sunk by Jap aerial bombs in the final stages of Pacific warfare.

Commander O'Callahan, first Jesuit priest to enlist in the naval service, displayed his extraordinary heroism just 17 days after assignment to the Franklin. He had previously seen combat duty in the Atlantic abroad the carrier Ranger.

The Franklin was severaly damaged while operating with a fast carrier task force against remnants of the Japanese fleet sighted in the inland sea. When the ship was struck and set afire Commander O'Callahan left his customary battle station on the island bridge and although wounded, rushed about the exposed, slanting flight deck administering last rites to the dying and comforting the wounded. He then led officers and men into the flames to carry hot bombs and shells to the edge of the deck for jettisoning. Moreover he personally recruited a damage control party that entered one of the main ammunition magazines to wet it down and prevent its exploding. Captain Leslie E. Hehres, commanding officer of the Franklin, characterized O'Callahan as "the bravest man I ever saw."

Entering the chaplain corps of the naval reserve Aug. 1, 1940 Commander O'Callahan, then director of the department of mathematics in Holy Cross college, Worchester, Mass., was called to active duty November 23 of that year as junior grade lieutenant and assigned to the Pensacola, Fla., naval air station.

In April 1942, he joined the Ranger,

JAPAN'S POLITICS SEETHES UNEASILY

TOKYO, May 18.—(AP)—Japan's turgid politics seethed uneasily tonight as leftwing organizers announced mass food protest demonstrations for tomorrow in Tokyo and Yokohama. American troops in the area were alerted for possible trouble.

Sanni Nosaka, Communist member of the diet, said 100,000 demonstrators would swarm around Emperor Hirohito's palace to demand adequate food and the elimination of the conservative regime to make way for a "democratic" cabinet.

A second food demonstration was planned for Yokohama.

Premier-Designate Shigeru Yoshida meanwhile floundered through another day of vain negotiations in his attempt to form a conservative coalition cabinet. Several of his choices were reported to have declined cabinet posts.

A discouraged and puzzled diet continued in recess. It awaited completion of a cabinet and pondered the status of Takekichi Miki, newly-elected speaker of the house of representatives who fears disqualification under General MacArthur's policitical purge directive.

Senzo Higahi, Liberal party member who was runner-up in the speakership contest, told newsmen he expected Miki to retire, leaving him to inherit the post.

The Sunday food and anti-conservative demonstrations were likely to hit a new high in public clamor if plans were fulfilled.

In line with American policy, MacArthur's troops were not to interfere except to protect U. S. lives and property if the crowds got out of hand.

ENGINEER HOLDS UP NEW ORLEANS TRAIN

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(AP)—Texas and Pacific passenger train No. 23 was ready to roll out of the station here today when the strike call was delayed, but the engineer said "no."

No. 23 was scheduled to leave for Fort Worth at 4 p. m., about the time the strike call was suspended, and was still standing under the shed at 6 p. m.

HAIL STORM DAMAGE FIXED AT $250,000

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 18—(AP)—Unofficial estimates placed the damage from a severe hail and wind storm of last night in central Louisiana at $250,000.

Three persons were injured when their home was demolished in a small tornado at Echo, 18 miles south of Alexandria. They are Mrs. Nick Kelone, her daughter Nelyn and Curry Lachney, an ex-service man.

The home of C. E. Dupuy also was demolished by the wind in the Poland area.

Windows, automobiles and display signs were damaged by hail stones in Alexandria and crops were laid waste in rural areas.

At Brown's Bend, a farming area two miles west of Bayou Rapides, 300 acres of cotton, corn, potatoes and vegetables were destroyed. Orchards also were heavily damaged. Residents said hail covered the ground like snow.

In Alexandria one warehouse reported 87 glass windows smashed. A hail stone found here weighed 5 1/2 pounds.

PLAN SUMMER NIGHT SCHOOL

N. J. C. Will Have Classes For Ambitious Students

Special features which Northeast Junior College has to offer during the summer term in addition to the regular day curricular include courses in the nine-week night school and day classes planned especially for advanced undergraduates and beginning graduate students or for teachers who simply desire to take additional work which will help them this fall.

The night school schedule includes English 2, history 2, accounting 2, mechanical drawing, trigonometry, and music. Additional classes may be organized provided at least eight persons enroll for them, announced W. L. Perkins, director of night school. Some of the above courses are continued from the spring semester for those who desire to complete a full unit of work.

All courses will carry full college credit which may be transferred to other colleges or universities to count toward a degree.

Students who have been attending other institutions but who plan to be in Monroe this summer may find it profitable to take advantage of night school offerings, Mr. Perkins said. The work may also be advantageous to veterans who are waiting for housing facilities at a university as well as persons who are employed during the day.

Veterans and others are invited to register for music during the night school. Study in this field will comprise private lessons arranged for the convenience of students and instructors. Lessons in voice, piano and other instruments may be scheduled. Veterans are eligible to take private music lessons by terms of the G. I. Bill of Rights. Students should arrange as soon as possible for private lessons.

The general extension division of Louisiana State University has approved the plan to make available at Northeast Junior College courses designed particularly for those in the teaching field. These will be taught by instructors from the L. S. U. campus. The work is being offered to fill to some extent teaching needs, Dean Rodney Cline explained. Many teachers who desire to go to a four-year college or university this summer are unable to do so because of lack of housing facilities. Teachers throughout this area of the state will have an opportunity to earn college credits at the local college by commuting daily or by living in this community for the school term.

Intensive study in these courses is planned with a view toward completing a three-hour course in three weeks. The required 45 clock hours of work in class could be filled by students meeting in class for three hours daily over a three-week period. The student could schedule two classes by meeting one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

Those interested in such work are asked to communicate with Dean Cline or Mr. Perkins regarding courses which they are especially eager to have offered.

No details as to the funeral were available here on Saturday.

DODGE DEALERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Dodge dealers and their salesmen from the Monroe area will attend a conference Monday and Tuesday, May 20 and 21, in the Frances Hotel in a national program in which about 6,100 Dodge sales personnel are being trained to better qualify them to serve truck users in the selection of the right trucks to meet their hauling needs.

The national training program, which is being carried into all 48 states with 258 conferences already scheduled, was developed under direction of L. F. Van Nortwick, director of truck sales of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation.

The Monroe training program will be conducted by W. B. Droge, truck manager, and A. V. Strapps, district manager, who recently finished an intensive training program in Detroit with 38 other Dodge truck men to prepare them for the national conferences which will become a continuous activity. The Monroe meeting was arranged by S. E. Pattison, regional manager.

Dodge dealers and salesmen will be trained to analyze truck users' requirements and to help them select the right trucks for every type of hauling job.

Five Worthiest Projects

Five of the principal aims of the Louisiana Legislative Council for 1946 are to be explained to the people of Monroe at a mass meeting to be held in room 202 of the Ouachita parish courthouse tomorrow evening, starting at 8 o'clock. It is to be hoped that the public interest and support that the proposed measures deserve will cause a capacity attendance. Never were five more worthy projects advocated for Louisiana.

The five points to be discussed at the meeting are:

Changing of the office of superintendent of public instruction from an elective to appointive basis, the selection of the holder to be made by the state board of education.

Provision for the care of chronically ill and homeless aged persons.

Hospitalization of the mentally ill and deficient.

Equipment and maintenance for the already authorized tuberculosis hospitals and provisions for matching federal funds to obtain better facilities for the treatment and care of tuberculosis patients.

Improvement of state institutions wherein juvenile offenders are confined.

Each of the projects is to be explained at the mass meeting by the speaker best qualified to talk on that particular subject. Chosen unanimously by the sponsoring committee to discuss the appointive superintendent proposal was Donald M. Ewing, associate editor of the Shreveport Times. That was largely because of the forthright manner in which he handled the same subject in an address before the recent state convention of the Parent-Teacher Association at Shreveport.

"The superintendent of public instruction in Louisiana is now nominated in a back room in New Orleans or Shreveport," said Dr. Young, head of the legislative council, recently. "Then he is elected in a slush-slinging campaign to head the institutions that educate the young people of this state."

The problem of the chronically ill, which will be put before the mass meeting by Dr. A. D. Tisdale of Monroe, is held by all medical men and welfare workers to be critical. These "permanent" invalids are clogging the hospitals and keeping out the acutely ill, say the heads of those institutions.

Equally serious is the problem of the mentally ill, which is to be the topic of A. N. McGuire, director of public welfare in Ouachita parish. The state needs a third mental hospital and vast improvements for the other two. Pineville is reported as housing 25 per cent more patients than it was designed to accommodate and Jackson is 65 per cent overcrowded. The statement has been made that "You have to go raving mad to get in."

The situation of the tubercular, called "catastrophic" in Louisiana, has been assigned to Dr. C. R. Gowen of Shreveport. One hospital, at Greenwell Springs, now serves the state, and it is run at about one-third its capacity, because of lack of funds, doctors and nurses.

Recommendations for legislation to improve conditions for confined juveniles will be presented by Mrs. G. W. Pomeroy of Alexandria. A subcommittee of the legislative council recently reported the Louisiana Training Institute for Boys in Monroe was in "good condition" but that recommendations made by investigators for Governor Davis for improvements at the girls' home at Pineville had not been carried out.

The mass meeting was arranged by a committee composed of representatives of the various local civic groups that are affiliated with the state legislative council, with Mrs. Elmer Slagle of the American Association of University Women serving as general chairman. They are to be congratulated for the splendid program and their selection of able speakers.

MONROE STREETS ARE SAFER

There has been but one fatality and only 35 persons hurt in traffic accidents within the city of Monroe during the first five months of 1946. In the 12 months of last year three were killed and 108 were injured. Thus the figures for this year show a decided improvement, which can be attributed to the unrelenting safety campaign carried on by the police department.

Chief of Police J. D. Busby, however, gives much of the credit to the public itself—to drivers for better observance of the traffic laws and to pedestrians for heeding safety rules in crossing streets.

The one traffic fatality of 1946 occurred on March 9 and was due entirely to carelessness on the part of the victim, a colored woman, who was struck down and killed when she walked directly into the path of an auto.

As often as possible, Chief Busby repeats his set warning to children: "Always look both ways before starting to cross a street, and, after getting off a bus, always stand on the sidewalk until the vehicle has moved on; never pass in front or behind it in attempting a crossing."

It is most gratifying to note that youngsters generally are following this precautionary rule.

Another satisfactory result of the police campaign is a steady reduction in complaints against speeders. Monroe's limit is 25 miles an hour for cars and 15 miles an hour for trucks on all city streets.

While on the subject of traffic, the chief revealed Saturday that his department is engaged at present in a little anti-noise crusade with officers instructed to arrest persons operating cars, trucks and motorcycles without adequate mufflers.

Income taxes will not be reduced this year, it seems, because Europe needs the money.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 18.—Kay Aldridge, actress-wife of oil millionaire Arthur Cameron, expects their second baby in September. . . . Several top film personalities are being quizzed about alleged purchases of jewels smuggled in from the Orient. . . . Actor Dick Addison and Helen Pender are headed for the divorce mills. She's the MGM actress, an ex-model. . . . Joan Crawford, one star smart enough to prefer good roles to top billing, is trying to re-arrange her work schedule in order to play a secondary part in "Arch of Triumph." . . . It's a seven-pound baby boy for the Curt Masseys.

Jimmy Cagney's salary for "13 Rue de Madeleine" will set a new Hollywood high. . . . June 1 is the wedding date for Kim Kimberly, vocalist on Hoagy Carmichael's air show, and Marine Maj. James E. Johnson. . . . Blue-pencil that report, published elsewhere, that Kay Kyser is again ailing. . . . Hmmm! Margaret O'Brien's mama, content hitherto with a small bungalow, is dickering for one of Beverly Hill's ritziest mansions. . . . The Legion of Decency has rated Monogram's "Suspense" as "objectionable in part," charging that certain dance sequences are suggestive.

Mrs. Ben Blue's obstetrician has advised her to buy two of everything. . . . Actress Myrna Dell is confined to a dark room because of an eye affliction. . . . Anita Page, silent screen star, has gone to Honolulu with her three-year-old son to join her husband, a naval officer. . . . Jack Haley will produce a series of movie shorts featuring old-time vaudeville favorites in acts they made famous.

Preview Nights: Pic of the week: Paramount's "The Searching Wind" (Robert Young-Sylvia Sidney-Ann Richards). Adult drama that will blow up a storm of applause. . . . Recommended: MGM's "Courage Of Lassie" (Elizabeth Taylor-Frank Morgan-Tom Drake). A must-see offering for lovers of the outdoors. . . . RKO's "Without Reservations" (Claudette Colbert-John Wayne-Don DeFore). Smart farce comedy that will leave you with a pleasant laughter-math. . . . Good: Paramount's "Swamp Fire" (Johnny Weissmuller-Virginia Grey-Buster Crabbe). Has enough thrills to offset an anemic plot. . . . 20th Century-Fox's "Strange Triangle" (Signe Hasse-Preston Foster). One more case in Hollywood's current crime wave. . . . Low Bridge: Republic's "The Undercover Woman" (Stephanie Bachelor-Robert Livingston). Too bad they unwrapped her. . . . Best Performance: Robert Young in "The Searching Wind."

After a conversation with Producer Seymour Nebenzal, I'm cancelling any doubts I may have entertained about the matrimonial bliss of Margo and Eddie Albert. A few days ago, Nebenzal phoned Margo and offered her the top role in "The Chase"—a part that any dramatic actress would give an eye tooth to play. Margo unhesitatingly declined "Eddie and I," she said, "have planned a trip to Mexico City and we can't postpone it because of his future screen commitments. I wouldn't think of disappointing him." When a Hollywood wife displays sentiments of that kind, it is safe to buy "Happy Anniversary" cards far in advance.

While I'm passing out bouquets, I want to toss one to Red Skelton, who took time out the other day to make an unpaid appearance in the Hollywood High School auditorium, where he did a 30-minute show for the student body. Ostensibly, his act was pure comedy; actually it was something more, for he managed to inject, between the lines, an effective appeal for the kids' active participation in the fight against juvenile delinquency. The factor that makes me willing to double the number of posies in Skelton's bouquet is the fact that his contribution to good citizenship was unpublicized. I discovered it only because I overheard a conversation between two high school girls.

RKO bosses are ecstatic about the beauty and ability of a new-comer named Virginia Huston, who, after a year of careful coaching, is now making her bid for stardom. But if they want her to reach the ladder's top, the studio representatives should cease describing her as "the girl who looks like Joan Fontaine." Miss Huston does bear a startling resemblance to Joan, but studio spokesmen should soft-pedal, instead of advertising that fact. It's been proven again and again that girls who look like established stars labor under a heavy handicap in their bids for audience favor.

A publicity dispatch from Paramount advises me that a dog named Buttons, currently working in "The Emperor Waltz," has been taught by its owner to chew gum. I sincerely hope that Buttons' master, having gone that far, will go a bit farther and teach his pooch not to park the gum under theater seats.

BY HENRY McLEMORE

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—"Singing up for the ol' rocking chair."

"We're proud of you, General . . . Mud . . . Leyte."

"What wine goes with turnip greens? Georgia. . . ."

These were a few of the scribbled notes I came across today when I was cleaning out my desk, a beautiful roll-top affair which I was lucky enough to pick up at an auction years ago for less than half again what is was worth.

"Signing up for the ol' rocking chair." Now what was I thinking about when I wrote that down? Let's see. Oh, yes, I remember. It was to remind me of a story told to me by Perrin Shoemaker, a coach at the University of Chattanooga. Perrin, home only a few months after fighting through Europe with the 36th division, had just returned from a football talent search when I saw him.

"I had had my eyes on a certain high school tackle before I went in the army," Shoemaker said, "and as soon as I started coaching again, I made a bee-line for the little mountain town in which he lives. The tackle, as big as an oak tree and just as tough, had also gone in the army. When I got to his little town I went to the general store and asked where I could find him. The proprietor said I'd find him up at the school house 'signing up for the ol' rocking chair.' 'Doing what?' I asked. The mountaineer said, 'Dang it, I said he was up at the school house signing up for the ol' rocking chair. There's a passel of boys up there with him, too, doing the same thing.'"

So, Perrin said, he made his way to the school house and found his big football player standing in a sizable line that wound into the school house. Perrin spoke to him and asked him what he was doing.

"We're all signing up for the ol' rocking chair," the ex-GI said. "That's what us folks around here call it when you put your name down for that 20 bucks a week Uncle Sam pays soldiers without jobs. Get it, and r'ar back and rock. If you haven't signed up you must be crazy."

The next note, about the general, the mud, and Leyte, kindled a spark in my mind right away. It has to do with General MacArthur, and I'll always remember it when I hear his critics say he is a man with no feeling for the GI. It happened in Tacloban, Leyte, not long after that Philippine town had been secured and MacArthur had established his headquarters in a big house near the center of town. The mud was three feet deep and the rain was falling in sheets. Two GIs, much the worse for the stuff the natives were peddling as wine, were staggering past the general's house. Dirty, unshaven, half out of uniform they passed his gate just as he came out, stars, gold braid and all. They managed to recognize him, and came to a wobbly attention. They threw two of the worst salutes in military history and one of them said, "General, we're proud of you."

Five-star MacArthur returned the salutes with a magnificent one, right out of the manual, looked the GIs in the eyes, and said, "And I'm proud of you men, too," and passed on.

"What wine goes with turnip greens? Georgia."

That note goes back half a dozen years or more. I was driving through a forsaken reach of Georgia and came to a wide place in the road and saw a hay and grain store, a postoffice and a grocery store. And, over the hay and grain store was a brand new, big, shiny sign that read: "Finest wines and liqueurs."

I wondered then, and I wonder now, what is the best wine to serve with turnip greens and sow belly, and at what temperature it should be served.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture: Luke 12:19-20; 18:24-30; 19:1-10

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Three characters appear in the Scripture passages assigned for this lesson, and they all illustrate the matter of values. Two of them failed because they lavished their trust and affection on the things they possessed; the other found happiness, salvation, and the deepest satisfaction by renouncing everything to become the friend and disciple of Christ.

The first of these men was the successful farmer, whose crops so overflowed his barns that he was planning to pull them down and build greater structures. There was no harm in that.

But, apparently, he was going to keep all these things for himself; and there was harm in that. He had no intention of being "rich toward God," or of serving his fellow men.

That was his moral mistake. But he made a great economic blunder as well. Successful though he was, he left out of his calculation the most important thing of all—his own life.

The farmer wasn't necessarily a bad man, or damned, except for his self-centeredness. He was an economic fool, and therefore a spiritual fool, in not realizing how little his possessions were worth in view of the uncertainty of his life.

The second man was the rich young ruler, the young man whom Jesus loved, who had kept the commandments from his youth. He was troubled about the question of eternal life, and Jesus invited him to leave all and follow Him.

But the young man went away sorrowful, thinking more of his great possessions. He, too, was astray in his sense of values. He has gone down in history as the unknown young man who missed the greatest and most glorious thing that could have happened to him.

He, too, turned to his worldly possessions, and who knows but what he, like the farmer, had little time to enjoy them? For he, too, was subject to death.

From these we turn to a third man, also presumably rich. He was a publican, or tax-gatherer. He paid for the privilege of collecting the taxes in a country dominated by Rome, and he had the chance of grabbing a great deal for himself by extortion.

Had he taken what belonged to others? Or, finding himself in an office that offered many grafting opportunities and temptations, had he been scrupulously honest?

We do not know. But we do know that Zacchaeus longed to see Jesus, when He came to Jericho, and that, being small of stature, he climbed a tree to make sure he'd get a good view. And we know that Jesus became his Guest, and that Zacchaeus said that if he had wronged any man he would restore him fourfold.

Zacchaeus had found salvation and a right sense of values. Death could not take away what he had discovered.

News BEHIND THE NEWS By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate
Reproduction in whole or in part

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The 33 congressmen on the published Hillman P. A. C. blacklist took it with a smile, some with gratitude. No one got much excited except Mr. Hillman. He denied it.

The blacklist was given out at Mr. Hillman's union convention in the great Spa, Atlantic City, with comments by Hyman Blumberg, a Hillman vice-president and incidentally secretary of the American labor party in which the Communists participate in New York. That was on a Thursday. On Sunday Mr. Hillman himself denied the list, saying it represented the views of some people only, and the real list (according to his associate Harold Ickes in a three-way new political setup) would be made by action of local bodies. The soot-thumbing thus is to be done quietly hereafter.

Such tactics have generally proved to be mistakes in the past, but in this case the proof came faster and more completely than usual. If a man has established a public record so strongly against you that you put him on a blacklist, your act generally dramatizes his stand and arouses latent popular sympathy for him. The 33 names published from the Hillman Convention are by no means all those legislators who have opposed PAC. Practically the whole CIO-PAC legislative program has been voted down by a majority of Congress. I have not been able to find a clear issue of C. I. O. strength in Congress on a question where A. F. of L. was on the other side, but congressional authorities estimate the most optimistic C. I. O. possibility of votes in both Houses as less than a third. So PAC is really against about two-thirds of Congress, or roughly 350 legislators.

The soot-roll did not contain the names of those who would be the softest touches for PAC. Indeed, the attack will be most helpful to the two most prominent names on the list, Virginia's Senator Byrd and Tennessee's McKellar. The C. I. O. vote in Virginia may be something more than the Chinese vote there, but not much. It is larger in Tennessee, but the men of Boss Ed Crump do the counting there, which is said to be a distinct advantage to men like Senator McKellar who are so close to Mr. Crump as to be indistinguishable from him.

In this case, A. F. of L.'s Green, Meany and others, at a simultaneous convention in the famous land of the sky, Asheville, linked the C. I. O. leaders to the Communist party, asserted A. F. of L. had no purge list and warned the voters, especially in the south, against the Hillman-Blumberg crowd. This was clearly a sufficient political offset to the PAC threats to diminish congressional fretting.

Indeed, Congress continues persistently to make its own record, although its majority is clearly frustrated. Both Houses are frankly against the British loan and want bases or some remuneration, but realize any change in the inadequate deal made by the state department would destroy the whole deal, and they do not wish to go that far. More important than the loan is the cancellation of $20,000,000,000 to $25,000,000,000 of lend lease granted Britain, effected by executive order in connection with the loan, but not mentioned either in the bill or the report of the committee. This sum, five or six times greater than the amount of the loan is not only forgiven in violation of the purpose to "lend" and "lease," but is already forgotten. What the administration wants, however, is expected to squeeze through.

The pending Case bill in the Senate is likely to run into a quiet labor filibuster which may prevent its enactment. Both OPA and draft extension expire June 30 and action must be completed on both by then, so the time for the Case bill before midsummer is definitely limited, and by then, the popular cry for some restraint on strikes may have ebbed again. This is what the unions are playing for, in hopes of avoiding action before the congressmen recess to go home and campaign. To help the filibuster, PAC may put forward the poll tax issue and fair employment practices as delaying amendments. The Senate, however, will restore strength to the legislation, if permitted and completely revise the weak and inadequate measure reported by its labor committee.

Congress is frustrated against its desires also on OPA and draft extension, a majority being clearly opposed to both, yet unwilling to kill them suddenly, and confused as to how to limit them intelligently. OPA continuance will eventually pass with restrictive amendments, but I am doubtful about the draft. The legislators simply do not wish to face the mothers in a campaign year.

This is about all the leaders wish to place on the calendar before quitting for the campaigns, in which a majority of the Democrats will run on their own program in contradistinction to Mr. Truman's, while the Republicans run in opposition to both the Truman and the congressional programs.

New York Day By Day

NEW YORK—Mrs. A. P. Hammond, Roanoke, Va., asks the name of a good dog book. There are many. Our favorites is "How to Raise a Dog," by James R. Kinney, published in 1938 by Simon and Schuster. . . . Dwight S. Davis, Leominster, Mass. (principal of high school) is a sufferer from arthritis, and, like all of us, has tried practically everything but an electric belt. When I was a boy an enormous business was done in electric belts, which took considerable advertising space in newspapers and magazines. Many of our hired men fore them, believing that they imparted strength and virility.

Mrs. Hookenrod had charge of a women's club luncheon at Templeton, Mass., according to a clipping sent me by a resident. Bet her husband is a fisherman. . . . Mrs. Johnny Griffin, Bessmay, Tex., likes especially family references and talks with interesting people, in this column. Thank you. . . . R. L. Griffin, Jacksonville, Fla., says he and brother Shriners appreciate my remarks about the order and its work for crippled children, especially as it comes from "one who has never walked the hot sands." Well, if the sands of the Shrine are my hotter than the sands I walked barefooted in my Kansas boyhood, you'll need new feet.

Miss Catherine Drum, Mankato, proofreader, calls me to time for using a reference to eating a dish of furze. That was thought (by me) to be funny, Miss Drum. . . . Mrs. Rivers Peterson, Indianapolis, is a mushroom addict, as is her husband. He picked 75 wild ones one recent morning, and the good butcher consented to sell a half pound of butter. Soak in salt water, drain, flour, and fry, says this good cook. . . . Jo King, Washington, Pa., is pleased with a theatrical rumor that Ray Bolger stands to make a fortune out of his present Broadway show.

Lake City, Fla., is the capital of long life, according to Mrs. May Perkins, of that place. Floyd Harper, oldest citizen, was born in 1836, and came to Lake City 101 years ago. My father was born in 1836, died at 84. . . . Teresa Case Detweller, of Phoenix, Ariz., has a card with her name written on it in fancy Spencerian (shaded), by the late Professor Spence, whom I've mentioned. He was a fancy penman, and lacked both hands. . . . A gentleman whose signature I make out as Prigmore, initials indeciperable, of Granby, Mo., says he once lived in Galveston, at Q and 1/2 streets.

Five Worthiest Projects

Five of the principal aims of the Louisiana Legislative Council for 1946 are to be explained to the people of Monroe at a mass meeting to be held in room 202 of the Ouachita parish courthouse tomorrow evening, starting at 8 o'clock. It is to be hoped that the public interest and support that the proposed measures deserve will cause a capacity attendance. Never were five more worthy projects advocated for Louisiana.

The five points to be discussed at the meeting are:

Changing of the office of superintendent of public instruction from an elective to appointive basis, the selection of the holder to be made by the state board of education.

Provision for the care of chronically ill and homeless aged persons.

Hospitalization of the mentally ill and deficient.

Equipment and maintenance for the already authorized tuberculosis hospitals and provisions for matching federal funds to obtain better facilities for the treatment and care of tuberculosis patients.

Improvement of state institutions wherein juvenile offenders are confined.

Each of the projects is to be explained at the mass meeting by the speaker best qualified to talk on that particular subject. Chosen unanimously by the sponsoring committee to discuss the appointive superintendent proposal was Donald M. Ewing, associate editor of the Shreveport Times. That was largely because of the forthright manner in which he handled the same subject in an address before the recent state convention of the Parent-Teacher Association at Shreveport.

"The superintendent of public instruction in Louisiana is now nominated in a back room in New Orleans or Shreveport," said Dr. Young, head of the legislative council, recently. "Then he is elected in a slush-slinging campaign to head the institutions that educate the young people of this state."

The problem of the chronically ill, which will be put before the mass meeting by Dr. A. D. Tisdale of Monroe, is held by all medical men and welfare workers to be critical. These "permanent" invalids are clogging the hospitals and keeping out the acutely ill, say the heads of those institutions.

Equally serious is the problem of the mentally ill, which is to be the topic of A. N. McGuire, director of public welfare in Ouachita parish. The state needs a third mental hospital and vast improvements for the other two. Pineville is reported as housing 25 per cent more patients than it was designed to accommodate and Jackson is 65 per cent overcrowded. The statement has been made that "You have to go raving mad to get in."

The situation of the tubercular, called "catastrophic" in Louisiana, has been assigned to Dr. C. R. Gowen of Shreveport. One hospital, at Greenwell Springs, now serves the state, and it is run at about one-third its capacity, because of lack of funds, doctors and nurses.

Recommendations for legislation to improve conditions for confined juveniles will be presented by Mrs. G. W. Pomeroy of Alexandria. A subcommittee of the legislative council recently reported the Louisiana Training Institute for Boys in Monroe was in "good condition" but that recommendations made by investigators for Governor Davis for improvements at the girls' home at Pineville had not been carried out.

The mass meeting was arranged by a committee composed of representatives of the various local civic groups that are affiliated with the state legislative council, with Mrs. Elmer Slagle of the American Association of University Women serving as general chairman. They are to be congratulated for the splendid program and their selection of able speakers.

MONROE STREETS ARE SAFER

There has been but one fatality and only 35 persons hurt in traffic accidents within the city of Monroe during the first five months of 1946. In the 12 months of last year three were killed and 108 were injured. Thus the figures for this year show a decided improvement, which can be attributed to the unrelenting safety campaign carried on by the police department.

Chief of Police J. D. Busby, however, gives much of the credit to the public itself—to drivers for better observance of the traffic laws and to pedestrians for heeding safety rules in crossing streets.

The one traffic fatality of 1946 occurred on March 9 and was due entirely to carelessness on the part of the victim, a colored woman, who was struck down and killed when she walked directly into the path of an auto.

As often as possible, Chief Busby repeats his set warning to children: "Always look both ways before starting to cross a street, and, after getting off a bus, always stand on the sidewalk until the vehicle has moved on; never pass in front or behind it in attempting a crossing."

It is most gratifying to note that youngsters generally are following this precautionary rule.

Another satisfactory result of the police campaign is a steady reduction in complaints against speeders. Monroe's limit is 25 miles an hour for cars and 15 miles an hour for trucks on all city streets.

While on the subject of traffic, the chief revealed Saturday that his department is engaged at present in a little anti-noise crusade with officers instructed to arrest persons operating cars, trucks and motorcycles without adequate mufflers.

Income taxes will not be reduced this year, it seems, because Europe needs the money.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 18.—Kay Aldridge, actress-wife of oil millionaire Arthur Cameron, expects their second baby in September. . . . Several top film personalities are being quizzed about alleged purchases of jewels smuggled in from the Orient. . . . Actor Dick Addison and Helen Pender are headed for the divorce mills. She's the MGM actress, an ex-model. . . . Joan Crawford, one star smart enough to prefer good roles to top billing, is trying to re-arrange her work schedule in order to play a secondary part in "Arch of Triumph." . . . It's a seven-pound baby boy for the Curt Masseys.

Jimmy Cagney's salary for "13 Rue de Madeleine" will set a new Hollywood high. . . . June 1 is the wedding date for Kim Kimberly, vocalist on Hoagy Carmichael's air show, and Marine Maj. James E. Johnson. . . . Blue-pencil that report, published elsewhere, that Kay Kyser is again ailing. . . . Hmmm! Margaret O'Brien's mama, content hitherto with a small bungalow, is dickering for one of Beverly Hill's ritziest mansions. . . . The Legion of Decency has rated Monogram's "Suspense" as "objectionable in part," charging that certain dance sequences are suggestive.

Mrs. Ben Blue's obstetrician has advised her to buy two of everything. . . . Actress Myrna Dell is confined to a dark room because of an eye affliction. . . . Anita Page, silent screen star, has gone to Honolulu with her three-year-old son to join her husband, a naval officer. . . . Jack Haley will produce a series of movie shorts featuring old-time vaudeville favorites in acts they made famous.

Preview Nights: Pic of the week: Paramount's "The Searching Wind" (Robert Young-Sylvia Sidney-Ann Richards). Adult drama that will blow up a storm of applause. . . . Recommended: MGM's "Courage Of Lassie" (Elizabeth Taylor-Frank Morgan-Tom Drake). A must-see offering for lovers of the outdoors. . . . RKO's "Without Reservations" (Claudette Colbert-John Wayne-Don DeFore). Smart farce comedy that will leave you with a pleasant laughter-math. . . . Good: Paramount's "Swamp Fire" (Johnny Weissmuller-Virginia Grey-Buster Crabbe). Has enough thrills to offset an anemic plot. . . . 20th Century-Fox's "Strange Triangle" (Signe Hasse-Preston Foster). One more case in Hollywood's current crime wave. . . . Low Bridge: Republic's "The Undercover Woman" (Stephanie Bachelor-Robert Livingston). Too bad they unwrapped her. . . . Best Performance: Robert Young in "The Searching Wind."

After a conversation with Producer Seymour Nebenzal, I'm cancelling any doubts I may have entertained about the matrimonial bliss of Margo and Eddie Albert. A few days ago, Nebenzal phoned Margo and offered her the top role in "The Chase"—a part that any dramatic actress would give an eye tooth to play. Margo unhesitatingly declined "Eddie and I," she said, "have planned a trip to Mexico City and we can't postpone it because of his future screen commitments. I wouldn't think of disappointing him." When a Hollywood wife displays sentiments of that kind, it is safe to buy "Happy Anniversary" cards far in advance.

While I'm passing out bouquets, I want to toss one to Red Skelton, who took time out the other day to make an unpaid appearance in the Hollywood High School auditorium, where he did a 30-minute show for the student body. Ostensibly, his act was pure comedy; actually it was something more, for he managed to inject, between the lines, an effective appeal for the kids' active participation in the fight against juvenile delinquency. The factor that makes me willing to double the number of posies in Skelton's bouquet is the fact that his contribution to good citizenship was unpublicized. I discovered it only because I overheard a conversation between two high school girls.

RKO bosses are ecstatic about the beauty and ability of a new-comer named Virginia Huston, who, after a year of careful coaching, is now making her bid for stardom. But if they want her to reach the ladder's top, the studio representatives should cease describing her as "the girl who looks like Joan Fontaine." Miss Huston does bear a startling resemblance to Joan, but studio spokesmen should soft-pedal, instead of advertising that fact. It's been proven again and again that girls who look like established stars labor under a heavy handicap in their bids for audience favor.

A publicity dispatch from Paramount advises me that a dog named Buttons, currently working in "The Emperor Waltz," has been taught by its owner to chew gum. I sincerely hope that Buttons' master, having gone that far, will go a bit farther and teach his pooch not to park the gum under theater seats.

BY HENRY McLEMORE

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—"Singing up for the ol' rocking chair."

"We're proud of you, General . . . Mud . . . Leyte."

"What wine goes with turnip greens? Georgia. . . ."

These were a few of the scribbled notes I came across today when I was cleaning out my desk, a beautiful roll-top affair which I was lucky enough to pick up at an auction years ago for less than half again what is was worth.

"Signing up for the ol' rocking chair." Now what was I thinking about when I wrote that down? Let's see. Oh, yes, I remember. It was to remind me of a story told to me by Perrin Shoemaker, a coach at the University of Chattanooga. Perrin, home only a few months after fighting through Europe with the 36th division, had just returned from a football talent search when I saw him.

"I had had my eyes on a certain high school tackle before I went in the army," Shoemaker said, "and as soon as I started coaching again, I made a bee-line for the little mountain town in which he lives. The tackle, as big as an oak tree and just as tough, had also gone in the army. When I got to his little town I went to the general store and asked where I could find him. The proprietor said I'd find him up at the school house 'signing up for the ol' rocking chair.' 'Doing what?' I asked. The mountaineer said, 'Dang it, I said he was up at the school house signing up for the ol' rocking chair. There's a passel of boys up there with him, too, doing the same thing.'"

So, Perrin said, he made his way to the school house and found his big football player standing in a sizable line that wound into the school house. Perrin spoke to him and asked him what he was doing.

"We're all signing up for the ol' rocking chair," the ex-GI said. "That's what us folks around here call it when you put your name down for that 20 bucks a week Uncle Sam pays soldiers without jobs. Get it, and r'ar back and rock. If you haven't signed up you must be crazy."

The next note, about the general, the mud, and Leyte, kindled a spark in my mind right away. It has to do with General MacArthur, and I'll always remember it when I hear his critics say he is a man with no feeling for the GI. It happened in Tacloban, Leyte, not long after that Philippine town had been secured and MacArthur had established his headquarters in a big house near the center of town. The mud was three feet deep and the rain was falling in sheets. Two GIs, much the worse for the stuff the natives were peddling as wine, were staggering past the general's house. Dirty, unshaven, half out of uniform they passed his gate just as he came out, stars, gold braid and all. They managed to recognize him, and came to a wobbly attention. They threw two of the worst salutes in military history and one of them said, "General, we're proud of you."

Five-star MacArthur returned the salutes with a magnificent one, right out of the manual, looked the GIs in the eyes, and said, "And I'm proud of you men, too," and passed on.

"What wine goes with turnip greens? Georgia."

That note goes back half a dozen years or more. I was driving through a forsaken reach of Georgia and came to a wide place in the road and saw a hay and grain store, a postoffice and a grocery store. And, over the hay and grain store was a brand new, big, shiny sign that read: "Finest wines and liqueurs."

I wondered then, and I wonder now, what is the best wine to serve with turnip greens and sow belly, and at what temperature it should be served.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Three characters appear in the Scripture passages assigned for this lesson, and they all illustrate the matter of values. Two of them failed because they lavished their trust and affection on the things they possessed; the other found happiness, salvation, and the deepest satisfaction by renouncing everything to become the friend and disciple of Christ.

The first of these men was the successful farmer, whose crops so overflowed his barns that he was planning to pull them down and build greater structures. There was no harm in that.

But, apparently, he was going to keep all these things for himself; and there was harm in that. He had no intention of being "rich toward God," or of serving his fellow men.

That was his moral mistake. But he made a great economic blunder as well. Successful though he was, he left out of his calculation the most important thing of all—his own life.

The farmer wasn't necessarily a bad man, or damned, except for his self-centeredness. He was an economic fool, and therefore a spiritual fool, in not realizing how little his possessions were worth in view of the uncertainty of his life.

The second man was the rich young ruler, the young man whom Jesus loved, who had kept the commandments from his youth. He was troubled about the question of eternal life, and Jesus invited him to leave all and follow Him.

But the young man went away sorrowful, thinking more of his great possessions. He, too, was astray in his sense of values. He has gone down in history as the unknown young man who missed the greatest and most glorious thing that could have happened to him.

He, too, turned to his worldly possessions, and who knows but what he, like the farmer, had little time to enjoy them? For he, too, was subject to death.

From these we turn to a third man, also presumably rich. He was a publican, or tax-gatherer. He paid for the privilege of collecting the taxes in a country dominated by Rome, and he had the chance of grabbing a great deal for himself by extortion.

Had he taken what belonged to others? Or, finding himself in an office that offered many grafting opportunities and temptations, had he been scrupulously honest?

We do not know. But we do know that Zacchaeus longed to see Jesus, when He came to Jericho, and that, being small of stature, he climbed a tree to make sure he'd get a good view. And we know that Jesus became his Guest, and that Zacchaeus said that if he had wronged any man he would restore him fourfold.

Zacchaeus had found salvation and a right sense of values. Death could not take away what he had discovered.

News BEHIND THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate
Reproduction in whole or in part
strictly prohibited.)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The 33 congressmen on the published Hillman P. A. C. blacklist took it with a smile, some with gratitude. No one got much excited except Mr. Hillman. He denied it.

The blacklist was given out at Mr. Hillman's union convention in the great Spa, Atlantic City, with comments by Hyman Blumberg, a Hillman vice-president and incidentally secretary of the American labor party in which the Communists participate in New York. That was on a Thursday. On Sunday Mr. Hillman himself denied the list, saying it represented the views of some people only, and the real list (according to his associate Harold Ickes in a three-way new political setup) would be made by action of local bodies. The soot-thumbing thus is to be done quietly hereafter.

Such tactics have generally proved to be mistakes in the past, but in this case the proof came faster and more completely than usual. If a man has established a public record so strongly against you that you put him on a blacklist, your act generally dramatizes his stand and arouses latent popular sympathy for him. The 33 names published from the Hillman Convention are by no means all those legislators who have opposed PAC. Practically the whole CIO-PAC legislative program has been voted down by a majority of Congress. I have not been able to find a clear issue of C. I. O. strength in Congress on a question where A. F. of L. was on the other side, but congressional authorities estimate the most optimistic C. I. O. possibility of votes in both Houses as less than a third. So PAC is really against about two-thirds of Congress, or roughly 350 legislators.

The soot-roll did not contain the names of those who would be the softest touches for PAC. Indeed, the attack will be most helpful to the two most prominent names on the list, Virginia's Senator Byrd and Tennessee's McKellar. The C. I. O. vote in Virginia may be something more than the Chinese vote there, but not much. It is larger in Tennessee, but the men of Boss Ed Crump do the counting there, which is said to be a distinct advantage to men like Senator McKellar who are so close to Mr. Crump as to be indistinguishable from him.

In this case, A. F. of L.'s Green, Meany and others, at a simultaneous convention in the famous land of the sky, Asheville, linked the C. I. O. leaders to the Communist party, asserted A. F. of L. had no purge list and warned the voters, especially in the south, against the Hillman-Blumberg crowd. This was clearly a sufficient political offset to the PAC threats to diminish congressional fretting.

Indeed, Congress continues persistently to make its own record, although its majority is clearly frustrated. Both Houses are frankly against the British loan and want bases or some remuneration, but realize any change in the inadequate deal made by the state department would destroy the whole deal, and they do not wish to go that far. More important than the loan is the cancellation of $20,000,000,000 to $25,000,000,000 of lend lease granted Britain, effected by executive order in connection with the loan, but not mentioned either in the bill or the report of the committee. This sum, five or six times greater than the amount of the loan is not only forgiven in violation of the purpose to "lend" and "lease," but is already forgotten. What the administration wants, however, is expected to squeeze through.

The pending Case bill in the Senate is likely to run into a quiet labor filibuster which may prevent its enactment. Both OPA and draft extension expire June 30 and action must be completed on both by then, so the time for the Case bill before midsummer is definitely limited, and by then, the popular cry for some restraint on strikes may have ebbed again. This is what the unions are playing for, in hopes of avoiding action before the congressmen recess to go home and campaign. To help the filibuster, PAC may put forward the poll tax issue and fair employment practices as delaying amendments. The Senate, however, will restore strength to the legislation, if permitted and completely revise the weak and inadequate measure reported by its labor committee.

Congress is frustrated against its desires also on OPA and draft extension, a majority being clearly opposed to both, yet unwilling to kill them suddenly, and confused as to how to limit them intelligently. OPA continuance will eventually pass with restrictive amendments, but I am doubtful about the draft. The legislators simply do not wish to face the mothers in a campaign year.

This is about all the leaders wish to place on the calendar before quitting for the campaigns, in which a majority of the Democrats will run on their own program in contradistinction to Mr. Truman's, while the Republicans run in opposition to both the Truman and the congressional programs.

New York Day By Day
By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL
Title Reg. U. S. Patent Office

NEW YORK—Mrs. A. P. Hammond, Roanoke, Va., asks the name of a good dog book. There are many. Our favorites is "How to Raise a Dog," by James R. Kinney, published in 1938 by Simon and Schuster. . . . Dwight S. Davis, Leominster, Mass. (principal of high school) is a sufferer from arthritis, and, like all of us, has tried practically everything but an electric belt. When I was a boy an enormous business was done in electric belts, which took considerable advertising space in newspapers and magazines. Many of our hired men fore them, believing that they imparted strength and virility.

Mrs. Hookenrod had charge of a women's club luncheon at Templeton, Mass., according to a clipping sent me by a resident. Bet her husband is a fisherman. . . . Mrs. Johnny Griffin, Bessmay, Tex., likes especially family references and talks with interesting people, in this column. Thank you. . . . R. L. Griffin, Jacksonville, Fla., says he and brother Shriners appreciate my remarks about the order and its work for crippled children, especially as it comes from "one who has never walked the hot sands." Well, if the sands of the Shrine are any hotter than the sands I walked barefooted in my Kansas boyhood, you'll need new feet.

Miss Catherine Drum, Mankato, proofreader, calls me to time for using a reference to eating a dish of furze. That was thought (by me) to be funny, Miss Drum. . . . Mrs. Rivers Peterson, Indianapolis, is a mushroom addict, as is her husband. He picked 75 wild ones one recent morning, and the good butcher consented to sell a half pound of butter. Soak in salt water, drain, flour, and fry, says this good cook. . . . Jo King, Washington, Pa., is pleased with a theatrical rumor that Ray Bolger stands to make a fortune out of his present Broadway show.

Lake City, Fla., is the capital of long life, according to Mrs. May Perkins, of that place. Floyd Harper, oldest citizen, was born in 1836, and came to Lake City 101 years ago. My father was born in 1836, died at 84. . . . Teresa Case Detweller, of Phoenix, Ariz., has a card with her name written on it in fancy Spencerian (shaded), by the late Professor Spence, whom I've mentioned. He was a fancy penman, and lacked both hands. . . . A gentleman whose signature I make out as Prigmore, initials indeciperable, of Granby, Mo., says he once lived in Galveston, at Q and 1/2 streets.

BISHOP SMITH IN FINAL TALK

Noted Theologian Lauds Gratitude As Christian Virtue

Completing a series of five-day services at the First Methodist Church, Bishop A. Frank Smith, Houston, Tex., rated as one of the country's outstanding theologians, delivered his final message to a large throng Friday night. Many denominations were represented in the audience as has been the case all through the week.

He complimented First Church and declared that he hoped to see it become one of the greatest of churches, one with a vision that would send mission workers all over the world. With such vision he said the present edifice was built ahead of its times and he predicted that another handsome building will be erected that again will be able to provide for church needs for years ahead. He complimented the pastor for his wise and aggressive leadership and the fine membership of the church.

"I would talk to you tonight about a cardinal Christian virtue, that of gratitude. There is nothing more unlovely than selfishness," he said, "and nothing that moves the heart more than a kind word. In the third chapter of Colossians we find tonight's text. Gratitude is a cardinal grace. What is gratitude? It is two fold. It is appreciation for that which one has received and carries an obligation to do something in return. Every gift brings obligation and gratitude implies appreciation and recognition of the obligation with willingness to shoulder that responsibility. The most favored must be the servant of all, bearing the load for the less privileged.

"Paul said, 'I have the gift of love of God in my heart which is most precious and since I have it I am obligated to devote my life. I am debtor to every man who has not the grace of God.' This is the true missionary urge to help the less fortunate brother, to share what has been given you. If you find people more privileged than you it is hard to find one who owes more to the world. Even as you are fortunate in this lovely community, so is your obligation greater, for from whom much is given, much shall be required.

"For what should we be grateful and correspondingly obligated? We should be grateful that we are citizens of this great country where life is finer, nobler and fuller than anywhere else on the globe. How grateful we should be for this great privilege. To us there is no credit that we chanced to be born here. A blessed Providence placed us here. There are hundreds of millions born under adversity in lands torn by hatred and tyranny. They never had a chance, where twice in a single generation the countries have been bathed in their own blood. You and I are more fortunate. Why were they fated? Only Eternity can give the answer, but I am sure God expects more of us than of them.

"We should be grateful this day that we are alive when things are happening. Humanity is all changed. Our institutions and the direction of Humanity are changing. We thrill to live in such days, are conscious that the world is stirred. We have a chance to re-mould the social economic and spiritual order of things. Unless we do so it may set back the human race 100, 500 or even 1,000 years. For the first time we have opportunity to abolish war. We must abolish it or it will abolish us. They meet as representing their nations and cannot agree, but they will meet again. It was so with the founding of this nation. It took a long time to adopt a constitution. The world must get together or there will be no world left. We shall break up into small war-like groups or we shall live together as one large civilized Christian family with war discarded.

"What when we shall stand in the presence of the Great Judge and he shall ask: 'Did you know the world was on fire and you did nothing? Did you know that millions were starving and you did not try to feed them? Did you know that many were eager to receive leadership and you failed them?' And he shall say, 'Depart from me for I know you not.'

"We should be grateful for the sunshine and shadows that come our way. This morning rain poured forth but soon the crystal sun came forth. Out of shadows have come forth spiritual things. Godliness with content is great gain.

"We do not appreciate the blessings of life until we lose them. If a doctor would tell you tomorrow you will be stone blind, you would pray Oh God, do not let this come upon me. Make me well and I will never complain. Should just 24 hours of eyesight be left to you I believe that you would eagerly gaze into faces and souls. You would go out and see the sun and the earth and the lovely flowers, the towering mountains, the restless sea, you would stand under the stars and feel the glory of God. When darkness came again there'd be heart sorrow. You would pledge to live on bread and water if only you could continue to see! Why wait to the end and have nothing to show for your life? I am grateful that the Lord Jesus laid his hand on me. Bless the Lord oh my soul, bless His holy name.

"At the close of the First World War, I had occasion frequently to visit Fort Sam Houston, which is the largest military headquarters in the United States. In a hospital there I visited, from time to time, was a soldier whose body was frightfully crippled on the field of battle in France. But he ever had a winning smile and an eye that always lighted up. He knew he would never leave the place alive but he was completely resigned to his fate. I asked him one day how he could be so cheerful knowing what was just ahead for him. He replied that he entered the war believing it was his duty and that a better world would result and if so it was his responsibility if need be to give his life in sacrifice. His buddy, with the same opinion, went forth and never returned from battle. Now, said this gallant soldier, he was waiting and still ready and willing to give his all, his life, for the cause of his country and for humanity. He died soon after and I told his life-time experience at his funeral.

"More than 1900 years ago, the Man of Calvary gave His life on the Cross for sinful man. It was a willing sacrifice to atone for the sins of the world. Can we do any less than in complete gratitude for this Supreme Sacrifice give our hearts and dedicate our lives to Him who gave his all for us?"

NEED TO CORRECT VETS' ADDRESSES

A veteran who is getting a pension or any other recurring award from the Veterans Administration should report changes in his address to the contact office of the Veterans Administration located on the 2nd floor of the City hall, Monroe.

He should not report new addresses to the Treasury Department.

This suggestion was made by Frank Martinez, Jr., regional manager of the VA in New Orleans in a message to all contact offices in Louisiana.

"Since VA checks are mailed out in Treasury Department enevelopes veterans naturally get the idea that they should tell the treasury people when they get a new address," Mr. Martinez said.

"The result is that the treasury offices in New Orleans get about 50 letters a day from veterans who want their checks sent to new addresses."

"These letters are bundled up and sent to us at the regional offices, which takes time and may delay the veteran's next check."

"So," he concluded, "the veteran can save himself—as well as us and the Treasury Department—some trouble and delay by going to the VA in the first place.

HOW 8 WOMEN ARE MAKING MONROE MORE BEAUTIFUL

City Planning Board Files Report On Its Activities This Spring

What eight prominent women have accomplished this spring in their effort to make Monroe a more pleasant place in which to live by turning unsightly areas into beauty spots and by further embellishment of city parks with flower, shrub and tree plantings, was revealed yesterday in a report received by C. R. Tidwell, commissioner of streets and parks, creator of their organization, the Monroe Planning and Beautification Board.

The eight members are Mrs. J. R. Wooten, chairman; Mrs. A. G. McHenry, secretary, and Mrs. James A. Noe, Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. C. S. Swain, Mrs. A. R. Butler, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell and Miss Emma Louise Biedenharn. Each belongs to one of the three Monroe garden clubs.

Their report, based or the secretary's record of a meeting at the home of the chairman, is reproduced in full as the best way of telling what they have done so far this year. It follows:

"Mrs. Black told of work done in Park View Addition and Bernstein Park. She said 175 crepe myrtle plants were put out on Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia Streets. Twenty-five more cherry laurels were planted on Alabama Street, making another block and a half. Ditches along the street were back-sloped to provide drainage for the plants and to facilitate the mowing of the grass.

"In Bernstein Park two more beds of crepe myrtle were planted and about fifty more bridal wreath and some flowering quince were added. Low red cannas were put out around the fence at the zoo. At the entrance to the park from Standifer Street, dwarf red cannas are on either side of the drive for about three hundred feet. The beds in Bernstein Park have been built up with fertilizer, leaves and sawdust.

"Mrs. Black stated that, since she had moved to the northern part of Monroe, she felt that her place on the board should be occupied by some person living in the area in which she had previously lived. She had explained this to Mr. Tidwell. Mrs. Wooten stated that Mrs. Black had been a very valuable member of our board and it would not be easy to fill her vacancy.

"Miss Biedenharn made her report. She said that she and Mrs. McHenry asked Mrs. John Breard from the Monroe Garden Club to go to Forsythe Park with them one morning where Mr. Joe Ellis met them. They marked overgrown shrubbery to be pruned and saw many instances where acorns had grown into fairly good size trees that were crowding out nice blooming shrubs. These were marked for removal at such time when men were available and other work would permit. Plans were made to replace red bud trees so that the original red bud drives in the park would appear to good advantage.

"Another trip was made to Forsythe Park, stated Miss Biedenharn, when 40 more crepe myrtle plants were put out.

"Miss Biedenharn said another long bed of day lilies had been planted in Forsythe Park, making three in all. These plants, like those in the other two beds had been donated to the city. It has been planned to carry the day lily beds on down to Riverside and in future years it is hoped that this park will be as interesting as Audubon and City parks in New Orleans, where hundreds of people go to see the gorgeous sight of yellow lilies in mass plantings.

"Miss Biedenharn said also she and Mrs. McHenry made a trip to Mr. Roach's nursery and that of Carey Holmes, accompanied by Mr. Ellis and Mr. Simmons for the purpose of selecting plants for beautification work. These plants had been put out at the Health Center, on Layton Avenue Boulevard, the street leading to the Missouri Pacific Depot and one other street in that neighborhood that had a neutral ground.

"Mrs. McHenry reported that a resident of Park Avenue approved of some pruning that Mr. Ellis had done, which eliminated a traffic hazard at the corner of Park Avenue and Forsythe Park. This resident said that she wished the city would put lights in Forsythe Park and make pathways so that people could take walks in the park at night. Mrs. McHenry told her that she would pass this suggestion on and perhaps some day those things could be done when underground light wires could be placed in the place mentioned and attractive light posts used.

"Mrs. Swain reported on her interview with officials of the Missouri Pacific Railroad in connection with beautification work near the depot. She seemed to think that we might be able to work out a plan. The Missouri Pacific has a club, composed of wives of the 'Booster' organization and they, no doubt, would like to cooperate with our board.

"Mrs. Noe said she would talk with J. F. Hardin of the I. C. Railroad to see what steps his railroad could take towards making the depot area more attractive. She also reported on the planting of oak trees in Sherrouse Addition, oak trees planted on Pargoud Boulevard. She said that the little park in the vicinity of Pargoud came in for consideration when things were done last fall and this spring. Mrs. J. Q. Graves, who had done work with this park several years ago, had her wish when magnolia trees were planted there this spring and general clean-up work done.

"Mrs. Noe stated that the pine trees that were planted on Marie Place were living and the place has been put in good condition. Forsythia was also planted, since it will be several years before our pine trees will really show up like we plan to have them.

"Mrs. Wooten and Mrs. Tidwell have supervised the removal of plants from the Jackson Street neutral ground. These plants were placed in the southern part of the city where it seemed they could be used to advantage. The azaleas and some of the other plants were used to beautify St. John Drive. Shrubs that were not used at this time were placed in Bernstein Park in a section where they would be undisturbed. They would be used for fall planting projects.

"Azaleas were purchased for the fire station grounds at the intersection of Jackson Street and Lee Avenue. The firemen were given instructions in the care of these flowers and liked them so much that they were going to spend some of their own money to buy more. Mrs. Wooten said that the owner of the filling station in front of this fire station promised them that he was going to fix his place up and keep it looking neater. They planned to help him with some beautification work.

"The members of the board present thanked Mrs. Wooten for her interest in the park directly behind the fire station, located between Jackson and Lee Avenue. Due to her efforts and the cooperation of Mr. Tidwell an interesting beauty spot can be created there with very little trouble."

LIVE IN GARDEN IS AN ESSENTIAL

Hambone once said, "If you're goin to live out of a garden, you're mighty nigh got to live in it."

Mrs. Mildred G. Swift from the agricultural extension department says: "Here are the jobs for now if you expect that garden to give you that 'good living' you want.

"1. Keep planting! As fast as one crop ceases bearing, clear the ground and plant something else.

"2. Plants need fertilizer to make them grow. If plenty of well-rotted barnyard manure is available, use that. Supplement with commercial fertilizer such as 4-12-4 or 5-10-5.

"3. Control insects. Cryolite will kill most chewing insects, and rotenone will get the plant lice and some of the chewing insects as well.

"4. Practice frequent shallow cultivation.

SODALITY HAS ITS ELECTION

Gladden Norris Is Prefect; Others Named To Offices

Following a nomination of officers, Wednesday, May 8, the Sodality held its elections for 1946-47 officers at 2:30 p.m. The following officers were chosen, all from the Junior class: Prefect, Gladden Norris; vice-prefect, Althea Burkett; secretary, Miss Terry Lynn de Jaive; and treasurer, Miss Cecile Danna. After the election the four major officers had a council meeting, with the director of the Sodality, Rev. H. W. Hubley, and selected the following committee chairmen to assist them for the coming year: Miss Janet Voorhees, publicity chairman; Miss Helen Wilds, social life chairman; Miss Ellen Browne, our lady's chairman; Miss Anna Tornatore, birthday committee; Miss Monita Ann Ritter, Eucharistic chairman; Miss Patricia Shaughnessy, press chairman; Miss Vasilou Slavent, apostolic chairman, and Stanley Hodges, chairman Catholic Truth.

The above officers have given repeated evidence during the past year of possessing executive ability, and the organization needs an efficient corps of officers this year to plan and carry out the diocesean sodality convention which will be held in Monroe during February.

A number of the officers have already expressed their determination of attending the S. S. C. A. in either New Orleans or San Antonio in order to make their group the most capable committee in the sodality. The birthday committee secured the coveted top honors in 1945-46.

The Rev. H. W. Hubley will solemnly install the members of the executive council in impressive ceremonies in St. Matthew's Church at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 22. The outgoing officers will deliver the symbols of their work to the incoming officers. After the installation Father Hubley will deliver a sermon and give Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Following the installation there will be a tea at the home of Mrs. George Romana, 312 Speed Drive, from 4-6 p.m. and a dance from 8-11 p.m.

HILARIOUS 'HAT AUCTION' MAY 27

Service Club Members To Be 'Models' At Big Free Show Here

One of the merriest evenings ever offered the Monroe public—and it's free too—is promised by the Delta Rho Delta, an organization of business and professional women, in the "Hat Auction" it will sponsor on Hotel Frances roof on Monday evening of next week, May 27.

The club recently accepted the nation-wide offer by Tom Breneman, interlocutor of Breakfast in Hollywood, and Hedda Hopper to supply organizations with women's hats to be disposed of to raise funds for the Braille Institute of America's work in education of blind war veterans.

Of the 25 hats that were promptly sent to the club, 20 are to be sold at auction at the May 27 gathering here and five will be awarded as prizes.

Cooperating with the Delta Rho Delta are the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Monroe and West Monroe and each group has selected three of its members to serve as "models" in displaying the hats at the auction. Ron Campbell will act as auctioneer and Otto Passman will be master of ceremonies. A suitable prize will be awarded to the "best model."

Thirty-five per cent of the proceeds of the Monroe auction will go to the Lighthouse for the Blind at New Orleans, where 90 G. I.'s, who lost their sight in the war, now are under instruction. One of the blind veterans will be brought here for the occasion by A. L. Fortier, Lighthouse superintendent, who will tell of the rehabilitation work being done there.

The program will be broadcast by station KMLB, Monroe outlet for the National Broadcasting Company, through which Breneman and Miss Hopper are conducting the nation-wide funds raising campaign.

COLLEGE PLACE IS TO HAVE REVIVAL

Evangelist Wade House, of Tennessee, will begin an evangelistic campaign with the College Place Baptist Church on Sunday, May 26. These services will be conducted in the new educational building at 301 Sherrouse Avenue.

Wade House is well known in many states, having conducted revival campaigns in many large cities of the east and north. He has had some 25 years' experience in evangelistic work. HOW 8 WOMEN ARE MAKING MONROE MORE BEAUTIFUL

City Planning Board Files Report On Its Activities This Spring

What eight prominent women have accomplished this spring in their effort to make Monroe a more pleasant place in which to live by turning unsightly areas into beauty spots and by further embellishment of city parks with flower, shrub and tree plantings, was revealed yesterday in a report received by C. R. Tidwell, commissioner of streets and parks, creator of their organization, the Monroe Planning and Beautification Board.

The eight members are Mrs. J. R. Wooten, chairman; Mrs. A. G. McHenry, secretary, and Mrs. James A. Noe, Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. C. S. Swain, Mrs. A. R. Butler, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell and Miss Emma Louise Biedenharn. Each belongs to one of the three Monroe garden clubs.

Their report, based or the secretary's record of a meeting at the home of the chairman, is reproduced in full as the best way of telling what they have done so far this year. It follows:

"Mrs. Black told of work done in Park View Addition and Bernstein Park. She said 175 crepe myrtle plants were put out on Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia Streets. Twenty-five more cherry laurels were planted on Alabama Street, making another block and a half. Ditches along the street were back-sloped to provide drainage for the plants and to facilitate the mowing of the grass.

"In Bernstein Park two more beds of crepe myrtle were planted and about fifty more bridal wreath and some flowering quince were added. Low red cannas were put out around the fence at the zoo. At the entrance to the park from Standifer Street, dwarf red cannas are on either side of the drive for about three hundred feet. The beds in Bernstein Park have been built up with fertilizer, leaves and sawdust.

"Mrs. Black stated that, since she had moved to the northern part of Monroe, she felt that her place on the board should be occupied by some person living in the area in which she had previously lived. She had explained this to Mr. Tidwell. Mrs. Wooten stated that Mrs. Black had been a very valuable member of our board and it would not be easy to fill her vacancy.

"Miss Biedenharn made her report. She said that she and Mrs. McHenry asked Mrs. John Breard from the Monroe Garden Club to go to Forsythe Park with them one morning where Mr. Joe Ellis met them. They marked overgrown shrubbery to be pruned and saw many instances where acorns had grown into fairly good size trees that were crowding out nice blooming shrubs. These were marked for removal at such time when men were available and other work would permit. Plans were made to replace red bud trees so that the original red bud drives in the park would appear to good advantage.

"Another trip was made to Forsythe Park, stated Miss Biedenharn, when 40 more crepe myrtle plants were put out.

"Miss Biedenharn said another long bed of day lilies had been planted in Forsythe Park, making three in all. These plants, like those in the other two beds had been donated to the city. It has been planned to carry the day lily beds on down to Riverside and in future years it is hoped that this park will be as interesting as Audubon and City parks in New Orleans, where hundreds of people go to see the gorgeous sight of yellow lilies in mass plantings.

"Miss Biedenharn said also she and Mrs. McHenry made a trip to Mr. Roach's nursery and that of Carey Holmes, accompanied by Mr. Ellis and Mr. Simmons for the purpose of selecting plants for beautification work. These plants had been put out at the Health Center, on Layton Avenue Boulevard, the street leading to the Missouri Pacific Depot and one other street in that neighborhood that had a neutral ground.

"Mrs. McHenry reported that a resident of Park Avenue approved of some pruning that Mr. Ellis had done, which eliminated a traffic hazard at the corner of Park Avenue and Forsythe Park. This resident said that she wished the city would put lights in Forsythe Park and make pathways so that people could take walks in the park at night. Mrs. McHenry told her that she would pass this suggestion on and perhaps some day those things could be done when underground light wires could be placed in the place mentioned and attractive light posts used.

"Mrs. Swain reported on her interview with officials of the Missouri Pacific Railroad in connection with beautification work near the depot. She seemed to think that we might be able to work out a plan. The Missouri Pacific has a club, composed of wives of the 'Booster' organization and they, no doubt, would like to cooperate with our board.

"Mrs. Noe said she would talk with J. F. Hardin of the I. C. Railroad to see what steps his railroad could take towards making the depot area more attractive. She also reported on the planting of oak trees in Sherrouse Addition, oak trees planted on Pargoud Boulevard. She said that the little park in the vicinity of Pargoud came in for consideration when things were done last fall and this spring. Mrs. J. Q. Graves, who had done work with this park several years ago, had her wish when magnolia trees were planted there this spring and general clean-up work done.

"Mrs. Noe stated that the pine trees that were planted on Marie Place were living and the place has been put in good condition. Forsythia was also planted, since it will be several years before our pine trees will really show up like we plan to have them.

"Mrs. Wooten and Mrs. Tidwell have supervised the removal of plants from the Jackson Street neutral ground. These plants were placed in the southern part of the city where it seemed they could be used to advantage. The azaleas and some of the other plants were used to beautify St. John Drive. Shrubs that were not used at this time were placed in Bernstein Park in a section where they would be undisturbed. They would be used for fall planting projects.

"Azaleas were purchased for the fire station grounds at the intersection of Jackson Street and Lee Avenue. The firemen were given instructions in the care of these flowers and liked them so much that they were going to spend some of their own money to buy more. Mrs. Wooten said that the owner of the filling station in front of this fire station promised them that he was going to fix his place up and keep it looking neater. They planned to help him with some beautification work.

"The members of the board present thanked Mrs. Wooten for her interest in the park directly behind the fire station, located between Jackson and Lee Avenue. Due to her efforts and the cooperation of Mr. Tidwell an interesting beauty spot can be created there with very little trouble."

LIVE IN GARDEN IS AN ESSENTIAL

Hambone once said, "If you're goin' to live out of a garden, you're mighty nigh got to live in it."

Mrs. Mildred G. Swift from the agricultural extension department says: "Here are the jobs for now if you expect that garden to give you that 'good living' you want.

"1. Keep planting! As fast as one crop ceases bearing, clear the ground and plant something else.

"2. Plants need fertilizer to make them grow. If plenty of well-rotted barnyard manure is available, use that. Supplement with commercial fertilizer such as 4-12-4 or 5-10-5.

"3. Control insects. Cryolite will kill most chewing insects, and rotenone will get the plant lice and some of the chewing insects as well.

"4. Practice frequent shallow cultivation.

Gladden Norris Is Prefect; Others Named To Offices

Following a nomination of officers, Wednesday, May 8, the Sodality held its elections for 1946-47 officers at 2:30 p.m. The following officers were chosen, all from the Junior class: Prefect, Gladden Norris; vice-prefect, Althea Burkett; secretary, Miss Terry Lynn de Jaive; and treasurer, Miss Cecile Danna. After the election the four major officers had a council meeting, with the director of the Sodality, Rev. H. W. Hubley, and selected the following committee chairmen to assist them for the coming year: Miss Janet Voorhees, publicity chairman; Miss Helen Wilds, social life chairman; Miss Ellen Browne, our lady's chairman; Miss Anna Tornatore, birthday committee; Miss Monita Ann Ritter, Eucharistic chairman; Miss Patricia Shaughnessy, press chairman; Miss Vasilou Slavent, apostolic chairman, and Stanley Hodges, chairman Catholic Truth.

The above officers have given repeated evidence during the past year of possessing executive ability, and the organization needs an efficient corps of officers this year to plan and carry out the diocescan sodality convention which will be held in Monroe during February.

A number of the officers have already expressed their determination of attending the S. S. C. A. in either New Orleans or San Antonio in order to make their group the most capable committee in the sodality. The birthday committee secured the coveted top honors in 1945-46.

The Rev. H. W. Hubley will solemnly install the members of the executive council in impressive ceremonies in St. Matthew's Church at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 22. The outgoing officers will deliver the symbols of their work to the incoming officers. After the installation Father Hubley will deliver a sermon and give Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Following the installation there will be a tea at the home of Mrs. George Romana, 312 Speed Drive, from 4-6 p.m. and a dance from 8-11 p.m.

HILARIOUS 'HAT AUCTION' MAY 27

Service Club Members To Be 'Models' At Big Free Show Here

One of the merriest evenings ever offered the Monroe public—and it's free too—is promised by the Delta Rho Delta, an organization of business and professional women, in the "Hat Auction" it will sponsor on Hotel Frances roof on Monday evening of next week, May 27.

The club recently accepted the nation-wide offer by Tom Breneman, interlocutor of Breakfast in Hollywood, and Hedda Hopper to supply organizations with women's hats to be disposed of to raise funds for the Braille Institute of America's work in education of blind war veterans.

Of the 25 hats that were promptly sent to the club, 26 are to be sold at auction at the May 27 gathering here and five will be awarded as prizes.

Cooperating with the Delta Rho Delta are the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Monroe and West Monroe and each group has selected three of its members to serve as "models" in displaying the hats at the auction. Ron Campbell will act as auctioneer and Otto Passman will be master of ceremonies. A suitable prize will be awarded to the "best model."

Thirty-five per cent of the proceeds of the Monroe auction will go to the Lighthouse for the Blind at New Orleans, where 90 G. I.'s, who lost their sight in the war, now are under instruction. One of the blind veterans will be brought here for the occasion by A. L. Fortier, Lighthouse superintendent, who will tell of the rehabilitation work being done there.

The program will be broadcast by station KMLB, Monroe outlet for the National Broadcasting Company, through which Breneman and Miss Hopper are conducting the nation-wide funds raising campaign.

DEL COURTNEY BIG ATTRACTION

Will Appear With 15-Man Orchestra At College Here May 24

Del Courtney, who comes to the Northeast College with his popular fifteen-man orchestra on Friday, May 24, under auspices of the Student Council, has a habit of stretching short engagements into long ones. His band's first job, at the Athens Club in Oakland, Calif., when they were fresh from the University of California campus, was for a few weeks but they stretched it into a year.

The Mark Hopkins Hotel, Benny Rubin's and Bal Tabarin in San Francisco followed, then the Trianon and Club Victor, Seattle, Jansen Beach, Portland, and Lake Tahoe. The Winter Garden, Reno and famed Saltair, in Salt Lake City, definitely established the band as a west coast favorite. If further proof was needed, it was furnished when the Alexander Young Hotel in Honolulu sent for the orchestra for a six-week engagement, and the Courtney men stayed six months.

They had to leave in order to fill a contract wtih the Hitz hotels. On their way to New York, they played at the Nicollet in Minneapolis; Book-Cadillac, Detroit; Netherland-Plaza, Cincinnati; Chase, St. Louise, and Adolphus, Dallas.

Then followed six months at the Kenmore in Albany, N. Y., and then en entire season at Park Avenue's Ambassador hotel in New York City.

This past year Del has broken all records at the Blackhawk Restaurant in Chicago.

When his orchestra comes to Northeast Junior College, music lovers throughout this area will have the opportunity to hear a concert at 8 p. m. in Brown Hall auditorium and stay for the dance in the college gmynasium which will last from 9:30 until 12 o'clock.

General admission to the concert will be $1.00 plus tax per person, and for the dance $2.50 plus tax for couple or stag.

NAZIS LOSE MORE TO ALLIES THAN RUSSIA

BERLIN, May 18. — (AP) — Statistics compiled by the armed forces division of the American military government, with the aid of captured German records, showed today that, counting prisoners, German armed forces lost far more men to the western allies during the war than to the Russians.

The figures compiled on the dead and wounded were incomplete, but reckoning the civilian bombing casualties, there was also an indication that the western forces killed more Germans than did the Russians.

According to captured files of the German bureau for notifying next of kin of casualties, the Wehrmacht had 17,000,000 men under arms. Out of this total the American armies alone captured more than 8,000,000.

In addition to this, the British disclosed they had bagged 2,663,000, while the French took another 35,000.

Thus, the western allies captured, or accepted the capture of nearly 60 per cent of the German army.

There is no accurate figure on the number of German soldiers killed. The Wehrmacht's known dead, according to American records, total more than 2,250,000, with another 1,500,000 missing.

WINNERS OF ROBERT EWING SCHOLARSHIPS

MARGUERY LACEY
Winner of the 1946 Robert Ewing L. S. U. Scholarship valued at $1,400.00.

GENE LAFITTE

TWO BYRD

to Simon Nathan Ball of Southeastern High, Hammond, La.

The Ewing scholarships are awarded annually in memory of the late Colonel Robert Ewing, editor and publisher of the New Orleans States at the time of his death in 1931. He was the father of John D. Ewing, editor and publisher of The Shreveport Times, of Wilson Ewing, editor of the Monroe News-Star—World, of James Ewing and Mrs. Esther Ewing Brown of New Orleans, and of the late Toulman Ewing of Monroe. Colonel Ewing was the founder of the Monroe World, publisher of The Shreveport Times, and a lifelong advocate of constitutional government and of a strong public school system as a means of preserving it. He also was the original Louisiana sponsor of free textbooks for public schools.

This year's essay contest subject was: "Andrew Jackson, His Influence in Our Country." The annual contest is open to all boys and girls scholastically in the upper fourth of the junior or senior classes of any accredited high school in Louisiana and counties of Arkansas and Texas designated in contest rules and certified by their principals as worthy in character of a four-year college course free. The second place scholarship must go to a contestant of opposite sex to the first place winner, thus assuring one boy and one girl as the two winners each year.

L. S. U. has announced that past scholarship winners have no grade below C and that as a group they have a B average.

Above average scholastically at Byrd High, the first and second place winners this year are champion debaters and take an active interest in extra-curricular work. Gene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lafitte, 313 Washington Avenue, and Marguery is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lacey, 1039 Blanchard Place.

First place winner in 1944, William Veal, 15-year-old junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Veal, 632 Kirby Place. The second place scholarship in 1944 went to Emogene Pliner then a Byrd senior, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Pliner, 909 Elmwood Street, and now is one of L. S. U.'s all-time star students.

Both scholarship winners in 1944, like the pupils taking the same laurels in 1945 and 1946, were star debaters and outstanding students scholastically as well as in extra-curricula activities.

Gerald Rigby, Byrd junior, was winner of the first scholarship in 1945 and Patsy Sue Bently, a senior, was the second scholarship winner. Both were 16 years old when they won the essay contest. One of the $50 awards in 1945 went to Betty Harrelson, 17, a senior at Byrd High.

This year's winners competed against a large number of entries, including those of students in New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Monroe and other city schools, as well as against entries from many rural schools.

The judges, who are a group of L. S. U. professors, received numbered essays from The Times and did not have the names of students submitting them nor did they even know the names of the schools from which the essays came.

Winners were returned to The Times by numbers, with Dean William O. Scroggs, chairman of the judging committee and dean of the L. S. U. graduate school, simply telegraphing: "Judges award first place to number twelve, second to twenty-four. Three other awards to numbers twenty-two, thirty-five and sixty-five."

In a confirming letter, Dean Scroggs wrote:

"On the whole, the quality of the essays has improved each year, and the judges hope that this trend will continue."

The scholarship essay contest judging committee, in addition to Dean Scroggs, includes Harlan L. McCracken, professor of economics at L. S. U., and Benjamin F. Mitchell, professor of secondary education. Dean Scroggs is nationally known as a writer on political economy. Professor McCracken is a noted authority on problems of education and economics and Professor Mitchell is widely known as an authority on educational administration.

OPPORTUNITY FOR SOCIOLOGY SEEN

ATLANTA, May 18.—(AP)—Sociology faces its greatest opportunity in providing a folk morale to sustain the people in their years of confusion and fear, an eminent sociologist, said here today. Dr. Howard W. Odom, head of the sociology department of the University of North Carolina, told the Southern Sociology society:

"Sociology's task looms large now that it must study the problem of social survival as well as social progress and social welfare."

SOUND PICTURE IS SCRIPTIONAL

'Book For World Of Tomorrow' Will Be In Movies Here

The First Baptist Church of West Monroe is sponsoring the showing of the new sound film "The Book for the World of Tomorrow." Produced by the American Bible Society, it will be shown in the church auditorium on May 22, at 7:45 p.m.

The picture, which represents a new departure in the making of movies with a distinctly religious message, was made possible through the cooperation of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. All people interested are invited to attend. There will be a brief worship service accompanying the presentation.

The film illustrates the important place of the Bible in our land and in many others and how through the devoted labors of many men it came to be the Book for the world of yesterday; how its rapid passage into the tongues of nine-tenths of mankind and its world-wide distribution have made it the Book for the world of today; and how we, whose heritage it is, are challenged to make the Bible the Book for the world of tomorrow.

Among the interesting sequences are the first priting from movable metal type in Europe by Gutenberg; how a translation into a foreign tongue is actually made; and the story of the Vulgate translation by St. Jerome, still an outstanding work of scholarship.

Many fine portions of the picture and some of the musical background were contributed by Warner Brothers, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and the Radio Corporation of America with the consent of the American Federation of Musicians. The Gutenberg press used in the picture is an exact replica of the original in Mainz, Germany, and was loaned by the Cuneo press of Chicago.

There are 17 varieties of pigeons and doves in the United States.

DEL COURTNEY BIG ATTRACTION

Will Appear With 15-Man Orchestra At College Here May 24

Del Courtney, who comes to the Northeast College with his popular fifteen-man orchestra on Friday, May 24, under auspices of the Student Council, has a habit of stretching short engagements into long ones. His band's first job, at the Athens Club in Oakland, Calif., when they were fresh from the University of California campus, was for a few weeks but they stretched it into a year.

The Mark Hopkins Hotel, Benny Rubin's and Bal Tabarin in San Francisco followed, then the Trianon and Club Victor, Seattle, Jansen Beach, Portland, and Lake Tahoe. The Winter Garden, Reno and famed Saltair, in Salt Lake City, definitely established the band as a west coast favorite. If further proof was needed, it was furnished when the Alexander Young Hotel in Honolulu sent for the orchestra for a six-week engagement, and the Courtney men stayed six months.

They had to leave in order to fill a contract wtih the Hitz hotels. On their way to New York, they played at the Nicollet in Minneapolis; Book-Cadillac, Detroit; Netherland-Plaza, Cincinnati; Chase, St. Louise, and Adolphus, Dallas.

Then followed six months at the Kenmore in Albany, N. Y., and then en entire season at Park Avenue's Ambassador hotel in New York City.

This past year Del has broken all records at the Blackhawk Restaurant in Chicago.

When his orchestra comes to Northeast Junior College, music lovers throughout this area will have the opportunity to hear a concert at 8 p. m. in Brown Hall auditorium and stay for the dance in the college gmynasium which will last from 9:30 until 12 o'clock.

General admission to the concert will be $1.00 plus tax per person, and for the dance $2.50 plus tax for couple or stag.

NAZIS LOSE MORE TO ALLIES THAN RUSSIA

BERLIN, May 18.—(AP)—Statistics compiled by the armed forces division of the American military government, with the aid of captured German records, showed today that, counting prisoners, German armed forces lost far more men to the western allies during the war than to the Russians.

The figures compiled on the dead and wounded were incomplete, but reckoning the civilian bombing casualties, there was also an indication that the western forces killed more Germans than did the Russians.

According to captured files of the German bureau for notifying next of kin of casualties, the Wehrmacht had 17,000,000 men under arms. Out of this total the American armies alone captured more than 8,000,000.

In addition to this, the British disclosed they had bagged 2,663,000, while the French took another 35,000.

Thus, the western allies captured, or accepted the capture of nearly 60 per cent of the German army.

There is no accurate figure on the number of German soldiers killed. The Wehrmacht's known dead, according to American records, total more than 2,250,000, with another 1,500,000 missing.

WINNERS OF ROBERT EWING SCHOLARSHIPS

GENE LAFITTE
Winner of the 1946 Robert Ewing L. S. U. Scholarship valued at $2,000.00.

TWO BYRD

to Simon Nathan Ball of Southeastern High, Hammond, La.

The Ewing scholarships are awarded annually in memory of the late Colonel Robert Ewing, editor and publisher of the New Orleans States at the time of his death in 1931. He was the father of John D. Ewing, editor and publisher of The Shreveport Times, of Wilson Ewing, editor of the Monroe News-Star—World, of James Ewing and Mrs. Esther Ewing Brown of New Orleans, and of the late Toulman Ewing of Monroe. Colonel Ewing was the founder of the Monroe World, publisher of The Shreveport Times, and a lifelong advocate of constitutional government and of a strong public school system as a means of preserving it. He also was the original Louisiana sponsor of free textbooks for public schools.

This year's essay contest subject was: "Andrew Jackson, His Influence in Our Country." The annual contest is open to all boys and girls scholastically in the upper fourth of the junior or senior classes of any accredited high school in Louisiana and counties of Arkansas and Texas designated in contest rules and certified by their principals as worthy in character of a four-year college course free. The second place scholarship must go to a contestant of opposite sex to the first place winner, thus assuring one boy and one girl as the two winners each year.

L. S. U. has announced that past scholarship winners have no grade below C and that as a group they have a B average.

Above average scholastically at Byrd High, the first and second place winners this year are champion debaters and take an active interest in extra-curricular work. Gene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lafitte, 313 Washington Avenue, and Marguery is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lacey, 1039 Blanchard Place.

First place winner in 1944, William Veal, 15-year-old junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Veal, 632 Kirby Place. The second place scholarship in 1944 went to Emogene Pliner then a Byrd senior, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Pliner, 909 Elmwood Street, and now is one of L. S. U.'s all-time star students.

Both scholarship winners in 1944, like the pupils taking the same laurels in 1945 and 1946, were star debaters and outstanding students scholastically as well as in extra-curricula activities.

Gerald Rigby, Byrd junior, was winner of the first scholarship in 1945 and Patsy Sue Bently, a senior, was the second scholarship winner. Both were 16 years old when they won the essay contest. One of the $50 awards in 1945 went to Betty Harrelson, 17, a senior at Byrd High.

This year's winners competed against a large number of entries, including those of students in New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Monroe and other city schools, as well as against entries from many rural schools.

The judges, who are a group of L. S. U. professors, received numbered essays from The Times and did not have the names of students submitting them nor did they even know the names of the schools from which the essays came.

Winners were returned to The Times by numbers, with Dean William O. Scroggs, chairman of the judging committee and dean of the L. S. U. graduate school, simply telegraphing: "Judges award first place to number twelve, second to twenty-four. Three other awards to numbers twenty-two, thirty-five and sixty-five."

In a confirming letter, Dean Scroggs wrote:

"On the whole, the quality of the essays has improved each year, and the judges hope that this trend will continue."

The scholarship essay contest judging committee, in addition to Dean Scroggs, includes Harlan L. McCracken, professor of economics at L. S. U., and Benjamin F. Mitchell, professor of secondary education. Dean Scroggs is nationally known as a writer on political economy. Professor McCracken is a noted authority on problems of education and economics and Professor Mitchell is widely known as an authority on educational administration.

OPPORTUNITY FOR SOCIOLOGY SEEN

ATLANTA, May 18.—(AP)—Sociology faces its greatest opportunity in providing a folk morale to sustain the people in their years of confusion and fear, an eminent sociologist, said here today. Dr. Howard W. Odom, head of the sociology department of the University of North Carolina, told the Southern Sociology society:

"Sociology's task looms large now that it must study the problem of social survival as well as social progress and social welfare."

SOUND PICTURE IS SCRIPTIONAL

'Book For World Of Tomorrow' Will Be In Movies Here

The First Baptist Church of West Monroe is sponsoring the showing of the new sound film "The Book for the World of Tomorrow." Produced by the American Bible Society, it will be shown in the church auditorium on May 22, at 7:45 p.m.

The picture, which represents a new departure in the making of movies with a distinctly religious message, was made possible through the cooperation of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. All people interested are invited to attend. There will be a brief worship service accompanying the presentation.

The film illustrates the important place of the Bible in our land and in many others and how through the devoted labors of many men it came to be the Book for the world of yesterday; how its rapid passage into the tongues of nine-tenths of mankind and its world-wide distribution have made it the Book for the world of today; and how we, whose heritage it is, are challenged to make the Bible the Book for the world of tomorrow.

Among the interesting sequences are the first priting from movable metal type in Europe by Gutenberg; how a translation into a foreign tongue is actually made; and the story of the Vulgate translation by St. Jerome, still an outstanding work of scholarship.

Many fine portions of the picture and some of the musical background were contributed by Warner Brothers, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and the Radio Corporation of America with the consent of the American Federation of Musicians. The Gutenberg press used in the picture is an exact replica of the original in Mainz, Germany, and was loaned by the Cuneo press of Chicago.

There are 17 varieties of pigeons and doves in the United States.

SALLEY TO THROW OPEN NEW PRECISION CUT HOUSE HERE

Initial Building Of This Nature To Be Inspected Today

Down in the 3200 block of Gordon Avenue, there will be today something new under the sun. A precision cut house, erected by Contractor W. C. Salley, will be thrown open as an advance move, he states, toward solving the housing problem here, more especially as it concerns homes for World War veterans. From 2 to 5 p. m. this house will be open for inspection and city and parish officials locally and also from all other parishes of the Fifth District are invited as special guests. Also all veterans posts in Monroe, West Monroe and throughout the district are urged to send representatives.

Local officialdom will be headed by Mayor H. H. Benoit and commissioners from the city hall and also Mayor D. C. Golson and aldermen from West Monroe. The Chamber of Commerce will be represented by George D. Holland and a large number of Legionnaires, AMVETS, Veterans of Foreign War members and other groups are planning to accept the invitation to be present.

A most exhaustive examination of this house which is of Cemesto material, an adaptation of Celotex, is welcomed by the builder. It contains three bedrooms, a living room, dining room, kitchen and bath and is in complete readiness to set up housekeeping. In fact this house is already sold to a World War II veteran.

Of neat appearance with attractive exterior set off to advantage by shrubbery already in place, the building gives every evidence of permanency and it is expected will be the forerunner of many more houses of similar construction.

To enable those unable to attend to obtain pleasure and profit, Mr. Salley has arranged with KMLB radio station to have a temporary microphone on the property and to give a detailed report from 2 to 2:30 p.m. The house will be described in detail and other interesting information will be given concerning this new departure in housing for this area.

In order to facilitate the erection of these precision cut houses, the Monroe Lumber and Supply Company, 100 Elysian Fields, Monroe, has been formed with Mr. Salley president and his three sons partners. The sons, all participants in World War II, are: Lieutenant C. C. Salley, still in the Philippines; S/Sgt. W. L. Salley and Pfc. Conrad Salley. This company has the exclusive right to use this new building material in this area, designated as precision-cut Celotex Cemesto. This material can be shipped to any destination in this area and houses can be erected by any contractor desired. It takes approximately three weeks to erect a house complete, Mr. Salley states.

The Monroe Lumber and Supply Company is successor to the company at the same site that, operated by Mr. Salley, constructed a large amount of cargo barges for the war. It required five cars to convey a single barge which was sent to a point in New Jersey and then re-shipped to war zones. All this was a war secret and is now for the first time being reported in a newspaper here. It is known that Mr. Salley's contribution to winning the war was large and Monroe should receive credit for this performance even at this late day.

In a word the technical description of this construction is given as a material of treated Celotex cane fibre insulation board surfaced on both sides with one-eighth inch cement-asbestos board, light gray in color. Cemesto combines the insulating efficiency of Celotex and the special benefits of the cement-asbestos surface, and is said to be proof against damage by dry rot, fungus growth and termite attack. A large number of houses have been constructed of this material in federal housing projects in the east and north. One of these was that at Oak Ridge, Tenn., home of the atomic bomb.

TRIO OF SALLEYS

REPORT FILED BY COL. FRYE

Gas Conservation Head Estimates Office Expense For 2-Year Period

BATON ROUGE, May 18.—(Special)—Col. P. A. Frye, director of natural gas conservation, released his approximate expenditures for the 1944-46 biennium today and estimated outlays for 1946-48.

Of the $100,000 appropriated in January, 1945, a surplus of approximately $30,000 will revert to the general fund. Colonel Frye announced $70,000 has been requested by the office and recommended by the governor for the next two-year period.

Colonel Frye placed salary payments and attorney fees for his office and its predecessor, the Louisiana natural gas conservation committee, at approximately $40,000 for the period between January, 1945, and June 30, 1946. About $3,000 has gone for office expenses with the remainder being expended for printing and traveling expenses.

Annual salaries during the period were: Director, $8,940; attorney, $6,500; attorney's secretary, $1,500; director's secretary, $2,175; engineer-geologist, $4,500, and gas engineer, $3,600.

Colonel Frye released his payroll for 1946-48 as follows: Director, $8,400; Mrs. Phyllis Gardner, director's secretary, $2,400; E. Leland Richardson, attorney, $6,500; Mrs. Rene LeBlanc, attorney's secretary, $1,500, and Paul Montgomery, engineer-geologist, $4,500.

Montgomery, formerly gas engineer, succeeded H. W. Bell on the latter's resignation. At present he is on leave of absence without pay to serve as acting state geologist, temporarily replacing Dr. J. Huner, Jr., who recently resigned. The position of gas engineer has been abolished.

The post of director of natural gas conservation was created by executive order of the governor on August 15, 1945, succeeding and absorbing the functions of the Louisiana natural gas committee, which had been established January 9. The original committee received its $100,000 on the recommendation of the board of liquidation, subsequently approved by a mail poll of the House and Senate.

Colonel Frye and Richardson have served in their posts since creation of the committee. No other attorneys have been retained, Colonel Frye said.

SALLEY TO THROW OPEN NEW PRECISION CUT HOUSE HERE

Initial Building Of This Nature To Be Inspected Today

Down in the 3200 block of Gordon Avenue, there will be today something new under the sun. A precision cut house, erected by Contractor W. C. Salley, will be thrown open as an advance move, he states, toward solving the housing problem here, more especially as it concerns homes for World War veterans. From 2 to 5 p. m. this house will be open for inspection and city and parish officials locally and also from all other parishes of the Fifth District are invited as special guests. Also all veterans posts in Monroe, West Monroe and throughout the district are urged to send representatives.

Local officialdom will be headed by Mayor H. H. Benoit and commissioners from the city hall and also Mayor D. C. Golson and aldermen from West Monroe. The Chamber of Commerce will be represented by George D. Holland and a large number of Legionnaires, AMVETS, Veterans of Foreign War members and other groups are planning to accept the invitation to be present.

A most exhaustive examination of this house which is of Cemesto material, an adaptation of Celotex, is welcomed by the builder. It contains three bedrooms, a living room, dining room, kitchen and bath and is in complete readiness to set up housekeeping. In fact this house is already sold to a World War II veteran.

Of neat appearance with attractive exterior set off to advantage by shrubbery already in place, the building gives every evidence of permanency and it is expected will be the forerunner of many more houses of similar construction.

To enable those unable to attend to obtain pleasure and profit, Mr. Salley has arranged with KMLB radio station to have a temporary microphone on the property and to give a detailed report from 2 to 2:30 p.m. The house will be described in detail and other interesting information will be given concerning this new departure in housing for this area.

In order to facilitate the erection of these precision cut houses, the Monroe Lumber and Supply Company, 100 Elysian Fields, Monroe, has been formed with Mr. Salley president and his three sons partners. The sons, all participants in World War II, are: Lieutenant C. C. Salley, still in the Philippines; S/Sgt. W. L. Salley and Pfc. Conrad Salley. This company has the exclusive right to use this new building material in this area, designated as precision-cut Celotex Cemesto. This material can be shipped to any destination in this area and houses can be erected by any contractor desired. It takes approximately three weeks to erect a house complete, Mr. Salley states.

The Monroe Lumber and Supply Company is successor to the company at the same site that, operated by Mr. Salley, constructed a large amount of cargo barges for the war. It required five cars to convey a single barge which was sent to a point in New Jersey and then re-shipped to war zones. All this was a war secret and is now for the first time being reported in a newspaper here. It is known that Mr. Salley's contribution to winning the war was large and Monroe should receive credit for this performance even at this late day.

In a word the technical description of this construction is given as a material of treated Celotex cane fibre insulation board surfaced on both sides with one-eighth inch cement-asbestos board, light gray in color. Cemesto combines the insulating efficiency of Celotex and the special benefits of the cement-asbestos surface, and is said to be proof against damage by dry rot, fungus growth and termite attack. A large number of houses have been constructed of this material in federal housing projects in the east and north. One of these was that at Oak Ridge, Tenn., home of the atomic bomb.

TRIO OF SALLEYS

REPORT FILED BY COL. FRYE

Gas Conservation Head Estimates Office Expense For 2-Year Period

BATON ROUGE, May 18.—(Special)—Col. P. A. Frye, director of natural gas conservation, released his approximate expenditures for the 1944-46 biennium today and estimated outlays for 1946-48.

Of the $100,000 appropriated in January, 1945, a surplus of approximately $30,000 will revert to the general fund. Colonel Frye announced $70,000 has been requested by the office and recommended by the governor for the next two-year period.

Colonel Frye placed salary payments and attorney fees for his office and its predecessor, the Louisiana natural gas conservation committee, at approximately $40,000 for the period between January, 1945, and June 30, 1946. About $3,000 has gone for office expenses with the remainder being expended for printing and traveling expenses.

Annual salaries during the period were: Director, $8,940; attorney, $6,500; attorney's secretary, $1,500; director's secretary, $2,175; engineer-geologist, $4,500, and gas engineer, $3,600.

Colonel Frye released his payroll for 1946-48 as follows: Director, $8,400; Mrs. Phyllis Gardner, director's secretary, $2,400; E. Leland Richardson, attorney, $6,500; Mrs. Rene LeBlanc, attorney's secretary, $1,500, and Paul Montgomery, engineer-geologist, $4,500.

Montgomery, formerly gas engineer, succeeded H. W. Bell on the latter's resignation. At present he is on leave of absence without pay to serve as acting state geologist, temporarily replacing Dr. J. Huner, Jr., who recently resigned. The position of gas engineer has been abolished.

The post of director of natural gas conservation was created by executive order of the governor on August 15, 1945, succeeding and absorbing the functions of the Louisiana natural gas committee, which had been established January 9. The original committee received its $100,000 on the recommendation of the board of liquidation, subsequently approved by a mail poll of the House and Senate.

Colonel Frye and Richardson have served in their posts since creation of the committee. No other attorneys have been retained, Colonel Frye said.

O. P. H. S. HOLDS ANNUAL PARTY

Banquet At Hotel Virginia Is Largely Attended On Friday

Approximately 250 attended the Ouachita Parish High School Alumni banquet at Hotel Virginia roof, Friday night which proved equal to expectations in the high grade program rendered. J. S. Drew was elected president and Flora Mae Dieterich was elected vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Johnson was named secretary-treasurer.

The principal speaker was Fred Fudickar who told some of his most spectacular experiences in the World War II.

J. M. Beth formally admitted the members of the class of 1946 into the ranks of the alumni and response was by Dorothy Ann Mitchell, president of the 1946 class and valedictorian at the coming commencement.

Bob Stewart and Martha Prentice rendered vocal selections which were well received.

Mrs. A. D. Hunt, president for the past year of the alumni association, presided as toastmaster in which role she accredited herself well.

The decorations in class colors and seasonal flowers were particularly fine and were the work of Mrs. John Lewis of West Monroe.

a request of the union for a pension plan for the employes.

The threat was contained in a statement issued by Bert H. Bowers, president of local division 1208, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, A. F. of L., which for nine days last month had Jackson buses tied up by strike.

He said that on April 26 the union and management of the company agreed to negotiate on a new contract to replace the one which expired Jan. 15. Under the agreement, he said, any differences that could not be settled by negotiation were to be submitted to a three-man arbitration board.

The company, he said, now refuses to submit to arbitration the question of a pension plan.

"We are still making every effort to get the matter settled amicably, but the prospects aren't very encouraging," he said. "Unless this is accomplished we feel that we aren't bound by the stipulation and we will be forced again to use our economic strength in an effort to get justice."

Bowers said there are eight questions in dispute: Inclusion in the contract of an arbitration clause, holiday pay, vacations, wages, sick leave, receipts for money turned in, and a pension plan.

R. J. Courtwright, manager of the company, said he had no comment.

truce beyond next Saturday, the date when he may also give notice terminating the anthracite contract, covering 75,000 Pennsylvania and hard coal miners.

In the absence of these two factors, Lewis apparently must make a prime decision between two courses:

1. To resume the strike for a miners' health and welfare fund and pull another prop from under the reconversion program at a time when Congress is talking about tight labor curbs.

2. To call in his 250-man policy committee, about mid-week and extend the truce or urge his miners to work for the government under federal seizure.

If he gives in to government operation, he probably will wind up with a government-arbitrated contract as he did in 1943 in the strike over underground travel pay. He won then.

The Solid Fuels Administration estimated today that 78,000,000 tons of production were lost during the tie-up.

we focus the concerted interest of the men of our churches."

Earlier the convention adopted a resolution urging member churches to "refrain from association with all groups that exist for the purpose of fomenting strife and division within the nation on the basis of difference of race, religion and culture."

The resolution, which was submitted by Dr. Norman Cox, of Meridian, Miss., and adopted unanimously, asserted that unit of the nation is endangered by such groups and that "the faith we profess . . . expressly forbids hatred one of the other."

Dr. Cox told reporters after the introduction that it "hit at the Ku Klux Klan by inference," but at the same time at all other groups which it covered. The resolution did not mention any specific organization.

Dr. Robert G. Lee, of Memphis, warned the convention that "rationalism and 'undisciplined' liberalism, foes of religious feeling, ar the chief threat to the power of the church."

The morning session was dedicated to the 1,254 Southern Baptist chaplains who served during World War II and particularly honored the 12 who lost their lives in service.

The convention, which attracted more than 8,000 "messengers" as delegates are called, representing 5,800,000 members in 19 states and the District of Columbia, will close tomorrow, with many of the visiting pastors filling Miami pulpits.

TRANSPORTATION FAST APPROACHING NORMAL

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(AP)—Shreveport's transportation difficulties moved back toward normal tonight with the settlement of the Southern Bus Lines three-day strike, and resumption of railroad operations after a four-hour tie-up while official notice of a railway strike postponement was awaited.

Busses to the north, east and south were in operation early this evening, with schedules expected by tomorrow.

Two Kansas City Southern trains delayed nearly four hours for confirmation of the strike postponement, were manned by their crews and began northward journeys this evening.

Two K. C. S. trains were tied up at Shreveport, one at Alexandria and another at Shreveport, to disrupt schedules on the line.

such an abundance of things to buy as America has never known."

This thumbnail outline of the expected price situation in the months to come was given by Bowles:

Food—"If we get good harvests this summer, I think our food supply and therefore food prices—can be kept roughly where they are today. This is, of course, if we get from Congress authority to continue subsidies at least through the critical period."

Clothing—"If we can keep clothing production moving up rapidly during the next six months, I think you'll see a lot more better quality garments in the stores at prices within your reach."

Rents—"I don't see any reasons why rents should go up at all. But let me emphasize that this depends on the kind of price and rent control law Congress passes within the next few weeks."

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—A few special issues continued to make a little headway in today's stock market although many leaders drifted to moderately lower levels in one of the slowest sessions of the past year.

While Wall Streeters were not particularly bearish, boardrooms were notably cautious following seizue by the government of the nation's railroads in an effort to avert a strike called for later in the day.

The ticker tape frequently halted and transfers for the two hours fell to around 400,000 shares. Declines of fractions to a point or so predominated near the close with a wide assortment of pivotals unchanged.

Bonds were narrow and commodities uneven.

New York

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Cotton futures prices moved over a narrow range in quiet dealings today. Values averaged only a few points on either side of the previous day as most traders veered to the sidelines.

Considerable confusion was evidenced over prospects in the railroad strike situation.

Crop and weather data were again favorable and considerable emphasis was placed on private reports indicating a fair increase in acreage as compared with a year ago.

Textile mill buying orders in light volume absorbed week-end profit taking. There was also some indication of southern hedging.

Futures closed 5 to 50 cents a bale higher.

The sub-committee has until May 31 to complete its investigation on Poland's charges that the Franco regime is a threat to world peace. So far it has received documents from Russia, Great Britain, Brazil, Belgium and the Spanish government-in-exile.

Meanwhile, several delegates to the United Nations Security Council said they expected Russia to boycott discussions of the Iranian case which will be resumed next week, probably on Tuesday or Wednesday.

PUBLIC FORUM

DEFENDS VERDICT

To the Editor:

There are too many people in Monroe, including the editorial writer who composed the article in Friday's Monroe News-Star, who are willing to express an opinion about a matter concerning which they know absolutely nothing. In the first place they have formed their vacillatory opinions based on flimsy gossip and short statements published in local papers which latter statements were not even correct.

In addition to this fact they know nothing of the rules of evidence according to which the jury was instructed by the judge to decide the question of guilt or innocence of the defendant. They have taken the position of righteous indignation to the prejudice of the jurors who were sworn to decide the case on the law and the evidence as presented in the courtroom. It is the duty of the jury to consider the evidence and if there is a reasonable doubt existing in their minds based on the evidence introduced in the courtroom to acquit the party being tried. The evidence in this case failed to meet these requirements. Let's look at the evidence that was actually introduced and not at the evidence as introduced by the remarks of newspaper articles.

The Negro, Givens, testified on the witness stand that the defendant shot White from the rear seat of the car, reached over and unlatched the front car door while the car was in motion and pushed the body out and further that the car never stopped moving until it had reached the overpass on highway 80 where Given turned the driving over to the defendant and they proceeded to New Orleans.

The Negro, Givens, also confessed to Sheriff Coverdale when he was first arrested that the body of White was lying on its side with his head in his hat lying on his right arm and his left leg drawn up over his right leg. Dr. French and others testified the body was lying in this position when found.

How could the Negro, Givens, see the body in this position at night in a moving car sitting under the wheel on the left side of the car when the body was thrown from the right side while the car was still traveling and never stopped. The body did not come to rest upon the ground until the car was some distance from it and it was impossible for Givens to see the body from the car.

Therefore, as Givens knew exactly how the body was lying after it fell from the car, he must have been standing over the dead Negro and fired the last shot into his body as he swore he did in his first confession.

There is a maxim in law that once a man makes a statement which is inconsistent with another statement previously made by him that the testimony should be carefully and closely scrutinized because of the fact that if he has told one lie it is more than probable that he will tell another one. It is also the law that the testimony of an accomplice or accessory after the fact should be viewed with caution by the jury because of the paramount reason that the accomplice in more than the majority of the instances is attempting to extricate himself from his admitted position and place the blame on an innocent victim. A lie means absolutely nothing to a man who is facing the electric chair as he has all to gain and nothing to lose.

There is also an erronous conception existing in the minds of most people that simply because a grand jury indicts a man that this man is guilty. We have been told, and we all know, that a man is innocent until he has been convicted by a competent jury before a competent court. Yet, we lapse back into the old theory that if he wasn't guilty he would not be indicted. However, when you have the life of a man in your hands and you are answerable for your actions you then realize what your real duty is and always has been.

Being confronted with the unjust and harsh criticism I have taken the time to read the articles that appeared in the papers during the course of the trial. These articles unfortunately were not true statements of the testimony produced during the trial of this man. A glaring example of a mis-statement in the paper is quoted: "The death gun was found in a ditch on Arkansas avenue." The evidence introduced in the courtroom with reference to this gun was introduced by the defense council and not by the district attorney, the gun being used by the defense for the purpose of demonstrating that the testimony of Givens as to how the deceased was shot could not have possibly been true.

The only evidence with which the jury was confronted when boiled down was the testimony of an admitted liar and a few circumstances which without any corrobration or any testimony to connect the defendant with, had absolutely no weight with the jury.

We, the jury, honestly deliberated the facts such as they were and after due deliberation there was more than a reasonable doubt left in our minds as to whether or not the defendant had committed the crime. In accordance with our sworn duty we were left no alternative other than to acquit and release Mr. Corrent.

BREATHING STOPPED FOR HOURS AT TIME

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(AP)—It is possible to dispense with voluntary breathing "for hours at a time," according to Dr. Alvan L. Barach, of Columbia University.

Describing new details of a previously announced technique for treating tuberculosis, Dr. Barach told the closing session of the 27th meeting of the American College of Physicians yesterday that in the past ten years the treatment has contributed to the recovery of six out of 12 patients with advanced tuberculosis of both lungs.

Dr Barach said the patients were treated in fully enclosed chambers where artificial ventilation of the lungs was substituted for the patient's own breathing. The apparatus is called an "equalizing pressure chamber."

The machine, he told the group, wafts air in and out of the lung by a method of equalizing pressure on both sides of the chest wall as well as the upper and lower surface of the diaphragm. The patient is taught not to breathe and lung action itself ceases.

He said the patient must spend eight to ten hours a day in the device.

In another report to the final session of the conclave, Drs. Jonas E. Salk and Thomas Francis, Jr., reported persons vaccinated against influenza have a nine-to-one chance of escaping the disease.

O. P. H. S. HOLDS ANNUAL PARTY

Banquet At Hotel Virginia Is Largely Attended On Friday

Approximately 250 attended the Ouachita Parish High School Alumni banquet at Hotel Virginia roof, Friday night which proved equal to expectations in the high grade program rendered. J. S. Drew was elected president and Flora Mae Dieterich was elected vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Johnson was named secretary-treasurer.

The principal speaker was Fred Fudickar who told some of his most spectacular experiences in the World War II.

J. M. Beth formally admitted the members of the class of 1946 into the ranks of the alumni and response was by Dorothy Ann Mitchell, president of the 1946 class and valedictorian at the coming commencement.

Bob Stewart and Martha Prentice rendered vocal selections which were well received.

Mrs. A. D. Hunt, president for the past year of the alumni association, presided as toastmaster in which role she accredited herself well.

The decorations in class colors and seasonal flowers were particularly fine and were the work of Mrs. John Lewis of West Monroe.

a request of the union for a pension plan for the employes.

The threat was contained in a statement issued by Bert H. Bowers, president of local division 1208, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, A. F. of L., which for nine days last month had Jackson buses tied up by strike.

He said that on April 26 the union and management of the company agreed to negotiate on a new contract to replace the one which expired Jan. 15. Under the agreement, he said, any differences that could not be settled by negotiation were to be submitted to a three-man arbitration board.

The company, he said, now refuses to submit to arbitration the question of a pension plan.

"We are still making every effort to get the matter settled amicably, but the prospects aren't very encouraging," he said. "Unless this is accomplished we feel that we aren't bound by the stipulation and we will be forced again to use our economic strength in an effort to get justice."

Bowers said there are eight questions in dispute: Inclusion in the contract of an arbitration clause, holiday pay, vacations, wages, sick leave, receipts for money turned in, and a pension plan.

R. J. Courtwright, manager of the company, said he had no comment.

truce beyond next Saturday, the date when he may also give notice terminating the anthracite contract, covering 75,000 Pennsylvania and hard coal miners.

In the absence of these two factors, Lewis apparently must make a prime decision between two courses:

1. To resume the strike for a miners' health and welfare fund and pull another prop from under the reconversion program at a time when Congress is talking about tight labor curbs.

2. To call in his 250-man policy committee, about mid-week and extend the truce or urge his miners to work for the government under federal seizure.

If he gives in to government operation, he probably will wind up with a government-arbitrated contract as he did in 1943 in the strike over underground travel pay. He won then.

The Solid Fuels Administration estimated today that 78,000,000 tons of production were lost during the tie-up.

we focus the concerted interest of the men of our churches."

Earlier the convention adopted a resolution urging member churches to "refrain from association with all groups that exist for the purpose of fomenting strife and division within the nation on the basis of difference of race, religion and culture."

The resolution, which was submitted by Dr. Norman Cox, of Meridian, Miss., and adopted unanimously, asserted that unit of the nation is endangered by such groups and that "the faith we profess . . . expressly forbids hatred one of the other."

Dr. Cox told reporters after the introduction that it "hit at the Ku Klux Klan by inference," but at the same time at all other groups which it covered. The resolution did not mention any specific organization.

Dr. Robert G. Lee, of Memphis, warned the convention that "rationalism and 'undisciplined' liberalism, foes of religious feeling, ar the chief threat to the power of the church."

The morning session was dedicated to the 1,254 Southern Baptist chaplains who served during World War II and particularly honored the 12 who lost their lives in service.

The convention, which attracted more than 8,000 "messengers" as delegates are called, representing 5,800,000 members in 19 states and the District of Columbia, will close tomorrow, with many of the visiting pastors filling Miami pulpits.

TRANSPORTATION FAST APPROACHING NORMAL

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(AP)—Shreveport's transportation difficulties moved back toward normal tonight with the settlement of the Southern Bus Lines three-day strike, and resumption of railroad operations after a four-hour tie-up while official notice of a railway strike postponement was awaited.

Busses to the north, east and south were in operation early this evening, with schedules expected by tomorrow.

Two Kansas City Southern trains delayed nearly four hours for confirmation of the strike postponement, were manned by their crews and began northward journeys this evening.

Two K. C. S. trains were tied up at Shreveport, one at Alexandria and another at Shreveport, to disrupt schedules on the line.

This thumbnail outline of the expected price situation in the months to come was given by Bowles:

Food—"If we get good harvests this summer, I think our food supply and therefore food prices—can be kept roughly where they are today. This is, of course, if we get from Congress authority to continue subsidies at least through the critical period."

Clothing—"If we can keep clothing production moving up rapidly during the next six months, I think you'll see a lot more better quality garments in the stores at prices within your reach."

Rents—"I don't see any reasons why rents should go up at all. But let me emphasize that this depends on the kind of price and rent control law Congress passes within the next few weeks."

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—A few special issues continued to make a little headway in today's stock market although many leaders drifted to moderately lower levels in one of the slowest sessions of the past year.

While Wall Streeters were not particularly bearish, boardrooms were notably cautious following seizue by the government of the nation's railroads in an effort to avert a strike called for later in the day.

The ticker tape frequently halted and transfers for the two hours fell to around 400,000 shares. Declines of fractions to a point or so predominated near the close with a wide assortment of pivotals unchanged.

Bonds were narrow and commodities uneven.

New York

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Cotton futures prices moved over a narrow range in quiet dealings today. Values averaged only a few points on either side of the previous day as most traders veered to the sidelines.

Considerable confusion was evidenced over prospects in the railroad strike situation.

Crop and weather data were again favorable and considerable emphasis was placed on private reports indicating a fair increase in acreage as compared with a year ago.

Textile mill buying orders in light volume absorbed week-end profit taking. There was also some indication of southern hedging.

Futures closed 5 to 50 cents a bale higher.

Meanwhile, several delegates to the United Nations Security Council said they expected Russia to boycott discussions of the Iranian case which will be resumed next week, probably on Tuesday or Wednesday.

DEFENDS VERDICT

To the Editor:

There are too many people in Monroe, including the editorial writer who composed the article in Friday's Monroe News-Star, who are willing to express an opinion about a matter concerning which they know absolutely nothing. In the first place they have formed their vacillatory opinions based on flimsy gossip and short statements published in local papers which latter statements were not even correct.

In addition to this fact they know nothing of the rules of evidence according to which the jury was instructed by the judge to decide the question of guilt or innocence of the defendant. They have taken the position of righteous indignation to the prejudice of the jurors who were sworn to decide the case on the law and the evidence as presented in the courtroom. It is the duty of the jury to consider the evidence and if there is a reasonable doubt existing in their minds based on the evidence introduced in the courtroom to acquit the party being tried. The evidence in this case failed to meet these requirements. Let's look at the evidence that was actually introduced and not at the evidence as introduced by the remarks of newspaper articles.

The Negro, Givens, testified on the witness stand that the defendant shot White from the rear seat of the car, reached over and unlatched the front car door while the car was in motion and pushed the body out and further that the car never stopped moving until it had reached the overpass on highway 80 where Givens turned the driving over to the defendant and they proceeded to New Orleans.

The Negro, Givens, also confessed to Sheriff Coverdale when he was first arrested that the body of White was lying on its side with his head in his hat lying on his right arm and his left leg drawn up over his right leg. Dr. French and others testified the body was lying in this position when found.

How could the Negro, Givens, see the body in this position at night in a moving car sitting under the wheel on the left side of the car when the body was thrown from the right side while the car was still traveling and never stopped. The body did not come to rest upon the ground until the car was some distance from it and it was impossible for Givens to see the body from the car.

Therefore, as Givens knew exactly how the body was lying after it fell from the car, he must have been standing over the dead Negro and fired the last shot into his body as he swore he did in his first confession.

There is a maxim in law that once a man makes a statement which is inconsistent with another statement previously made by him that the testimony should be carefully and closely scrutinized because of the fact that if he has told one lie it is more than probable that he will tell another one. It is also the law that the testimony of an accomplice or accessory after the fact should be viewed with caution by the jury because of the paramount reason that the accomplice in more than the majority of the instances is attempting to extricate himself from his admitted position and place the blame on an innocent victim. A lie means absolutely nothing to a man who is facing the electric chair as he has all to gain and nothing to lose.

There is also an erronous conception existing in the minds of most people that simply because a grand jury indicts a man that this man is guilty. We have been told, and we all know, that a man is innocent until he has been convicted by a competent jury before a competent court. Yet, we lapse back into the old theory that if he wasn't guilty he would not be indicted. However, when you have the life of a man in your hands and you are answerable for your actions you then realize what your real duty is and always has been.

Being confronted with the unjust and harsh criticism I have taken the time to read the articles that appeared in the papers during the course of the trial. These articles unfortunately were not true statements of the testimony produced during the trial of this man. A glaring example of a mis-statement in the paper is quoted: "The death gun was found in a ditch on Arkansas avenue." The evidence introduced in the courtroom with reference to this gun was introduced by the defense council and not by the district attorney, the gun being used by the defense for the purpose of demonstrating that the testimony of Givens as to how the deceased was shot could not have possibly been true.

The only evidence with which the jury was confronted when boiled down was the testimony of an admitted liar and a few circumstances which without any corrobration or any testimony to connect the defendant with, had absolutely no weight with the jury.

We, the jury, honestly deliberated the facts such as they were and after due deliberation there was more than a reasonable doubt left in our minds as to whether or not the defendant had committed the crime. In accordance with our sworn duty we were left no alternative other than to acquit and release Mr. Corrent.

BREATHING STOPPED FOR HOURS AT TIME

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(AP)—It is possible to dispense with voluntary breathing "for hours at a time," according to Dr. Alvan L. Barach, of Columbia University.

Describing new details of a previously announced technique for treating tuberculosis, Dr. Barach told the closing session of the 27th meeting of the American College of Physicians yesterday that in the past ten years the treatment has contributed to the recovery of six out of 12 patients with advanced tuberculosis of both lungs.

Dr Barach said the patients were treated in fully enclosed chambers where artificial ventilation of the lungs was substituted for the patient's own breathing. The apparatus is called an "equalizing pressure chamber."

The machine, he told the group, wafts air in and out of the lung by a method of equalizing pressure on both sides of the chest wall as well as the upper and lower surface of the diaphragm. The patient is taught not to breathe and lung action itself ceases.

He said the patient must spend eight to ten hours a day in the device.

FUND REQUESTS THREATEN TO UPSET DAVIS' BUDGET

BATON ROUGE, La., May 18.—(Special)—Gov. Jimmie Davis' executive budget, already teetering on a precarious balance through the use of surplus funds, will be bounced completely out of line by the impact of additional appropriation requests for almost eight million dollars, should they finally be approved by the Louisiana legislature.

These appropriation bills, introduced in the House of representatives during the first week of the session, are exclusive of the $188,000,000 covered in the general appropriations bill number one on the House calendar and recommended by the governor is his budget report. Nor do they take into consideration the cost of a proposed $100-300 bonus bill for veterans of the Second World War estimated at $80,000,000 and the $12,000,000 to be south for the public schools.

Caddo representatives are seeking $1,182,500 in special measures, although one requested appropriation—that of $470,000 for seven juvenile detention homes in each of the seven proposed juvenile probate districts—would be state-wide in application.

Additionally they are seeking $850,000 for the construction of a livestock judges' building and youth activities center on the State Fair Ground in a bill offered by Turner Morgan of Shreveport and Julian K. Smith of Vivian and $62,500 for voting machines in Caddo, a measure sponsored by Morgan and Wellborn Jack of Shreveport.

The $850,000 appropriation finishes a remote second to the total requests for institutions already $6,034,000 with additional maintenance and improvement requests expected.

Largest single institutional request, as well as the largest single appropriations measure, is a bill introduced by Representatives Percy Roberts of East Baton Rouge and Woodrow W. Overton of East Felician which would allocate $1,100,000 to East Louisiana State Hospital at Jackson for new construction and improvements, $1,000,000 for Central Louisiana State Hospital at Pineville for the same purposes and $750,000 to the State Coloney and Training School also at Pineville. Roberts, chairman of the House committee on institutions, is seeking additional funds for other state institutions. As co-author with Rep. Bonnie V. Baker of East Baton Rouge he has introduced a bill calling for $750,000 for the School for the Deaf, $150,000 for the School of the Blind, and $125,000 for the Greenwell Springs Tuberculosis Hospital.

Also sought is $200,000 for an Industrial School for the Colored by Carl B. Close, C. H. Downs and John R. Hunter, Jr., of Rapides parish. A total appropriation of $1,239,000 for establishment of hospitals for the chronically ill designed to relieve present hospitals of patients in that category has been requested by K. E. McDonald of Morehouse and Joseph F. Blasi, Jr., and Kenneth Barranger of the Seventh and 16th wards of Orleans.

A final $250,000 appropriation asked for the Hot Wells Hospital by Rapides representatives brings the institutional requests to the $6,034,000 total.

North Louisiana requests includes a bill to establish a North Louisiana hill farm experimental station for $220,375 and provides an additional $75,000 for two years' maintenance and operating costs by W. M. Rainach, Claiborne parish, a $50,000 request for a board of trade relations by Henry C. Sevier of Madison and a $7,000 appropriation to pay a judgment against the highway department by C. W. Thompson of Webster.

Other requests include:

A bill appropriating $315,000 to pay expenses of the legislature.

A bill to pay the court reporter in the 11th judicial district $3,000 annually.

A bill to appropriate $219,810 for state parks support by Fred J. Heintz of St. Tammany.

A bill for $90,000 to establish seedling farms by Stuart S. Kay of Beauregard.

STATE SENATOR TALKS TO P.-T.A.

M'Cormick Says Extra Sales Tax Passage Is Highly Doubtful

Members of the P.-T. A. of Barkdull Faulk School, parents of pupils at attendance there, and others were present in the school auditorium, Friday night to hear a discussion of legislative matters as they concern the public schools and particularly as to teachers' increased salaries.

The speaker was State Senator James F. McCormick who discussed the proposed one-cent sales tax to afford added pay for school teachers. He said that he was fearful that this will not be passed and that other plans for the raising of teachers' salaries are in doubt.

He said he made this statement based on what information he had received the past week in Baton Rouge when he has discussed informally the proposed one-cent sales tax with members of the house and senate.

One of the chief drawbacks toward the passage of this remedial legislation lies, he said, in the fact that the public has not been informed sufficiently as to conditions. He urged that the interested public contact their senators and representatives personally and urge action.

In an open discussion, some of the shortcomings of present plans for new legislation were considered.

CITY TEACHERS HAVE ELECTION

Mrs. W. S. Vincent Named President; Others To Serve

The Monroe City Teachers' Association meeting in Central Grammar School auditorium Thursday afternoon, elected Mrs. W. S. Vincent, president; Miss Katherine Key, vice-president; and Mrs. Frances Hammond, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers gave an interesting report of her work with Pat Rogers, of the United States Retirement System. The report was approved and Miss Rodgers asked to continue the fine work she has started.

Mrs. Agnes Miller announced that classroom teachers will meet for the first time following the general assembly.

Superintendent E. L. Neville endorsed the classroom teachers group and gave an informative and interesting talk concerning the schools and their fine work.

Reports of the last meeting were read and adopted and a social hour enjoyed. At this time, cold drinks, delicious sandwiches and cakes were passed out by pupils of Central Grammar School who comprised Barbara and Nelwyn Rogers, Willie Mae Flanagan, Alice May Tarpley, Dorothy Flanagan and Patricia Patterson.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss May Coker. Miss Mabel Lippmin served as treasurer the past year.

Mrs. Howard Willard was temporary chairman of the meeting.

FUND REQUESTS THREATEN TO UPSET DAVIS' BUDGET

BATON ROUGE, La., May 18.—(Special)—Gov. Jimmie Davis' executive budget, already teetering on a precarious balance through the use of surplus funds, will be bounced completely out of line by the impact of additional appropriation requests for almost eight million dollars, should they finally be approved by the Louisiana legislature.

These appropriation bills, introduced in the House of representatives during the first week of the session, are exclusive of the $188,000,000 covered in the general appropriations bill number one on the House calendar and recommended by the governor is his budget report. Nor do they take into consideration the cost of a proposed $100-300 bonus bill for veterans of the Second World War estimated at $80,000,000 and the $12,000,000 to be south for the public schools.

Caddo representatives are seeking $1,182,500 in special measures, although one requested appropriation—that of $470,000 for seven juvenile detention homes in each of the seven proposed juvenile probate districts—would be state-wide in application.

Additionally they are seeking $850,000 for the construction of a livestock judges' building and youth activities center on the State Fair Ground in a bill offered by Turner Morgan of Shreveport and Julian K. Smith of Vivian and $62,500 for voting machines in Caddo, a measure sponsored by Morgan and Wellborn Jack of Shreveport.

The $850,000 appropriation finishes a remote second to the total requests for institutions already $6,034,000 with additional maintenance and improvement requests expected.

Largest single institutional request, as well as the largest single appropriations measure, is a bill introduced by Representatives Percy Roberts of East Baton Rouge and Woodrow W. Overton of East Felician which would allocate $1,100,000 to East Louisiana State Hospital at Jackson for new construction and improvements, $1,000,000 for Central Louisiana State Hospital at Pineville for the same purposes and $750,000 to the State Coloney and Training School also at Pineville. Roberts, chairman of the House committee on institutions, is seeking additional funds for other state institutions. As co-author with Rep. Bonnie V. Baker of East Baton Rouge he has introduced a bill calling for $750,000 for the School for the Deaf, $150,000 for the School of the Blind, and $125,000 for the Greenwell Springs Tuberculosis Hospital.

Also sought is $200,000 for an Industrial School for the Colored by Carl B. Close, C. H. Downs and John R. Hunter, Jr., of Rapides parish. A total appropriation of $1,239,000 for establishment of hospitals for the chronically ill designed to relieve present hospitals of patients in that category has been requested by K. E. McDonald of Morehouse and Joseph F. Blasi, Jr., and Kenneth Barranger of the Seventh and 16th wards of Orleans.

A final $250,000 appropriation asked for the Hot Wells Hospital by Rapides representatives brings the institutional requests to the $6,034,000 total.

North Louisiana requests includes a bill to establish a North Louisiana hill farm experimental station for $220,375 and provides an additional $75,000 for two years' maintenance and operating costs by W. M. Rainach, Claiborne parish, a $50,000 request for a board of trade relations by Henry C. Sevier of Madison and a $7,000 appropriation to pay a judgment against the highway department by C. W. Thompson of Webster.

Other requests include:

A bill appropriating $315,000 to pay expenses of the legislature.

A bill to pay the court reporter in the 11th judicial district $3,000 annually.

A bill to appropriate $219,810 for state parks support by Fred J. Heintz of St. Tammany.

A bill for $90,000 to establish seedling farms by Stuart S. Kay of Beauregard.

STATE SENATOR TALKS TO P.-T.A.

M'Cormick Says Extra Sales Tax Passage Is Highly Doubtful

Members of the P.-T. A. of Barkdull Faulk School, parents of pupils at attendance there, and others were present in the school auditorium, Friday night to hear a discussion of legislative matters as they concern the public schools and particularly as to teachers' increased salaries.

The speaker was State Senator James F. McCormick who discussed the proposed one-cent sales tax to afford added pay for school teachers. He said that he was fearful that this will not be passed and that other plans for the raising of teachers' salaries are in doubt.

He said he made this statement based on what information he had received the past week in Baton Rouge when he has discussed informally the proposed one-cent sales tax with members of the house and senate.

One of the chief drawbacks toward the passage of this remedial legislation lies, he said, in the fact that the public has not been informed sufficiently as to conditions. He urged that the interested public contact their senators and representatives personally and urge action.

In an open discussion, some of the shortcomings of present plans for new legislation were considered.

LEGION BASEBALL NINES PLAY TODAY

Local Club Meets Bastrop Here; Call District Meeting To Map State

The American Legion Junior baseball club of Ouachita parish gets its first test against other legion talent in an exhibition game with the Bastrop American Legion Juniors here this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Neville High School diamond.

Steps will also be taken this week to draw up an official schedule with other legion teams of the northeast Louisiana district so that the play of offical games can get underway soon.

E. B. Todd, member of the local American Legion committee in charge of legion ball affairs, said last night that meeting of representatives of all teams in the district had been called for Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the L. B. Faulk post's home here to map a schedule for play for the season. All posts backing teams over the district are being urged to have representatives on hand for the meeting so that official games can be billed at an early date and thus combat any unusual delay is getting the legion campaign underway. All posts planning to have representatives on hand or who cannot do so are advised to so inform Lawrence Gibbs, member of the local legion committee, at radio station KMLB here.

Coach Pete Medak last night said the local squad was coming along fine despite curtailment of its training schedule the past few days because of inclement weather.

"The fans can come right on out Sunday and see for themselves how good our club really is," Medak declared. "They'll see a hard working bunch of boys who really hustle and I think they'll be satisfied that we have the makings of a good club."

Calhoun High School members of the squad won't be able to be present when the game opens, Medak said. Graduation ceremonies are being held at Calhoun this afternoon, but the boys will come on out after their Calhoun program, and Medak said he expected to send them into the game somewhere around the sixth inning.

FELLER AIMS FOR STRIKEOUT MARK

(By Associated Press)

At the rate Blazing Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians has been setting the American League batters down on strikes this season, the midwestern meteor should better the modern major league record of 343 strikeouts in one season, with plenty to spare.

It was back in 1904 that eccentric Rube Waddell set the standard while pitching for the Philadelphia Athletics and it has defied the mighty arms of Big Ed Walsh, Walter Johnson, Smoky Joe Wood, Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Lefty Grove, Dazzy Vance, Dizzy Dean and other renowned strikeout artists for more than 40 years.

Johnson, who fanned more batters than any other pitcher during his big league career, came closest to the mark when he whiffed 313 in 1910. The highest figure Feller ever reached in his five complete and two part-time seasons was 261 in 43 games in 1938.

The Van Meter, Iowa, speedster fanned 14 Nats Friday in pitching the Indians to a 3-0 victory in the opener of a doubleheader with Washington, to raise his eight-game total to 85 in 71 innings.

With 127 games remaining on the Tribe's schedule, Feller, taking his regular turn every fourth day, should appear in 32 more contests. Should Bob continue at his current gait of 10 1 2 strikeouts per game, he will rack up the amazing total of 431, far exceeding the record. Charles (Hoss) Radbourne holds the all-time mark of 411 established with Providence in 1884.

In registering his fifth triumph and his third via the shutout route, Feller gained an even split for the Indians. The Nats pounded Joe Krakauskas for nine hits to win the second game, halted by darkness at the end of the eighth innings, 9-4.

Louis boxed one round each with Al Hoosman and Perk Daniels and did two each with Jimmy Bell and George Fitch. The final frame with Bell became heated when both forgot instructions and slugged it out.

CONN TAKES SIX-ROUND WARM-UP FOR JOE LOUIS

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., May 18.—(AP)—Billy Conn went six rounds today in preparation for his bout with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis on June 19.

Conn boxed two rounds each with Jimmy Smith, Mickey Belluscio and Frank Pereda, each of whom is well above the 200-pound mark.

The challenger was both fast and sharp.

Williams Knocks Four-Master As Sockers Snap Out Of Hitting Slump

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox pulled out of their batting lethargy in impressive fashion today to wallop the St. Louis Browns 18-8 with heavy hitting that included a four-run homer by Ted Williams.

Ted Williams

Williams had drawn four bases on balls when he came to bat in the fifth with the bases loaded. The Boston star then slugged Ellis Kinder, the Brownies' third pitcher, for the grand slam blow. Glen Russell hit a homer earlier in the same inning, Dom DiMaggio scoring ahead of him.

Mickey Harris, Boston's unbeaten pitcher, registered his seventh win of the season in the contest although he was touched for 12 safeties, including two home runs by Otufielder Chet Laabs.

YANKS BOW TO CHISOX

CHICAGO, May 18.—(AP)—Orval Grove gave a masterful pitching exhibition today when he limited the New York Yankees to three hits in hurling the Chicago White Sox to a 5-1 victory over the Bronx bombers.

A home run by Charlie Keller, his third in as many games, and his seventh of the season, saved the Yanks from a shutout, in the ninth inning. Between the first and the ninth frames, the righthander held the Yanks hitless.

TIGERS 2, ATHLETICS 0

DETROIT, May 18.—(AP)—Capitalizing on Philadelphia's loose defensive play, the Detroit Tigers took advantage of three errors here today to score two unearned runs and beat the Athletics 2 to 0 back of Freddie Hutchinson's four-hit pitching.

(Bobo) Newsom, pitching for the A's with only two days of rest, also scattered for four hits but was charged with Philadelphia's fifth straight setback at the hands of the Tigers.

Hutchinson fanned eight and personally counted the winning run on Heady base-running in the sixth inning.

JUST LIKE THEY SAID

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—The All-Star College baseball game, cooked up by the college coaches and fostered by the Red Sox, may go a long way toward settling one of the season's hottest arguments—who is the best college player. . . . Stirred by stories about the speed and hitting of Army's Glenn Davis, various and sundry fans have come in with "as good or better" plugs for Dale Mitchell of Oklahoma, Charley Trippi of Georgia, Lee Eilbracht of Illinois, Don Robinson of Michigan, Joe Landrum of Clemson and maybe a few others. . . . Mitchell, they say, has everything, including plenty of speed and a cloud of major league scouts around him. Trippi hit .500 for 20 games, knocked nine homers and stole 17 bases. . . . Coach Wallie Roettger calls Catcher Eilbracht, hitting .585 in conference games, "the best major league prospect in the Big Ten." . . . Freshman Landrum pitched a no-hitter in his college debut. . . . What more could you ask.

Look Ahead

The All-Star game in Boston June 14 and a similar North-South tussle on the Pacific Coast are planned to pave the way for a national event, either All-Star or an N. C. A. A. championship tournament like the basketball affair. . . . Wonder why some enterprising school doesn't pave the way by instituting an invitational tourney next year?

Long Range Scouting

When the Villanova ball club visited Penn State, Joe Bedenk, the home coach, asked Phil Weinert if he didn't have a catcher-third baseman named Norm Kline on the club. . . . Phil didn't, but when Kline's home town folks in Lancaster, Pa., put in a few plugs, Weinert looked up the boy. . . . Kline, a former combat pilot, explained he had been too busy with engineering studies to play ball. . . . But he came out and in his first game belted three singles and a triple against Princeton. . . . Now Bedenk is wondering what sort of persuasion Weinert used. His own second-best hurler, Bob Gehrett, is so wrapped up in chemical engineering that he'll take time out to pitch home games but refuses to leave the campus.

Cleaning The Cuff

Word from Manila is that the ability of the Philippine Davis Cup players, after five years of inaction, is "more of a mystery than John Montague ever was." . . . George Corcoran wires the good news that Memorial Day golfers are in for a treat. New postwar golf balls will be on sale in pro shops on the 25th and they'll give 15 to 20 yards more distance than prewar balls. . . . But will they dodge traps? . . . Max Waxman can't figure out why Elmer (Violent) Ray won't take that $25,000 offer to fight Curtis Sheppard in the Baltimore stadium. "Why, we've done better than $100,000 there," says Max, "and for that one we'd sell all the 80,000 seats at three bucks or so apiece." . . . When injured Goodie Rosen made a recent trip to Boston with the Giants, he explained: "I'm still a kid. I couldn't pass up a chance to see a ball game free."

SIMSBORO, La., May 18.—(Special)—The Simsboro Vets will open their Big Six League campaign here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock against the Marion club. Simsboro's 21-man squad is composed almost entirely of veterans of World War II who expect to be a strong contender for the league leadership.

PRIOGUE CLASSIC SLATED FOR TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(AP)—Bronzed paddlers of the bayou country readied their sleek craft and flexed their muscles today in last minute preparation for tomorrow's big classic—the annual pirogue race.

The paddles start churning the waters of Big Bayou Barataria, 25 miles below New Orleans, at 3 p. m. Central Standard Time, if the tide and headwind are favorable for the four-mile upstream course the 1946 champ should be crowned in 30 to 40 minutes.

Attorney Hugh M. Wilkinson, general chairman of the gala event, announced that a score of entries had been received today and that a score more were expected before the qualifying deadline at noon Sunday.

The festivities, marking resumption of the classic after a cessation during the war, were ushered in tonight with a big fireworks display at Kammer's Landing.

The winner in tomorrow's seventh annual race will be awarded the Charles H. Ellis trophy and $200 in money; while cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded for second, third and fourth place, respectively.

While the 1946 race may develop into a pirogue duel between Herbert Crenpel, 24, winner of the last event in 1941, and Adam Billot, 27, several times champion, Wilkinson says there are "a half dozen near champions" who will be making it hot for the former champs.

NORTH LOUISIANA

BASKIN VS. WEST MONROE

BASKIN, La., May 18.—(Special)—"Red" Sims brings his West Monroe outfit to Baskin Sunday for a scheduled North Louisiana League meeting with Manager M. Folds' Baskin diamondeers in the first meeting of the season between the two clubs. The game starts at 3 p. m.

Manager Sims reported from West Monroe that his starting battery today would be Floyd Van, pitcher, and Ed Myles, catcher. The Ouachita Parish boys will be coming here, however, without their star first baseman, Pete Medak. Medak, who is coach of the Monroe American Legion junior team, is sending his boys against Bastrop in an exhibition game at Monroe today and so will miss the game here.

BUCKSHOTS VS. SOX

CLARKS, La., May 18.—(Special)—The Clarks White Sox and the Bastrop Buckshots, considered two of the strongest teams in the North Louisiana League, test their strength against each other here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a league contest at the Louisiana Central Lumber Company's park.

Manager E. M. Steeley's Socker lineup will probably be: E. C. Hinton, pitcher; Delcoure, first base; Steely, second base; Rodgers, third base; Gonzales, shortstop; Sellers, left field; Cobb of Ferguson, catcher; Reitzell or Thompson, center field; and Aldrich or Stringer, right field.

BENGALS TRADE M'COSKY TO A'S FOR GEORGE KELL

DETROIT, May 18.—(AP)—General manager George Trautman of the Detroit Tigers announced today that Outfielder Barney McCosky of Detroit has been traded to the Philadelphia Athletics for Third Baseman George C. Kell.

The announcement of the trade came as a surprise.

Kell, 23-year-old Arkansas-born infielder, played one game with the Athletics in 1943 and became a regular the following season.

McCosky, 28, came to Detroit from the Texas League in 1939 and was a regular outfielder with the Tigers until he joined the Navy in 1943.

BRUINS BATTER OTTMEN, 19 TO 3

Cubs Go On Wildest Slugging Spree To Rout 5 Giant Pitchers

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Unloading their fiercest barrage of the season, the Chicago Cubs unmercifully pummeled five New York flingers for 18 hits to bury the Giants under a 19-3 score in today's opener of a scheduled double header. Rain forced the postponement of the second game.

Bill Voiselle was the first New York chucker to feel the Bruins' power, giving way to Bob Joyce in the first inning. Joyce followed Voiselle to the showers in the second frame to be succeeded by mike Budnick, Jack Kraus and rookie Jack Carden in that order.

Lefty Johnny Schmitz registered his second victory over the Giants by holding the Ottmen to five hits. A two-run homer by Buddy Kerr in the fifth and another round tripper by Buddy Blattner in the seventh prevented the southpaw from whitewashing the Polo Grounders for the second successive time.

SPORTSMEN HERE MEET TOMORROW

Proposed Changes In Fishing Laws Will Be Discussed At Session

The Ouachita Sportsmen's League, unit of the Louisiana Wildlife organization, will meet in the court room of the Monroe city hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

A report on the recent state wildlife convention, in which members of the Ouachita unit took part, also will be made.

"The Ouachita Sportsmen's League is devoted to good constructive work," O. N. McNeil, unit secretary, said last night, "And to make the program most effective we must all unite on our projects."

LEGION BASEBALL NINES PLAY TODAY

Local Club Meets Bastrop Here; Call District Meeting To Map State

The American Legion Junior baseball club of Ouachita parish gets its first test against other legion talent in an exhibition game with the Bastrop American Legion Juniors here this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Neville High School diamond.

Steps will also be taken this week to draw up an official schedule with other legion teams of the northeast Louisiana district so that the play of offical games can get underway soon.

E. B. Todd, member of the local American Legion committee in charge of legion ball affairs, said last night that meeting of representatives of all teams in the district had been called for Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the L. B. Faulk post's home here to map a schedule for play for the season. All posts backing teams over the district are being urged to have representatives on hand for the meeting so that official games can be billed at an early date and thus combat any unusual delay is getting the legion campaign underway. All posts planning to have representatives on hand or who cannot do so are advised to so inform Lawrence Gibbs, member of the local legion committee, at radio station KMLB here.

Coach Pete Medak last night said the local squad was coming along fine despite curtailment of its training schedule the past few days because of inclement weather.

"The fans can come right on out Sunday and see for themselves how good our club really is," Medak declared. "They'll see a hard working bunch of boys who really hustle and I think they'll be satisfied that we have the makings of a good club."

Calhoun High School members of the squad won't be able to be present when the game opens, Medak said. Graduation ceremonies are being held at Calhoun this afternoon, but the boys will come on out after their Calhoun program, and Medak said he expected to send them into the game somewhere around the sixth inning.

FELLER AIMS FOR STRIKEOUT MARK

(By Associated Press)

At the rate Blazing Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians has been setting the American League batters down on strikes this season, the midwestern meteor should better the modern major league record of 343 strikeouts in one season, with plenty to spare.

It was back in 1904 that eccentric Rube Waddell set the standard while pitching for the Philadelphia Athletics and it has defied the mighty arms of Big Ed Walsh, Walter Johnson, Smoky Joe Wood, Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Lefty Grove, Dazzy Vance, Dizzy Dean and other renowned strikeout artists for more than 40 years.

Johnson, who fanned more batters than any other pitcher during his big league career, came closest to the mark when he whiffed 313 in 1910. The highest figure Feller ever reached in his five complete and two part-time seasons was 261 in 43 games in 1938.

The Van Meter, Iowa, speedster fanned 14 Nats Friday in pitching the Indians to a 3-0 victory in the opener of a doubleheader with Washington, to raise his eight-game total to 85 in 71 innings.

With 127 games remaining on the Tribe's schedule, Feller, taking his regular turn every fourth day, should appear in 32 more contests. Should Bob continue at his current gait of 10 1/2 strikeouts per game, he will rack up the amazing total of 431, far exceeding the record. Charles (Hoss) Radbourne holds the all-time mark of 411 established with Providence in 1884.

In registering his fifth triumph and his third via the shutout route, Feller gained an even split for the Indians. The Nats pounded Joe Krakauskas for nine hits to win the second game, halted by darkness at the end of the eighth innings, 9-4.

Louis boxed one round each with Al Hoosman and Perk Daniels and did two each with Jimmy Bell and George Fitch. The final frame with Bell became heated when both forgot instructions and slugged it out.

CONN TAKES SIX-ROUND WARM-UP FOR JOE LOUIS

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., May 18.—(AP)—Billy Conn went six rounds today in preparation for his bout with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis on June 19.

Conn boxed two rounds each with Jimmy Smith, Mickey Belluscio and Frank Poreda, each of whom is well above the 200-pound mark.

The challenger was both fast and sharp.

Williams Knocks Four-Master As Sockers Snap Out Of Hitting Slump

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox pulled out of their batting lethargy in impressive fashion today to wallop the St. Louis Browns 18-8 with heavy hitting that included a four-run homer by Ted Williams.

Ted Williams

Williams had drawn four bases on balls when he came to bat in the fifth with the bases loaded. The Boston star then slugged Ellis Kinder, the Brownies' third pitcher, for the grand slam blow. Glen Russell hit a homer earlier in the same inning, Dom DiMaggio scoring ahead of him.

Mickey Harris, Boston's unbeaten pitcher, registered his seventh win of the season in the contest although he was touched for 12 safeties, including two home runs by Otufielder Chet Laabs.

CHICAGO, May 18.—(AP)—Orval Grove gave a masterful pitching exhibition today when he limited the New York Yankees to three hits in hurling the Chicago White Sox to a 5-1 victory over the Bronx bombers.

A home run by Charlie Keller, his third in as many games, and his seventh of the season, saved the Yanks from a shutout, in the ninth inning. Between the first and the ninth frames, the righthander held the Yanks hitless.

TIGERS 2, ATHLETICS 0

DETROIT, May 18.—(AP)—Capitalizing on Philadelphia's loose defensive play, the Detroit Tigers took advantage of three errors here today to score two unearned runs and beat the Athletics 2 to 0 back of Freddie Hutchinson's four-hit pitching.

(Bobo) Newsom, pitching for the A's with only two days of rest, also scattered for four hits but was charged with Philadelphia's fifth straight setback at the hands of the Tigers.

Hutchinson fanned eight and personally counted the winning run on Heady base-running in the sixth inning.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—The All-Star College baseball game, cooked up by the college coaches and fostered by the Red Sox, may go a long way toward settling one of the season's hottest arguments—who is the best college player. . . . Stirred by stories about the speed and hitting of Army's Glenn Davis, various and sundry fans have come in with "as good or better" plugs for Dale Mitchell of Oklahoma, Charley Trippi of Georgia, Lee Eilbracht of Illinois, Don Robinson of Michigan, Joe Landrum of Clemson and maybe a few others. . . . Mitchell, they say, has everything, including plenty of speed and a cloud of major league scouts around him. Trippi hit .500 for 20 games, knocked nine homers and stole 17 bases. . . . Coach Wallie Roettger calls Catcher Eilbracht, hitting .585 in conference games, "the best major league prospect in the Big Ten." . . . Freshman Landrum pitched a no-hitter in his college debut. . . . What more could you ask.

Look Ahead

The All-Star game in Boston June 14 and a similar North-South tussle on the Pacific Coast are planned to pave the way for a national event, either All-Star or an N. C. A. A. championship tournament like the basketball affair. . . . Wonder why some enterprising school doesn't pave the way by instituting an invitational tourney next year?

Long Range Scouting

When the Villanova ball club visited Penn State, Joe Bedenk, the home coach, asked Phil Weinert if he didn't have a catcher-third baseman named Norm Kline on the club. . . . Phil didn't, but when Kline's home town folks in Lancaster, Pa., put in a few plugs, Weinert looked up the boy. . . . Kline, a former combat pilot, explained he had been too busy with engineering studies to play ball. . . . But he came out and in his first game belted three singles and a triple against Princeton. . . . Now Bedenk is wondering what sort of persuasion Weinert used. His own second-best hurler, Bob Gehrett, is so wrapped up in chemical engineering that he'll take time out to pitch home games but refuses to leave the campus.

Cleaning The Cuff

Word from Manila is that the ability of the Philippine Davis Cup players, after five years of inaction, is "more of a mystery than John Montague ever was." . . . George Corcoran wires the good news that Memorial Day golfers are in for a treat. New postwar golf balls will be on sale in pro shops on the 25th and they'll give 15 to 20 yards more distance than prewar balls. . . . But will they dodge traps? . . . Max Waxman can't figure out why Elmer (Violent) Ray won't take that $25,000 offer to fight Curtis Sheppard in the Baltimore stadium. "Why, we've done better than $100,000 there," says Max, "and for that one we'd sell all the 80,000 seats at three bucks or so apiece." . . . When injured Goodie Rosen made a recent trip to Boston with the Giants, he explained: "I'm still a kid. I couldn't pass up a chance to see a ball game free."

SIMSBORO OPENS BIG 6 SLATE AGAINST MARION

SIMSBORO, La., May 18.—(Special)—The Simsboro Vets will open their Big Six League campaign here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock against the Marion club. Simsboro's 21-man squad is composed almost entirely of veterans of World War II who expect to be a strong contender for the league leadership.

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(AP)—Bronzed paddlers of the bayou country readied their sleek craft and flexed their muscles today in last minute preparation for tomorrow's big classic—the annual pirogue race.

The paddles start churning the waters of Big Bayou Barataria, 25 miles below New Orleans, at 3 p. m. Central Standard Time. If the tide and headwind are favorable for the four-mile upstream course the 1946 champ should be crowned in 30 to 40 minutes.

Attorney Hugh M. Wilkinson, general chairman of the gala event, announced that a score of entries had been received today and that a score more were expected before the qualifying deadline at noon Sunday.

The festivities, marking resumption of the classic after a cessation during the war, were ushered in tonight with a big fireworks display at Kammer's Landing.

The winner in tomorrow's seventh annual race will be awarded the Charles H. Ellis trophy and $200 in money; while cash prizes of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded for second, third and fourth place, respectively.

While the 1946 race may develop into a pirogue duel between Herbert Creppel, 24, winner of the last event in 1941, and Adam Billot, 27, several times champion, Wilkinson says there are "a half dozen near champions" who will be making it hot for the former champs.

NORTH LOUISIANA

BASKIN VS. WEST MONROE

BASKIN, La., May 18.—(Special)—"Red" Sims brings his West Monroe outfit to Baskin Sunday for a scheduled North Louisiana League meeting with Manager M. Folds' Baskin diamondeers in the first meeting of the season between the two clubs. The game starts at 3 p. m.

Manager Sims reported from West Monroe that his starting battery today would be Floyd Van, pitcher, and Ed Myles, catcher. The Ouachita Parish boys will be coming here, however, without their star first baseman, Pete Medak. Medak, who is coach of the Monroe American Legion junior team, is sending his boys against Bastrop in an exhibition game at Monroe today and so will miss the game here.

BUCKSHOTS VS. SOX

CLARKS, La., May 18.—(Special)—The Clarks White Sox and the Bastrop Buckshots, considered two of the strongest teams in the North Louisiana League, test their strength against each other here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a league contest at the Louisiana Central Lumber Company's park.

Manager E. M. Steeley's Socker lineup will probably be: E. C. Hinton, pitcher; Delcoure, first base; Steely, second base; Rodgers, third base; Gonzales, shortstop; Sellers, left field; Cobb of Ferguson, catcher; Reitzell or Thompson, center field; and Aldrich or Stringer, right field.

BENGALS TRADE M'COSKY TO A'S FOR GEORGE KELL

DETROIT, May 18.—(AP)—General manager George Trautman of the Detroit Tigers announced today that Outfielder Barney McCosky of Detroit has been traded to the Philadelphia Athletics for Third Baseman George C. Kell.

The announcement of the trade came as a surprise.

Kell, 23-year-old Arkansas-born infielder, played one game with the Athletics in 1943 and became a regular the following season.

McCosky, 28, came to Detroit from the Texas League in 1939 and was a regular outfielder with the Tigers until he joined the Navy in 1943.

BRUINS BATTER OTTMEN, 19 TO 3

Cubs Go On Wildest Slugging Spree To Rout 5 Giant Pitchers

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Unloading their fiercest barrage of the season, the Chicago Cubs unmercifully pummeled five New York flingers for 18 hits to bury the Giants under a 19-3 score in today's opener of a scheduled double header. Rain forced the postponement of the second game.

Bill Voiselle was the first New York chucker to feel the Bruins' power, giving way to Bob Joyce in the first inning. Joyce followed Voiselle to the showers in the second frame to be succeeded by mike Budnick, Jack Kraus and rookie Jack Carden in that order.

Lefty Johnny Schmitz registered his second victory over the Giants by holding the Ottmen to five hits. A two-run homer by Buddy Kerr in the fifth and another round tripper by Buddy Blattner in the seventh prevented the southpaw from whitewashing the Polo Grounders for the second successive time.

LOUISIANA STATE TAKES HOME ELEVENTH S. E. C. TRACK TITLE

By Chick Kosch

LEGION FIELD, BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 18.—(AP)—Louisiana State, with sprinting Tom Dickey scoring 15 points captured the 14th annual Southeastern Conference track meet here today with a total of 54 1/2 points.

Georgia Tech, the defending champion the past two years, was second with 44 points and Tulane, one of the pre-meet favorites, was third with 40 1/2 points. Mississippi State's small but speedy contingent furnished one of the meet's big surprises by taking the mile relay and fourth place in team scoring with 34 points, nine better than Auburn.

The Bayou Tigers, in winning their eleventh meet, scored principally in the field events, piling up 38 1/2 points in the sixth events. They scored first places in the javelin, pole vault and broad jump, and had two men in a three-way tie for first in the high jump, in which they scored nine points.

Dickey successfully defended his titles in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and added first place in the broad jump.

Lowther, a former Flying Fortress pilot and an all-conference basketball player, took first place in the pole vault and javelin and fifth place in the broad jump. His winning toss of 195 ft., 7 inches in the javelin was set yesterday in the trials. Of the finalists in that event, only Jim Nolan of Georgia Tech bettered his qualifying distance. Nolan tossed 192 ft., 6 in., today, nine feet better than yesterday.

Hal France, Mississippi State star sprinter, was second to Dickey in both dashes, losing by close margins.

Hugh Liles of Tulane, defending champion in both hurdle events, came through with repeat wins after being beaten by Jim Weber of Kentucky in a low hurdles trial heat yesterday.

Weber scored all of his team's points, taking fifth in the shot put, high hurdles and low hurdles, and fourth in the discus.

Fred Carley of Mobile, Auburn's star distance runner, finished the season undefeated by capturing both the mile and 880-yard runs for his 11th and 12th victories. He led during most of both events but had to stave off a last second sprint in the half-mile by Bill Rhett of Mississippi State, who won the event here in 1942.

Other teams scoring was Florida 17, Kentucky 5, Alabama 2 1/2, Vanderbilt 2 and Georgia one-half (1/2).

Tennessee and Mississippi were the only members not represented and Vanderbilt had only a relay team entered. The Commodores took fourth in the relay, holding that position after the second lap when L. S. U.'s runner dropped the baton to fall behind.

Mississippi State failed to score in the field events, but scored in every race except the mile and two-mile run. The Maroons time of 3:25.5 in taking the relay was the best for the meet since 1941.

Dave Durst, Tech's distance runner, also retained his title in the two-mile but had to repulse a strong bid by Spencer Johnson of Tulane, in the home stretch.

CURTIS HANDILY DEFENDS CROWN

Light-Heavy Champ Stops Gatz In Straight Falls; Kallio Wins

On the same card, Kallio, former world's middleweight king who celebrated his 55th birthday Thursday, appeared in a birthday bout with Allen "Sailor" Parker, Nashville, Tenn., and beat the tough ex-tar two out of three falls. It was the first time the local promoter had won a birthday bout, first inaugurated when he was 50, but at the same time Kallio protected a record of many years standing in that he has never been beaten by a man shorter than himself. Parker outweighed Kallio several pounds, however.

Curtis won the first fall of his title scramble in eight minutes after beating Gatz in a slugging duel, following up with a series of headspins that left the challenger groggy and then the champ came through with a body cover to pin his opponent for the count.

Gatz returned in a villainous mood for the second fall to slug and choke his foe. After about ten minutes of milling, Gatz gained the upperhand after repeatedly strangling Curtis, and when Referee Allen Corbin tried to drag Gatz off his victim the latter turned on the referee and smashed him to the mat.

But Curtis rallied, smashed Gatz into a corner with a couple of forearm jabs, came through with a series of headspins and then a body cover to win in twelve minutes.

The aging Kallio proved to his fans he still has plenty of strength and trickery left as he came from behind to beat Parker after the latter had gotten the edge with a first fall victory in 15 minutes. Parker almost had Kallio out of action but the use of smother holds in the second heat until Gus suddenly trapped Parker with a stepover toehold and forced his shoulders to the mat to even the brawl in 12 minutes of the fall.

The second fall lasted eleven minutes before Kallio again trapped his opponent after taking a severe beating for a few minutes. Parker was tossing Kallio over his head like a sack of oats and banging him on the mat, when one such heave misfired as Kallio grabbed the Nashville tussler about the legs and bounced him off the mat. Held firmly by the legs, Parker was pinned for the count.

A one-fall match between Allen Corbin, Monroe policeman, and Bill Hartsell, former welterweight grappler of Marshall, Tex., was won by Corbin in 14 minutes after Hartsell had had the better of the milling most of the way. Bill Barney refereed the Hartsell-Corbin scrap.

The regular Tuesday night card this week will be a double main event affair, featuring Bobby Bruns, Jack "Sockeye" McDonald, Jimmy Lott and Roy Graham, Promoter Kallio said last night.

Bruns, a 225-pound newcomer from New York City, will appear against McDonald, Oregon lumberjack, and Lott, former Alabama football player who made his local debut last Tuesday, will match talents with Roy Graham, tough Texas cowboy.

Both bouts will have time limits of an hour and fifteen minutes with two falls to win.

president that things were not as bad as they might seem and that the United States, Russia, Britain and France could eventually agree on European peace settlements if they tried long enough.

Byrnes was represented as being not quite so pessimistic about this as when he left for Paris April 23. He evidently feels that the United States' bargaining position with Russia has been improved by the Paris agreement for revision of Italian armistice terms. He expects this to ease the pressure for quick peace agreements, which previously had been a primary American concern.

At the same time he is believed to feel strongly that no effort should be spared to end left-over war conditions in Europe as quickly as possible, to wind up occupation armies except in Germany, and to hold a European peace conference without undue delay.

To attain these and related objectives he expects to return to Paris in about four weeks, for resumption June 15 of his meetings with Foreign Ministers Bevin of Britain, Molotov of Russia and Bidault of France.

Byrnes himself would tell newsmen only that he would make a radio broadcast Monday night and that he intended to go directly to the state department and send word of his arrival to the president. Thirty minutes later he crossed the street from the department and walked into the president's office.

There, despite his evident weariness after the 29-hour flight from Paris, he plunged immediately into his two-hour talk with Mr. Truman.

When Byrnes left for Paris April 23, he publicly expressed his own feelings about the prospects for agreement with Russia on a European peace by telling reporters that if he were to comment on his mission he would have to put it in terms of the old hymn, "Standing in the need of Prayer."

At that time he had in mind the possibility of a complete and final failure to reach peace-agreements among the big-four powers, with Britain, France and United States splitting sharply away from Russia. What actually happened at Paris appeared in several instances to have widened this split—notably failure to agree on a German control treaty, to arrange for the evacuation of Austria or to settle any of the basic territorial arguments involved in treaty-making.

DREDGING TO BEGIN ON RIVER PROJECTS

Army engineers today assured Rep. Charles McKenzie of Monroe that they would start work just as soon as possible on the $5,013,000 project to widen and straighten the Tensas and Boeuf Rivers and Bayou Macon.

First appropriation for the flood control program was made in the recent bill which passed in Congress. Engineers are busy now working out final details preparatory to starting actual construction.

Congressman McKenzie said also that he had every reason to believe the flood control authorization bill including further programs for North Louisiana would pass the House as soon as it is brought forth from the House flood control committee. The bill should be reported out in two or three weeks.

Included are widening, straightening and deepening of Bayou La-Fourche and levee work on Black River.

the new sixth army, had been averaging five vigorous thrusts daily at Szepingkai, Communist stronghold south of Changchun.

Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, deputy chief of staff, told a Mukden news conference he hoped the Communists would cease "to obstruct the recovery of China's soveriegnty" over Manchuria.

Pai said, however, that the Communists had not replied "to a proposal by General Marshall that the Communists withdraw from Changchun."

The special U. S. envoy in his role of mediator was reported to have relayed to the Communists a request by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that the Communists quit Changchun as a condition for resumed negotiations.

STOCK ON FARMS TO BE SURVEYED

The Post Office Department is cooperating again this year with the Department of Agriculture in conducting a livestock survey.

The purpose of this survey is to furnish a basis for determining the production of hogs, sheep, chickens and milk. Questionnaire cards for obtaining this information are now being distributed by the rural mail carriers operating from the Monroe Post Office.

The cards should be filled out and returned to the mail carrier or the postmaster at once for forwarding to the office of the agricultural statistician of this state.

These crop and livestock reports are made primarily to assist the farmers of the country in the orderly marketing of their crops, livestock, and livestock products; so it is to the farmer's interest to make a prompt and accurate report.

Fill out the livestock report cards and turn them in promptly, it is urged.

A copy of the final report, showing figures for Louisiana as well as for the United States, will be sent to all farmers who return the cards.

LOUISIANA STATE TAKES HOME ELEVENTH S. E. C. TRACK TITLE

By Chick Kosch

LEGION FIELD, BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 18.—(AP)—Louisiana State, with sprinting Tom Dickey scoring 15 points captured the 14th annual Southeastern Conference track meet here today with a total of 54 1/2 points.

Georgia Tech, the defending champion the past two years, was second with 44 points and Tulane, one of the pre-meet favorites, was third with 40 1/2 points. Mississippi State's small but speedy contingent furnished one of the meet's big surprises by taking the mile relay and fourth place in team scoring with 34 points, nine better than Auburn.

The Bayou Tigers, in winning their eleventh meet, scored principally in the field events, piling up 38 1/2 points in the sixth events. They scored first places in the javelin, pole vault and broad jump, and had two men in a three-way tie for first in the high jump, in which they scored nine points.

Dickey successfully defended his titles in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and added first place in the broad jump.

Lowther, a former Flying Fortress pilot and an all-conference basketball player, took first place in the pole vault and javelin and fifth place in the broad jump. His winning toss of 195 ft., 7 inches in the javelin was set yesterday in the trials. Of the finalists in that event, only Jim Nolan of Georgia Tech bettered his qualifying distance. Nolan tossed 192 ft., 6 in., today, nine feet better than yesterday.

Hal France, Mississippi State star sprinter, was second to Dickey in both dashes, losing by close margins.

Hugh Liles of Tulane, defending champion in both hurdle events, came through with repeat wins after being beaten by Jim Weber of Kentucky in a low hurdles trial heat yesterday.

Weber scored all of his team's points, taking fifth in the shot put, high hurdles and low hurdles, and fourth in the discus.

Fred Carley of Mobile, Auburn's star distance runner, finished the season undefeated by capturing both the mile and 880-yard runs for his 11th and 12th victories. He led during most of both events but had to stave off a last second sprint in the half-mile by Bill Rhett of Mississippi State, who won the event here in 1942.

Other teams scoring was Florida 17, Kentucky 5, Alabama 2 1/2, Vanderbilt 2 and Georgia one-half (1/2).

Tennessee and Mississippi were the only members not represented and Vanderbilt had only a relay team entered. The Commodores took fourth in the relay, holding that position after the second lap when L. S. U.'s runner dropped the baton to fall behind.

Mississippi State failed to score in the field events, but scored in every race except the mile and two-mile run. The Maroons time of 3:25.5 in taking the relay was the best for the meet since 1941.

Dave Durst, Tech's distance runner, also retained his title in the two-mile but had to repulse a strong bid by Spencer Johnson of Tulane, in the home stretch.

CURTIS HANDILY DEFENDS CROWN

On the same card, Kallio, former world's middleweight king who celebrated his 55th birthday Thursday, appeared in a birthday bout with Allen "Sailor" Parker, Nashville, Tenn., and beat the tough ex-tar two out of three falls. It was the first time the local promoter had won a birthday bout, first inaugurated when he was 50, but at the same time Kallio protected a record of many years standing in that he has never been beaten by a man shorter than himself. Parker outweighed Kallio several pounds, however.

Curtis won the first fall of his title scramble in eight minutes after besting Gatz in a slugging duel, following up with a series of headspins that left the challenger groggy and then the champ came through with a body cover to pin his opponent for the count.

Gatz returned in a villainous mood for the second fall to slug and choke his foe. After about ten minutes of milling, Gatz gained the upperhand after repeatedly strangling Curtis, and when Referee Allen Corbin tried to drag Gatz off his victim the latter turned on the referee and smashed him to the mat.

But Curtis rallied, smashed Gatz into a corner with a couple of forearm jabs, came through with a series of headspins and then a body cover to win in twelve minutes.

The aging Kallio proved to his fans he still has plenty of strength and trickery left as he came from behind to beat Parker after the latter had gotten the edge with a first fall victory in 15 minutes. Parker almost had Kallio out of action but the use of smother holds in the second heat until Gus suddenly trapped Parker with a stepover toehold and forced his shoulders to the mat to even the brawl in 12 minutes of the fall.

The second fall lasted eleven minutes before Kallio again trapped his opponent after taking a severe beating for a few minutes. Parker was tossing Kallio over his head like a sack of oats and banging him on the mat, when one such heave misfired as Kallio grabbed the Nashville tussler about the legs and bounced him off the mat. Held firmly by the legs, Parker was pinned for the count.

A one-fall match between Allen Corbin, Monroe policeman, and Bill Hartsell, former welterweight grappler of Marshall, Tex., was won by Corbin in 14 minutes after Hartsell had had the better of the milling most of the way. Bill Barney refereed the Hartsell-Corbin scrap.

The regular Tuesday night card this week will be a double main event affair, featuring Bobby Bruns, Jack "Sockeye" McDonald, Jimmy Lott and Roy Graham, Promoter Kallio said last night.

Bruns, a 225-pound newcomer from New York City, will appear against McDonald, Oregon lumberjack, and Lott, former Alabama football player who made his local debut last Tuesday, will match talents with Roy Graham, tough Texas cowboy.

Both bouts will have time limits of an hour and fifteen minutes with two falls to win.

president that things were not as bad as they might seem and that the United States, Russia, Britain and France could eventually agree on European peace settlements if they tried long enough.

Byrnes was represented as being not quite so pessimistic about this as when he left for Paris April 23. He evidently feels that the United States' bargaining position with Russia has been improved by the Paris agreement for revision of Italian armistice terms. He expects this to ease the pressure for quick peace agreements, which previously had been a primary American concern.

At the same time he is believed to feel strongly that no effort should be spared to end left-over war conditions in Europe as quickly as possible, to wind up occupation armies except in Germany, and to hold a European peace conference without undue delay.

To attain these and related objectives he expects to return to Paris in about four weeks, for resumption June 15 of his meetings with Foreign Ministers Bevin of Britain, Molotov of Russia and Bidault of France.

Byrnes himself would tell newsmen only that he would make a radio broadcast Monday night and that he intended to go directly to the state department and send word of his arrival to the president. Thirty minutes later he crossed the street from the department and walked into the president's office.

There, despite his evident weariness after the 29-hour flight from Paris, he plunged immediately into his two-hour talk with Mr. Truman.

When Byrnes left for Paris April 23, he publicly expressed his own feelings about the prospects for agreement with Russia on a European peace by telling reporters that if he were to comment on his mission he would have to put it in terms of the old hymn, "Standing in the need of Prayer."

At that time he had in mind the possibility of a complete and final failure to reach peace-agreements among the big-four powers, with Britain, France and United States splitting sharply away from Russia. What actually happened at Paris appeared in several instances to have widened this split—notably failure to agree on a German control treaty, to arrange for the evacuation of Austria or to settle any of the basic territorial arguments involved in treaty-making.

POW-WOW'S STAFF CELEBRATES HONOR

The staff of the Pow-Wow, Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. publication, celebrated for the tenth time its All-American rating nationally at a turkey supper held last night at Hotel Frances.

The banquet, attended by the members of the newspaper's staff and its guests, was opened with the invocation by Miss Mary Clay, N. J. C., librarian. Entertainment on the program included a piano solo by Miss Kathryn Harrington, a reading by Miss Juanita Ferguson, a vocal solo by Miss Bonnie Holloway with the accompaniment of Miss Harrington, and the reading of the prophecy by James Perry. Toastmistresses were Miss Addie Mae McGough and Miss Beverly Bogan.

Members of the Pow-Wow staff present were Miss Bogan, editor; David Russell, business manager; Libby Nick, associate editor; Mary Helen Walker, associate editor; Jo Layne Jarrell, feature editor; Annie Lee West Stahl, faculty advisor; and Alice Chilton, Frank Cline, Malcolm Steen, Nelle Allen, Edwina Hudson, Bonnie Holloway, Lillie Hudson, Juanita Ferguson, James Perry, Kathryn Harrington, Elizabeth Beadles, Harold Thompson, Martha Ann Scott, and Ralph Reed.

Guests were Miss Clay, Leon Noland, Sr., Miss Carrie Mae Stevenson, Ellen Haynes, and Paul Martin.

DREDGING TO BEGIN ON RIVER PROJECTS

Army engineers today assured Rep. Charles McKenzie of Monroe that they would start work just as soon as possible on the $5,013,000 project to widen and straighten the Tensas and Boeuf Rivers and Bayou Macon.

First appropriation for the flood control program was made in the recent bill which passed in Congress. Engineers are busy now working out final details preparatory to starting actual construction.

Congressman McKenzie said also that he had every reason to believe the flood control authorization bill including further programs for North Louisiana would pass the House as soon as it is brought forth from the House flood control committee. The bill should be reported out in two or three weeks.

Included are widening, straightening and deepening of Bayou La-Fourche and levee work on Black River.

the new sixth army, had been averaging five vigorous thrusts daily at Szepingkai, Communist stronghold south of Changchun.

Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, deputy chief of staff, told a Mukden news conference he hoped the Communists would cease "to obstruct the recovery of China's soveriegnty" over Manchuria.

Pai said, however, that the Communists had not replied "to a proposal by General Marshall that the Communists withdraw from Changchun."

The special U. S. envoy in his role of mediator was reported to have relayed to the Communists a request by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that the Communists quit Changchun as a condition for resumed negotiations.

STOCK ON FARMS TO BE SURVEYED

The Post Office Department is cooperating again this year with the Department of Agriculture in conducting a livestock survey.

The purpose of this survey is to furnish a basis for determining the production of hogs, sheep, chickens and milk. Questionnaire cards for obtaining this information are now being distributed by the rural mail carriers operating from the Monroe Post Office.

The cards should be filled out and returned to the mail carrier or the postmaster at once for forwarding to the office of the agricultural statistician of this state.

These crop and livestock reports are made primarily to assist the farmers of the country in the orderly marketing of their crops, livestock, and livestock products; so it is to the farmer's interest to make a prompt and accurate report.

Fill out the livestock report cards and turn them in promptly, it is urged.

A copy of the final report, showing figures for Louisiana as well as for the United States, will be sent to all farmers who return the cards.

CENTRAL P.-T. A. HOLDS ELECTION

Mrs. Frank Patterson Is President; Others Named To Office

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, Fifth district P.-T. A. director, installed the following officers for the Central Grammar P.-T. A. at the May meeting just held: Mrs. Frank Patterson, president; Mrs. J. C. Liles, vice-president; Mrs. B. Worley, secretary; and Mrs. Elgin Boggs, treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Frank Patterson, who led in prayer after which there was salute to the flag, and the reading and adopting of reports. Mrs. Barney Rowe, summer roundup chairman, reported that the past year children examined showed better development than in former years.

Mrs. Eulalia McCoy, delegate to the state P.-T. A. convention in Shreveport gave a report. She said Mayor Caldwell and Supt. White extended sincere greetings. The mayor stressed the fact that the P.-T. A. seeking no selfish glory is always ready to do the job successfully.

Choruses from Caddo schools entertained with musical numbers.

At a tea given by the Women's Club, the women were privileged to meet Mrs. W. A. Hastings, of Nebraska, national president of the P.-T. A.

Mrs. McCoy stated that there were many inspiring talks, one of which was by Dr. J. M. Artman, who spoke on "A Character Code for Home and School." He stressed need of cooperation in home and school. The school, he said, should be the center of community life and we should build around the school as the center.

Gordon A. Webb, state attendance supervisor, spoke on the visiting teacher program and led a round-table discussion with the various visiting teachers present. There were group meetings on character and citizenship, recreation and juvenile protection.

Mrs. Fletcher Ashcraft, of Monroe, presented a program of a model P.-T. A. meeting which was helpful to the group.

The regional director of recreation in San Antonio, Harry J. Emigh, discussed important facts concerning recreation in a community. Dr. Joseph Mickle spoke on "Education for Youth in Japan." Dr. L. K. Bishop, chairman of the National Conference for Christians and Jews, spoke on "An Aspect of Character Education." He said it falls on education to produce new attitudes and interpretations of life. Education is attempting to do this through inter-group education. We are getting away from superstition and false ideas of other groups, other creeds and cultures. We seek to build a world citizenship concept so people may be prepared to live together and to cooperate.

Teachers he suggested should have round-table discussions for better understanding and should, he said, experiment with new technique to establish cooperation and confidence. Democracy depends on ability to live together in peace, he concluded.

Mrs. McCoy's room won the attendance record.

In Memoriam

New Department Of Paper Will Record Anniversaries Of Deaths

At the suggestion of numerous readers who believe some means should be provided for commemoration of departed relatives and friends, the News-Star—World has arranged to inaugurate an "In Memoriam" column as a regular feature.

The department, which will be under the direction of Eve Bradford, will accept notices of death anniversaries, with eulogistic expressions either in prose or verse and, if desired, pictures of the deceased will be reproduced.

Cards of thanks and other similar paid notices are to be carried in the In Memoriam column in the future.

CENTRAL P.-T. A. HOLDS ELECTION

Mrs. Frank Patterson Is President; Others Named To Office

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, Fifth district P.-T. A. director, installed the following officers for the Central Grammar P.-T. A. at the May meeting just held: Mrs. Frank Patterson, president; Mrs. J. C. Liles, vice-president; Mrs. B. Worley, secretary; and Mrs. Elgin Boggs, treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Frank Patterson, who led in prayer after which there was salute to the flag, and the reading and adopting of reports. Mrs. Barney Rowe, summer roundup chairman, reported that the past year children examined showed better development than in former years.

Mrs. Eulalia McCoy, delegate to the state P.-T. A. convention in Shreveport gave a report. She said Mayor Caldwell and Supt. White extended sincere greetings. The mayor stressed the fact that the P.-T. A. seeking no selfish glory is always ready to do the job successfully.

Choruses from Caddo schools entertained with musical numbers.

At a tea given by the Women's Club, the women were privileged to meet Mrs. W. A. Hastings, of Nebraska, national president of the P.-T. A.

Mrs. McCoy stated that there were many inspiring talks, one of which was by Dr. J. M. Artman, who spoke on "A Character Code for Home and School." He stressed need of cooperation in home and school. The school, he said, should be the center of community life and we should build around the school as the center.

Gordon A. Webb, state attendance supervisor, spoke on the visiting teacher program and led a round-table discussion with the various visiting teachers present. There were group meetings on character and citizenship, recreation and juvenile protection.

Mrs. Fletcher Ashcraft, of Monroe, presented a program of a model P.-T. A. meeting which was helpful to the group.

The regional director of recreation in San Antonio, Harry J. Emigh, discussed important facts concerning recreation in a community. Dr. Joseph Mickle spoke on "Education for Youth in Japan." Dr. L. K. Bishop, chairman of the National Conference for Christians and Jews, spoke on "An Aspect of Character Education." He said it falls on education to produce new attitudes and interpretations of life. Education is attempting to do this through inter-group education. We are getting away from superstition and false ideas of other groups, other creeds and cultures. We seek to build a world citizenship concept so people may be prepared to live together and to cooperate.

Teachers he suggested should have round-table discussions for better understanding and should, he said, experiment with new technique to establish cooperation and confidence. Democracy depends on ability to live together in peace, he concluded.

Mrs. McCoy's room won the attendance record.

In Memoriam

New Department Of Paper Will Record Anniversaries Of Deaths

At the suggestion of numerous readers who believe some means should be provided for commemoration of departed relatives and friends, the News-Star—World has arranged to inaugurate an "In Memoriam" column as a regular feature.

The department, which will be under the direction of Eve Bradford, will accept notices of death anniversaries, with eulogistic expressions either in prose or verse and, if desired, pictures of the deceased will be reproduced.

Cards of thanks and other similar paid notices are to be carried in the In Memoriam column in the future.

Testimonial Dinner Planned For Bishop Greco, Chaplain O'Callahan

A testimonial dinner, honoring Most Rev. Charles P. Greco, newly-consecrated bishop of the Diocese of Alexandria, and Chaplain (Father) Joseph O'Callahan, U. S. N. R., hero of the aircraft carrier "Franklin," will be held at noon Sunday, May 26, at Hotel Frances.

This occasion will be the first official visit of the new bishop to Monroe where he will administer the Sacrament in St. Paschal's Church in West Monroe during the morning, and in St. Matthew's Church at 4 p.m. that afternoon, and in spite of a crowded day, the parishioners of the parish are availing themselves of the opportunity to honor his excellency with this public demonstration of their love and esteem.

The visit of Chaplain Joseph O'Callahan is timely and the Catholics of this community are very glad that he can be present at this testimonial dinner to share the honor and respect, with the bishop, of the citizens of the community for his valor and bravery during the bombardment and near sinking of the carrier "Franklin." Chaplain O'Callahan has become nationally famous for his deeds and was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his leadership and heroism. His visit to Monroe is under the auspices of the AMVETS, who have secured him to be the speaker at their Memorial Day services to be held that date.

Reservations for the dinner must be made not later than Friday noon, May 24. Tickets can be secured from members of the Knights of Columbus who are sponsoring this testimonial dinner, or from Bruno Shoe Shop, Krogmire Tailoring Shop or George Tonore Grocery, Louisville Avenue.

The dinner is open to the public who are cordially invited to attend.

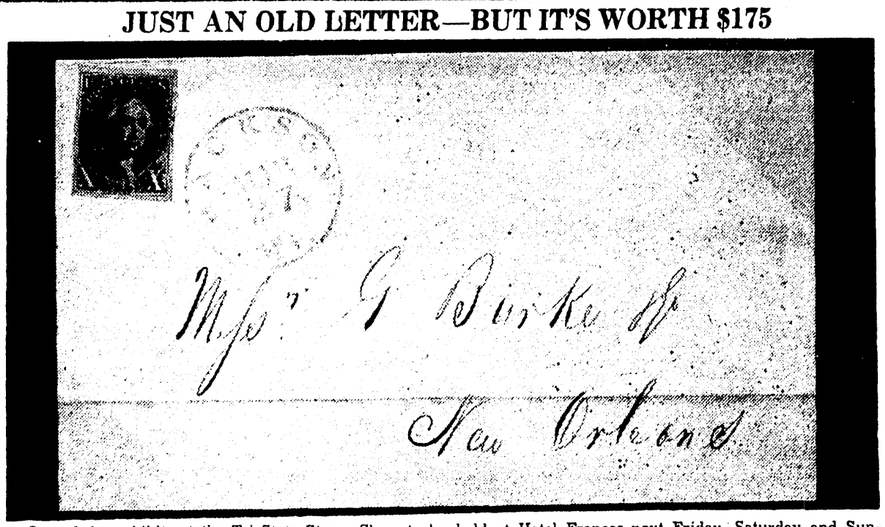
JUST AN OLD LETTER—BUT IT'S WORTH $175



One of the exhibits at the Tri-State Stamp Show to be held at Hotel Frances next Friday, Saturday and Sunday will be the collection of Charles E. Walcott, Oak Grove druggist, which contains among many other valued items a letter mailed in Jackson, Miss., in 1847, bearing one of the first issue of American postage stamps. Prior to that year letters were mailed by having a hand stamp applied at sending point. No envelope was used, the letter merely being folded and sealed and the address and stamp placed on the outer side. England had adopted the use of postage stamps in 1840.

SAYS $75,000 IS FUND FOR RANKIN

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The $75,000 voted by the House yesterday for its un-American activities committee were described by Rep. Sadowski, Democrat, Michigan, as a "campaign contribution" for Rep. Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi.

Rankin is one of the most active members of the committee, which had asked for the money to carry on its work for the rest of the year.

"Don't you think we ought to raise it to $150,000" asked Sadowski, saying this would provide an equal amount "for political expenditures of those of us who are opposed to the Ku Klux Klan and Gerald K. Smith."

His question was directed at Rep. Mundt, Republican, South Dakota, a committee member, but before Mundt answered, Rankin interrupted.

"That's the type of nonsense we can expect to get from the opponents of this committee," said Rankin.

He added that the committee was "going after those un-American elements, in this house or elsewhere," who were trying "to undermine this type of government."

The first union label was used by San Francisco cigar makers about 1874.

STAMP EXHIBIT PLANS COMPLETE

Three-Day Tri-State Show Will Open At Hotel Frances Next Friday

Thomas Truitt, President of the Ouachita Stamp club, said Saturday arrangements for the tri-state exhibit at Hotel Frances next Friday, Saturday and Sunday have been completed and that there is every indication the show will be one of the best ever held in the South.

Mr. Truitt was re-elected president of the club at its first annual meeting Friday night and also renamed was Maurice Glazner, vice president. Miss Mary Benoit, secretary to her father, Mayor Harvey H. Benoit, was chosen secretary-treasurer. She is one of the most enthusiastic of Monroe stamp collectors.

The Ouachita club is affiliated with the American Philatelic society, one of the organization which is arranging to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the use of postage stamps in the United States next year.

The first stamps, one of which is shown in the picture of an 1847 letter on this page, were issued in 5 and 10 cent denominations and bore a likeness of George Washington. The post office department is to be asked to reissue the 10-cent stamp as an observance of the anniversary, Mr. Truitt said. The 1847 letter, mailed at Jackson, Miss., is in the collection of Charles E. Wallace of Oak Grove and will be on display at the Monroe show this week.

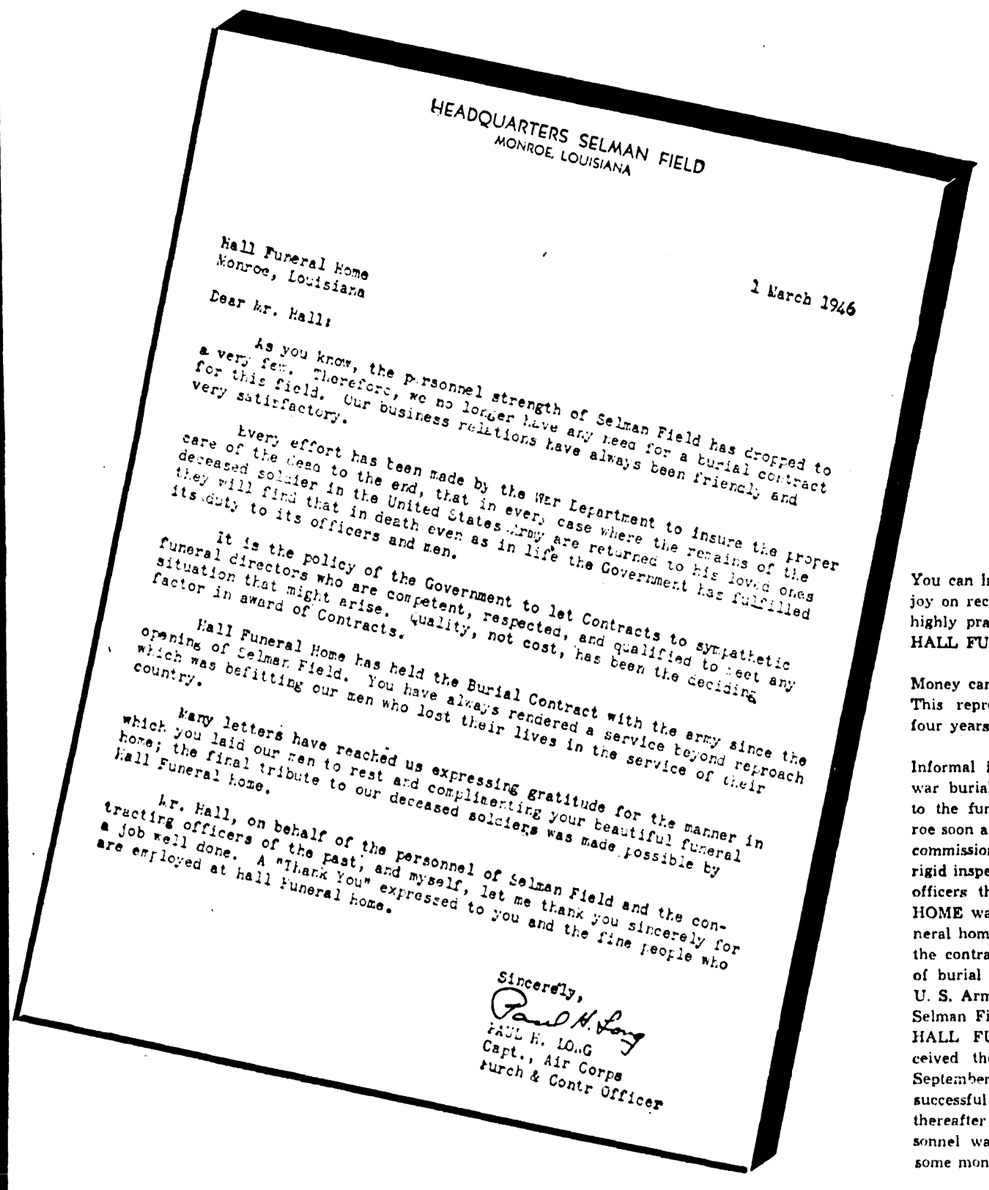
THANK YOU CAPTAIN LONG, FOR YOUR NICE LETTER



HEADQUARTERS SELMAN FIELD
MONROE, LOUISIANA

Hall Funeral Home
Monroe, Louisiana

2 March 1946

Dear Mr. Hall:

As you know, the Personnel strength of Selman Field has dropped to a very few. Therefore, we no longer have any need for a burial contract for this field. Our business relations have always been friendly and very satisfactory.

Every effort has been made by the War Department to insure the proper care of the dead to the end, that in every case where the remains of the deceased soldier in the United States Army are returned to his loved ones they will find that in death even as in life the Government has fulfilled its duty to its officers and men.

It is the policy of the Government to let Contracts to sympathetic funeral directors who are competent, respected, and qualified to meet any situation that might arise. Quality, not cost, has been the deciding factor in award of Contracts.

Hall Funeral Home has held the Burial Contract with the army since the opening of Selman Field. You have always rendered a service beyond reproach which was befitting our men who lost their lives in the service of their country.

Many letters have reached us expressing gratitude for the manner in which you laid our men to rest and complimenting your beautiful funeral home; the final tribute to our deceased soldiers was made possible by Hall Funeral home.

Mr. Hall, on behalf of the personnel of Selman Field and the contracting officers of the past, and myself, let me thank you sincerely for a job well done. A "Thank You" expressed to you and the fine people who are employed at hall funeral home.

Sincerely,
Paul H. Long
PAUL H. LONG
Capt., Air Corps
Purch & Contr Officer

You can imagine our pride and joy on receiving this fine letter highly praising the staff of the HALL FUNERAL HOME.

Money cannot buy such letters. This represents approximately four years of hard work.

Informal invitations to bid on war burial contracts were sent to the funeral homes in Monroe soon after Selman Field was commissioned in 1942. After a rigid inspection by a number of officers the HALL FUNERAL HOME was the only white funeral home in Monroe awarded the contract for the furnishing of burial services for deceased U. S. Army white personnel at Selman Field, Monroe, La. The HALL FUNERAL HOME received their first contract in September, 1942, and were the successful bidders each year thereafter until the field personnel was drastically reduced some months ago. (1946).

From our experience of the past four years in dealing with officers of the U. S. Army we are convinced that the public could learn a great lesson by the way the army selects a funeral home. They do not go by the age of a funeral home, or hearsay—they go in person and make their own careful check and rigid inspections, and see for themselves. One high ranking officer stated that environment was one of the paramount considerations in the selection of a funeral home, and said, "In this respect we take into consideration the family's wishes. At a time like that, for instance, members of a family would want to view the body of their loved one in a quiet, dignified place, bearing an atmosphere of serenity. We look until we find such a funeral home. First the body is inspected by officers or their qualified representatives after it has been embalmed. A second inspection is made after the body has been dressed in army uniform with proper insignia.

Said another ranking officer, "To eliminate contracts bid at too low a figure, instructions have been issued to the field to award contracts on the basis of the professional reputation of the bidder and his ability to provide service of their country. The matter of price is no longer the prime factor in making the award."

Capt. Long, Mrs. Hall and I and our entire staff of the past as well as the present share a deep sense of gratitude for all the kind things you have said. We tried to serve you well, we did everything possible to be worthy of the army's confidence in us, and we are sincerely glad that we have succeeded. Your fine letter telling us that the job was well done spurs us on to greater determination and we pledge our continued efforts to supply our friends and policy holders the best of service and merchandise at a fair price. Capt. Long, again we say, "Thanks a million to you and yours."

Every effort has been made by the War Department to insure the proper care of the dead to the end, that in every case where the remains of the deceased soldier in the United States Army are returned to his loved ones they will find that in death even as in life the Government has fulfilled its duty to its officers and men.

It is the policy of the Government to let Contracts to sympathetic funeral directors who are competent, respected, and qualified to meet any situation that might arise. Quality, not cost, has been the deciding factor in award of Contracts.

Hall Funeral Home has held the Burial Contract with the army since the opening of Selman Field. You have always rendered a service beyond reproach which was befitting our men who lost their lives in the service of their country.

Many letters have reached us expressing gratitude for the manner in which you laid our men to rest and complimenting your beautiful funeral home; the final tribute to our deceased soldiers was made possible by Hall Funeral Home.

Mr. Hall, on behalf of the personnel of Selman Field and the contracting officers of the past, and myself, let me thank you sincerely for a job well done. A "Thank You" expressed to you and the fine people who are employed at Hall Funeral Home.

Sincerely,
Paul H. Long
PAUL H. LONG
Capt., Air Corps
Purch & Contr Officer

You can imagine our pride and joy on receiving this fine letter highly praising the staff of the HALL FUNERAL HOME.

Money cannot buy such letters. This represents approximately four years of hard work.

Informal invitations to bid on war burial contracts were sent to the funeral homes in Monroe soon after Selman Field was commissioned in 1942. After a rigid inspection by a number of officers the HALL FUNERAL HOME was the only white funeral home in Monroe awarded the contract for the furnishing of burial services for deceased U. S. Army white personnel at Selman Field, Monroe, La. The HALL FUNERAL HOME received their first contract in September, 1942, and were the successful bidders each year thereafter until the field personnel was drastically reduced some months ago. (1946).

From our experience of the past four years in dealing with officers of the U. S. Army we are convinced that the public could learn a great lesson by the way the army selects a funeral home. They do not go by the age of a funeral home, or hearsay—they go in person and make their own careful check and rigid inspections, and see for themselves. One high ranking officer stated that environment was one of the paramount considerations in the selection of a funeral home, and said, "In this respect we take into consideration the family's wishes. At a time like that, for instance, members of a family would want to view the body of their loved one in a quiet, dignified place, bearing an atmosphere of serenity. We look until we find such a funeral home. First the body is inspected by officers or their qualified representatives after it has been embalmed. A second inspection is made after the body has been dressed in army uniform with proper insignia.

Said another ranking officer, "To eliminate contracts bid at too low a figure, instructions have been issued to the field to award contracts on the basis of the professional reputation of the bidder and his ability to provide service of their country. The matter of price is no longer the prime factor in making the award."

Capt. Long, Mrs. Hall and I and our entire staff of the past as well as the present share a deep sense of gratitude for all the kind things you have said. We tried to serve you well, we did everything possible to be worthy of the army's confidence in us, and we are sincerely glad that we have succeeded. Your fine letter telling us that the job was well done spurs us on to greater determination and we pledge our continued efforts to supply our friends and policy holders the best of service and merchandise at a fair price. Capt. Long, again we say, "Thanks a million to you and yours."

Impressive Ceremony Unites Miss Ann Hayward And Mr. J. Floyd Stone Jr.

Bride's Father Performs Ceremony

Large Concourse Of Friends Attend Ceremony At Grace Episcopal Church

Sentiment, dignity and impressiveness of ceremony characterized the wedding of Miss Ann Hayward, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Farren Hayward and Mr. J. Floyd Stone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stone at Grace Church, Tuesday evening, May 14, at 5:30 o'clock.

The bride's father, beloved rector of Grace Church for the past 25 years, performed the ceremony. He wore the ceremonial vestments of his high office including the old gold and old blue cape and the sunburst of gold embroidery on each shoulder. Dr. Hayward's place in the wedding party was taken by his son, Lt. Edward F. Hayward, Jr., who arrived from Germany just in time to give his sister in marriage.

Grace Church, the scene in the past of so many beautiful and prominent weddings, was never more beautifully decorated, florally, than on this occasion. White Madonna lilies were used exclusively on the altar and chancel where tall cathedral tapers in seven-branched, floor candelabra, pricked the dimness in the shadowy recesses. The lighting of the candles by the two acolytes, Peyton Parker, Jr., and Bob Hardin, in black and white vestments, took place while the organist, Mr. Lowery Jefferson, rendered a brillian prenuptial concert as follows:

"Now Thank We Our God," S. Karg-Elert.
"Wind In The Pines," (from "Mountain Sketches") Joseph W. Clokey.
"The Swan Of Tuonela," Sibelius-Norden.
"Caprice Viennois," Fritz Kreisler.
"Air," (Caro Mio Ben) G. Giordani.
"Serenade," Franz Schubert.
"Arioso," Johann Sebastian Bach.

The bridal chorus from Lohengrin was the processional and the wedding march by Mendelsshon was the recessional.

Solvejg's Song by Edvard Grieg was played softly while the betrothal service was being read.

Miss Louise Smelser sang the "Lord's Prayer," by Mallott and the hymn setting of "O! Perfect Love," as the nuptial music.

As the guests were leaving the church Mr. Jefferson gave a beautiful Carillon concert on the new "Hennen Memorial Chimes," which was very beautiful and most effective.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Helena Hayward Morgan, was the only bridal attendant. She wore a lovely white crepe, accordian pleated, floor length model. The bodice was tight fitting and the sleeves three-quarter length. She carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Harry Stone attended his brother as best man and Messrs Fred Culpepper, Jr., James E. Hayward, Tim Heninger and Gerold Olcott, served as groomsmen.

The bride, radiantly lovely, wore a beautiful wedding gown of white net over white satin. The diaphanous skirt was fashioned with a deep flounce of heirloom lace. Rose point lace also trimmed the tight fitting basque of satin. The wedding veil of lace, caught to a lace cap, was made in Brussels more than 100 years ago and has been used by generations of brides in the family of the bride's mother. The bride's wedding bouquet was a regal creation of white orchids and white bride's roses.

Mrs. Hayward, walking down the white carpeted aisle, wore a black lace and chiffon model with a small black maline hat and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J. T. Stone, wore a pale pink crepe model with a chaplet of roses in her hair.

The reception at the Lotus club attracted a wide concourse of guests who pressed forward to congratulate the bridegroom and extend their well wishes to the bride. Dr. and Mrs. Hayward and Mr. and Mrs. Stone were in the receiving line.

Easter lilies, overflowing from immense urns and floor baskets were placed in the background of the foyer, lounge and library.

The bride's table, overlaid with handsome lace, was florally adorned with an immense silver urn overflowing with superb Easter lilies. White tapers in silver candelabra burned at the four corners. The four-tiered wedding cake, a luscious confection, surmounted with a cluster of crystalized valley lilies, was placed at one end of the table and cut by the bride and groom before they departed for their honeymoon in Hot Springs, Ark.

Mrs. T. C. Rowland and Mrs. E. S. Eby presided over the punch bowl. Individual wedding cakes were passed among the guests by Mrs. Harry Stone, Mrs. Edward Vanable, Miss Gladys Emma Whitfield and Miss Kathleen Myers.

For traveling the bride wore a beautiful tailleur of pale gray, light weight wool, with black accessories. Following their honeymoon the young couple will be at home at 504 Erin avenue.

The bride, a general favorite with young and old in this city and a popular member of the younger set, is a graduate of Neville High School and Northeast Junior College. She is also a graduate of the Louisiana State University of aBton Rouge and is at present a member of the Georgia Tucker school faculty. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority and the Junior Charity League.

Mr. Stone is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School and Northeast Junior College and Louisiana Tech. He served overseas for two years with the army air forces. He is now associated with the Stone-Olcott Motors Agency in this city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev R. T. Watson, pastor of the First Christian Church at 8 o'clock.

The tapers were lighted by Mrs. Ruth Traylor while the pianist, Mrs. James Nelson, rendered a nuptial concert by candle light. She also accompanied the soloist, Mr. "Buck" Wooten, who sang "Oh, Promise Me," and "Because."

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Niederkorn, sister of the bride wore a lovely white net model and carried a colonial bouquet of shasta daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional wedding gown of white satin. A veil of illusion fell to the bottom of her skirt from a beaded coronet and she carried a white Bible adorned with a spray of white orchids.

Countless Monroe Brides Will Walk Altarward During The Month Of June

Miss Touchstone And Miss Faulk To Wed

Parents Of Two June Brides-To-Be Make Important Announcements Today

The month of June will be ushered in on a wave of music—Lohengrin's Wedding March—that will echo the length and breadth of the city. More brides will walk down white carpeted church aisles and plight their troth in lush, green gardens than ever before in the history of Monroe. One garden wedding in particularly is eagerly awaited by friends as the ceremony will take place beneath the towering tree planted by the bride in the gardens of her parents' home where she romped and played as a child. It was pure sentiment that prompted the bride-elect to have her wedding performed in the gardens beneath this tree.

Another June bride has planned to have her reception in the gardens of her parents' home and still another bride has selected the gardens of a close friend for her reception, following the church ceremony.

Of paramount social interest today is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirt Touchstone of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jessie Lee, to Mr. Walter Elmo Lamb, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Lamb of Nashville, Tenn.

The wedding, one of the most prominent of the season, will take place June 29 at 7:00 o'clock in the gardens of the Touchstone home on College avenue.

The bride, one of the most popular members of the younger set is a graduate of Neville High School. She is a member of this year's graduating class of Randolph Macon College, Lynchburg, Va. She will return home with her parents who will be present at her graduation. A few of the details of her wedding have already been worked out including the selection of eight intimate friends for her attendants. They will precede her down the flower bordered walk to the improvised altar.

Mr. Lamb, a former lieutenant in the U. S. army air corps, is a graduate of Vanderbilt University. He is now associated with the Gulf Refining Company in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Another betrothal of widespread interest is that of Miss Laura Morris Flournoy, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelso Flournoy are announcing today her engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Donald Emanuel Simmons, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Simmons of New York City.

The wedding will take place on the 22 of June at the home of the bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Faulk, 910 Walnut street. The hour of the wedding is 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Flournoy, a young woman of charming personality, attended the Principia College, Elsah, Ill., and the Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, where she received her B. A. degree. She is now associated with the Philco International Corporation, New York City.

Mr. Simmons, a lieutenant in the U. S. air corps, recently returned from the South Pacific. He was with the armed forces for three and one half years. At the present time he is associated with the General Motors Acceptance Corporation of Newark, N. J.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR COMPLETED BY MEMBERS OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

The monthly business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening, brought to a close one of the most successful years the club has ever enjoyed. Reports from officers indicated that many worthwhile things were accomplished along the various lines of work included in the club program.

It was decided that the club would again send a girl to "Girls' State" this summer. There was also discussion of the price control legislation now in controversy, and it was the consensus of opinion that letters should be written our senators and representatives asking the continuance of the OPA, to which the members present pledged their support. Mrs. Mae Modes presented a request that as often as possible, flowers be sent to the Cooley Sanatorium, where they are needed and greatly appreciated.

Plans for the summer were also discussed. The customary program and party will not be held in May, but plans were announced by Miss Maible Hood, program chairman, for an installation luncheon on June 2 at the Frances Hotel, and a barbecue supper on June 25 at the home of Mrs. Effie Allen.

Considerable enthusiasm was manifested in regard to the state convention of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, to be held at Lake Charles this week-end, and about ten members expect to attend, to receive the citations that the Monroe club has earned during the year, and to support Mrs. Gladys Miles, who has been nominated for the presidency of the state federation. For the past two years Mrs. Miles has demonstrated her ability, as president of the Monroe club, and is exceedingly popular, not only in the local club, but throughout the federation.

At this meeting the club was privileged to have three guests, Mrs. Wava Walker, Mrs. Hazel Wildey and Miss Geraldine Schleppey. The following members were present:

Countless Monroe Brides Will Walk Altarward During The Month Of June

Parents Of Two June Brides-To-Be Make Important Announcements Today

The month of June will be ushered in on a wave of music—Lohengrin's Wedding March—that will echo the length and breadth of the city. More brides will walk down white carpeted church aisles and plight their troth in lush, green gardens than ever before in the history of Monroe. One garden wedding in particularly is eagerly awaited by friends as the ceremony will take place beneath the towering tree planted by the bride in the gardens of her parents' home where she romped and played as a child. It was pure sentiment that prompted the bride-elect to have her wedding performed in the gardens beneath this tree.

Another June bride has planned to have her reception in the gardens of her parents' home and still another bride has selected the gardens of a close friend for her reception, following the church ceremony.

Of paramount social interest today is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirt Touchstone of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jessie Lee, to Mr. Walter Elmo Lamb, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Lamb of Nashville, Tenn.

The wedding, one of the most prominent of the season, will take place June 29 at 7:00 o'clock in the gardens of the Touchstone home on College avenue.

The bride, one of the most popular members of the younger set is a graduate of Neville High School. She is a member of this year's graduating class of Randolph Macon College, Lynchburg, Va. She will return home with her parents who will be present at her graduation. A few of the details of her wedding have already been worked out including the selection of eight intimate friends for her attendants. They will precede her down the flower bordered walk to the improvised altar.

Mr. Lamb, a former lieutenant in the U. S. army air corps, is a graduate of Vanderbilt University. He is now associated with the Gulf Refining Company in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Another betrothal of widespread interest is that of Miss Laura Morris Flournoy, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelso Flournoy are announcing today her engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Donald Emanuel Simmons, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Simmons of New York City.

The wedding will take place on the 22 of June at the home of the bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Faulk, 910 Walnut street. The hour of the wedding is 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Flournoy, a young woman of charming personality, attended the Principia College, Elsah, Ill., and the Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, where she received her B. A. degree. She is now associated with the Philco International Corporation, New York City.

Mr. Simmons, a lieutenant in the U. S. air corps, recently returned from the South Pacific. He was with the armed forces for three and one half years. At the present time he is associated with the General Motors Acceptance Corporation of Newark, N. J.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR COMPLETED BY MEMBERS OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

The monthly business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening, brought to a close one of the most successful years the club has ever enjoyed. Reports from officers indicated that many worthwhile things were accomplished along the various lines of work included in the club program.

It was decided that the club would again send a girl to "Girls' State" this summer. There was also discussion of the price control legislation now in controversy, and it was the consensus of opinion that letters should be written our senators and representatives asking the continuance of the OPA, to which the members present pledged their support. Mrs. Mae Modes presented a request that as often as possible, flowers be sent to the Cooley Sanatorium, where they are needed and greatly appreciated.

Plans for the summer were also discussed. The customary program and party will not be held in May, but plans were announced by Miss Maible Hood, program chairman, for an installation luncheon on June 2 at the Frances Hotel, and a barbecue supper on June 25 at the home of Mrs. Effie Allen.

Considerable enthusiasm was manifested in regard to the state convention of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, to be held at Lake Charles this week-end, and about ten members expect to attend, to receive the citations that the Monroe club has earned during the year, and to support Mrs. Gladys Miles, who has been nominated for the presidency of the state federation. For the past two years Mrs. Miles has demonstrated her ability, as president of the Monroe club, and is exceedingly popular, not only in the local club, but throughout the federation.

At this meeting the club was privileged to have three guests, Mrs. Wava Walker, Mrs. Hazel Wildey and Miss Geraldine Schleppey. The following members were present:

O. P. H. S. Glee Club In Program At Gilbert

Gilbert High School was honored on May 16 by a visit from the choir and girls' ensemble of Ouachita Parish High School, Monroe, under the direction of Miss Velma Nichols, accompanied by Mrs. R. L. Pritchard.

The hour of lovely music which followed was opened by the girls' ensemble who sang "Woodland Solitude" continuing with a group of well-known lighter numbers. One of the highlights of this part of the program was a solo by Bob Stewart, "Jericho."

The choir captivated the audience from the first note of Handel's "Hallelujah Amen" on through to the last note of the stirring arrangement by Fred Waring of "Battle Hymn of the Republic." We consider ourselves most fortunate to have had such a fine group in our midst.

Miss Lepine Is The Bride Of Joseph De Blieux

A wedding of interest to friends throughout the state was celebrated at an impressive nuptial mass Monday morning, April 22 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Baton Rouge when Miss Dorothy Mary Lepine, daughter of Mrs. Laura Lepine, became the bride of Mr. Joseph D. De Blieux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis De Blieux of Bastrop, La.

The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of Easter lilies banking the main altar with myriad of white cathedral tapers burning in their midst. The sanctuary held tall shepard baskets overflowing with a graceful arrangement of Easter lilies. White carnations tied with white satin bows marked the pews the length of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, William O. Lepine, was lovely in a traditional wedding gown of Dutchess white satin and marquisette. The elongated bodice was fashioned with a low sweetheart yoke of appliqued orange blossoms and leg-o-mutton sleeves which ended in a lily point over the wrists. Her full satin appliqued skirt ended in a long court train and her sweeping three-tiered veil was held becomingly to her head by a tiara of seed pearls orange blossoms.

The bride carried an arm bouquet of Calla lilies tied with a large white satin bow For something old she wore an antique locket that her mother wore on her own wedding day and for sentiment she carried mother-of-pearl prayer beads, a gift from a very close friend.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Cecila Rita Lepine, maid of honor, bridesmaid; Miss Mildred De Blieux, the groom's sister of Monroe, Miss Marie Roeten, the bride's cousin of New Orleans, and Miss Vera Parent.

They wore bouffant gowns of pastel net with long full skirts, tight fitting basques and puffed sleeves. Their flowers were old fashioned bouquets of spring flowers.

"My Sister Eileen," a hilarious comedy by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov, was a tremendous success on Broadway and the road. The play recounts the adventures of two sisters from Columbus, Ohio, who have rented an apartment in Greenwich Village, while seeking a career of fame and riches. Eileen is the pretty sister, the one who has stage aspirations and the homey personality that innocently invites passes from every man, from 14 to 85, who has eyes in his head. Ruth is the plainer one, with a yen for literature. The two girls leave Columbus in pursuance of their respective ambitions and land in the toils of Landlord Appopolous and the most distracting apartment you ever saw. Through their basement grating the swirling life of the Village, its hucksters, gamins and occasionally cops, seep, flow and sometimes come in an unwelcome deluge. Strange fungus grows on the walls of the apartment walls. The kitchenette is aptly described as a "nauseatin nook." Blasting in the new subway cavern beneath, rocks the building at unexpected intervals.

And this is the home of the two girls who are seeking fame and fortune in the great city. When six Brazilian officers follow Ruth home something short of a national crisis occurs. The play is full of comedy and hilarious situations.

"My Sister Eileen" will be the last Little Theatre play of the season and will be given the first week of June. The exact date will be announced later.

O. P. H. S. Glee Club In Program At Gilbert

Gilbert High School was honored on May 16 by a visit from the choir and girls' ensemble of Ouachita Parish High School, Monroe, under the direction of Miss Velma Nichols, accompanied by Mrs. R. L. Pritchard.

The hour of lovely music which followed was opened by the girls' ensemble who sang "Woodland Solitude" continuing with a group of well-known lighter numbers. One of the highlights of this part of the program was a solo by Bob Stewart, "Jericho."

The choir captivated the audience from the first note of Handel's "Hallelujah Amen" on through to the last note of the stirring arrangement by Fred Waring of "Battle Hymn of the Republic." We consider ourselves most fortunate to have had such a fine group in our midst.

The play recounts the adventures of two sisters from Columbus, Ohio, who have rented an apartment in Greenwich Village, while seeking a career of fame and riches. Eileen is the pretty sister, the one who has stage aspirations and the homey personality that innocently invites passes from every man, from 14 to 85, who has eyes in his head. Ruth is the plainer one, with a yen for literature. The two girls leave Columbus in pursuance of their respective ambitions and land in the toils of Landlord Appopolous and the most distracting apartment you ever saw. Through their basement grating the swirling life of the Village, its hucksters, gamins and occasional cops, seep, flow and sometimes come in an unwelcome deluge. Strange fungus grows on the walls of the apartment walls. The kitchenette is aptly described as a "nauseous nook." Blasting in the new subway cavern beneath, rocks the building at unexpected intervals.

And this is the home of the two girls who are seeking fame and fortune in the great city. When six Brazilian officers follow Ruth home something short of a national crisis occurs. The play is full of comedy and hilarious situations.

"My Sister Eileen" will be the last Little Theatre play of the season and will be given the first week of June. The exact date will be announced later.

Dr. Susan B. Riley Addresses A. A. U. W.

Opportunities For Women Discussed By Members Of Peabody College Faculty

Viewing woman's position in the world of today, Dr. Susan B. Riley of Nashville, Tenn., declared that this is a national testing time when she addressed the local chapter of the American Association of University Women in the library of Neville High School.

Dr. Riley, who is vice-president of the southeast central region of the A. A. U. W., and professor of American literature at George Peabody College for Teachers, was introduced by Mrs. W. R. Hammond of the Monroe branch of the organization.

The speaker declared: "We should learn from the suffering of the past to prepare for the future. Women as individuals suffer in war; women as a group profit by war."

Referring to new opportunities for women which came with World War II, Dr. Riley warned that retrenchments would necessarily come too. Women will lose much unless they can transfer thinking from conflict to peacetime living, she asserted. Surveying opportunities for women, the speaker said, "They can share in national pride; they can form pressure groups. Women have shown wisdom and judgment in great crises. They must not give up this power in a time of challenge when the world needs thinking people."

Since we can no longer talk of a postwar world, what are we to do, Dr. Riley asked. Her response was a consideration of responsibilities and privileges of educated women. They should dedicate their energies to educational endeavor to raise the level of life. Broadened and heightened education will require keeping children in school longer and providing junior colleges and other types of schools. Facilities for such a program will require federal aid which is endorsed by the A. A. U. W. Since the South has the highest birth rate, the rest of the country can afford to help educate its children, the speaker asserted.

Increased standards call for more and better teachers. If the need for adequate instruction is filled, the teaching profession must be made more attractive by increased salaries and better living conditions, for teachers, Dr. Riley explained.

Woman's power should be utilized to prevent a return of war. One of the most effective ways to work against such conflict is to employ education. Success or failure of democracy rests upon education or ignorance of people. If we do not prepare children to become good citizens, if we do not enlighten them, our republic is doomed, Dr. Riley concluded. She referred to the lack of trained leaders in our government in contrast to the training program which England provides her leaders.

Our knowledge of science is high but our knowledge of social science, which is essential if men are to live together, is lower than it was during the Greek period. This living with each other must take on international scope. Women should work for better understanding among countries, the speaker asserted. "The world of today, which is moving into the world of tomorrow, requires cooperation. If women mobilized for peace they could stop wars. It is their duty to outlaw wars."

The evening was concluded with an informal social hour which provided an opportunity for members and guests to meet Dr. Riley. The refreshment table was covered with a handsome lace cloth and centered with an artistic arrangement of pink roses. On either side were crystal holders from which burned white candles. Lime frappe was served from a large crystal bowl by Miss Juanita Porter, and trays of confections were passed among the guests.

Serving as hostesses for the occasion were Miss Gladys Emma Whitfield, Miss Magdalen Amman, Miss Marjorie Oliver, Mrs. J. G. DeArmand and Mrs. Tom Fernberg.

Miss Winnie Wands Is The Bride Of R. E. Holloday, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Ota Gilbert Wynn of Sicily Island, announce the marriage of their daughter, Winnie Wanda, to Lt. Samuel Charles Holladay, son of R. E. Holladay, Jr., of Winnsboro.

The double-ring ceremony was solemnized at the Methodist church in Sicily Island with the Rev. Harold B. Tear, of Alexandria, officiating.

Robert E. Holladay, III, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man; Miss Barbara Jane Peck was maid of honor, Mrs. Woodie Dasher, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mr. Jess Gilbert served as groomsmen.

The ring bearer was Master Audrey Chisum, Jr. Marilyn and Carolyn Curtis served as flower girls and the ushers were O. G. Wynn, Woodie Dasher, Marvin Nolan, and Prentiss Carter. Misses Evelyn Ogden and Dorothy McNair lighted the candles.

"Because" and "I Love You Truly" were sung by Nick Medica, accompanied by Betty Sue Knight at the piano.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore a wedding gown of white satin with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls. The leg-o-mutton sleeves came to a point over her hands and were trimmed in seed pearls. Her skirt was gathered on a fitted bodice. Her veil was of white net. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with orchids.

The matron and the maid of honor wore identical dresses of ice blue satin with a peplum of blue net. They carried pink carnations and wore pink carnations in their hair.

Pink carnations formed the corsages of the candle-lighters, who wore blue taffeta models with skirts of blue marquisette. Flower girls wore pink taffeta and carried nosegays of pastel sweet peas. The ring bearer wore a white linen suit and carried two wedding rings on a white Bible.

The bride's mother wore a pastel blue print with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The church was decorated with arches entwined in pink sweetheart roses surmounted with burning candles. They were lighted prior to the arrival of the guests and the wedding party.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table, presided over by Mrs. O. G. Wynn, Jr., was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with white sweet peas. A tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Wynn. Mrs. Marvin Nolan and Miss Irene Jones served punch.

Immediately after the reception the couple left for a honeymoon in New Orleans. For traveling the bride wore a navy suit, a half hat of white flowers, and a white orchid. Her shoes, bag and gloves were of matching navy.

The newlyweds will make their home in Pensacola, Fla., where Lt. Holladay is stationed with the U. S. navy.

WEDDING OF MISS JEAN TABB AND MR. JOSEPH FRANCIS RILEY TAKES PLACE IN NEW YORK

The affectionate interest of friends in this city is centered in the marriage in New York City of Miss Jean Tabb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Tabb, off Monroe, and Mr. Joseph Francis Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Charles Riley, of Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

The wedding took place May 4 in the rectory of the Church of St. John the Baptist in the presence of the immediate members of the family and a few intimate friends.

Miss Rosanne Reid, a life-long friend of the bride's was the only attendant. She wore a beautiful azure blue traffeta model fashioned with a tight-fitting bodice, sweetheart neckline and long full skirt. She carried an arm bouquet of pale pink roses.

Mr. James King, a classmate of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mr. Charles Reid, of Monroe, La., gave the bride in marriage due to the illness of her father who was unable to be present.

The bride wore the traditional white satin wedding gown with long, court train. The bodice was tight-fitting with square cut neckline edged with Alencon lace and the sleeves, long and tight-fitting came to a point over the hands. Her veil of illusion was caught to a cap of gardenias. She carried a white ivory prayer book marked with a cluster of gardenias.

During the receiving hours, a talented young harpist, Miss Grace Field, a friend of the bride's, rendered enchanting music.

White dogwood blossoms banked the lounge of the club where the bride's table was placed. The central decor was a wide spreading plaque of pale pink tulips and sweet peas encircled with tapers.

The young couple cut their beautifully embossed wedding cake before leaving on their honeymoon.

The bride graduated from Neville High School and attended Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. She was a member of Beta Delta sorority and Purple Jackets and was prominent in various campus activities. Formerly, she was associated with Fenner and Beane in this city before transferring to New York. Since that time she has been working actively with the Wall Street office of that organization.

Mr. Riley is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy and LaSalle Institute in Troy, N. Y. He served overseas for three years with the United States army as a member of a tank destroyer battalion and is currently associated with Knickerbocker Newspaper in Albany, N. Y.

Guests from this city attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reid, Miss Rosanne Reid, Miss Dean McKoin, Miss Laura Flournoy, Miss Gene Flournoy and Mrs. Malcolm Tabb, mother of the bride.

Other out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Carlson and Mr Gilbert Carlson, Jr., of Nutley, N. J., Mrs. Nettie White and Miss Pauline White, of Jamaica, L. I., N. Y., Mrs. William Holsapple, Mr. and Mrs. Jim King, Misses Camilla and Ruth Riley, Mr. Joseph Charles Riley, of Hoosick Falls, N. Y., and Lieutenant Glenn Nations, of San Antonio, Tex.

Engagement Of Miss Mildred Kizer Announced Today

Claiming the interest of friends today will be the announcement made by Mr and Mrs. B. F. Kizer of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mildred Eloise, to Mr. Reed Lloyd Smith of Oakland, Calif.

The wedding will take place at the First Methodist Church, this city, on the 30th of June.

Miss Kizer is a great favorite in Alpha Delta Kappa sorority circles where she served as president.

Mr. Smith, a former lieutenant in the army air corps is now completing his studies at the University of California. He is a young playwright of exceptional talent.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, bringing together members of the Younger Business and Professional Women's Club, with their mothers as honor guests, was a delightful event of recent date at the Y. W. C. A.

Exquisite flowers adorned the tables and the Maytime motif was reflected in the clever placecards in the form of tiny baskets filled with pastel colored flowers.

After the introduction of the guests by Miss Bess Sharp, a toast was made to the mothers by Lucille Wallace, president of the club. Response was given by Mrs. Charles Bennett.

The main features of entertainment for the evening were a number of vocal selections by Miss Betty Rinehart, accompanied by Mrs. Margie Watson, and a poem, read by Miss Rudelle Timmermann.

The guests included Mrs. C. D. Wallace, Mrs. H. A. Brownlee, Mrs. B. R. Roe, Mrs. J. D. Johnson, Mrs. Hundley, Mrs. A. J. Strother, Mrs. E. R. Timmermann, Mrs. D. W. Caldwell, Mrs. E. G. Arnold, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Schrodt, Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mrs Annie Benton, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Margie Watson, and Miss Betty Rinehart.

Of interest to friends is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shaw, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Frances, to Mr. Francis Jordon Fitch.

The wedding will take place on Tuesday evening, June 4, at the Methodist Church, Oak Ridge, at 8 o'clock.

Friends are invited to attend the wedding through this medium.

Open house for seniors and faculty members of Ouachita Parish High School will be held Sunday at the home of Miss Beverly Ann Thatcher, 610 North Third Street, West Monroe, from 3 to 5 P. M., with Miss Sue Hunt as co-hostess.

FORMER ARTIST OF MONROE PAINTS PORTRAIT OF A FAMOUS MOVING PICTURE STAR

Monroe's art colony has never become thoroughly converted to the idea of giving Roy Henderson to California. When western fields seemed irresistable, the various groups with which he had worked were torn between their interest in his future and the need which he had filled so splendidly in this city. Those were the days when he was art instructor at Northeast Junior College of Louisiana State University. But his talent was not cloistered within academic walls. The Monroe Little Theatre made heavy demands upon him, and then there were portraits to do for several prominent persons.

Now comes a thrilling announcement—the completion of a formal portrait of Miss Ginger Rogers. An added excitement is the knowledge that it is the only portrait for which she has posed.

What is it like? The dominant color is blue, which harmonizes with the surroundings of Miss Rogers' formal living room. She wears a honey-colored satin strapless dress with an embroidered pattern of rhinestones and small, flat beads. Her only jewelry is a connected brooch and necklace designed for the gown by Josef. Her hair-do is a formal upsweep, a beautiful two-braid effect, which forms a crown to top her majestic figure.

The composition was carefully designed to portray the grace and dignity of Miss Rogers' movement. The frame is a wide, antique white executed especially for the portrait by the Green Art Gallery.

On completion of the portrait, Miss Rogers gave an unveiling party at her home in Beverly Hills. The guest list included a host of filmdom's great; Lela Rogers, Florence Lake, Greer Garson, Richard Ney, Edith Head, Van Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benny, Mr. and Mrs. David Loew, Mr. and Mrs. David Tannenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rubin, Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Green, Capt. Bill Bakewell, Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Milland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred MacMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Menjou, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Colman, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Wolff, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ames, Mr. and Mrs. A. Morgan Maree, Jr., Mr and Mrs. Charles Einfeld, Mr. Earl Ebi, Mr. Dick Powell, Miss June Allyson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hakim, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Katz, Lt. and Mrs. Rufus Henderson and many others.

For the occasion, Richard Ney created a special cocktail, which he dedicated to Mr. Henderson and to the portrait—a rich and luscious concoction with a camellia floating in each glass. Baskets of camellias were used also throughout the reception suite.

Monroyans will be eager to see a photograph of the original, so interested are they in Mr. Henderson's work. Since he gained unusual recognition for the murals which he painted in Allen Hall on the Louisiana State University campus in Baton Rouge, he has steadily gained favor and applause. His experience during the years at Northeast Junior College seems to have enhanced his work and broadened opportunities for him. Painting Miss Rogers' portrait offers inspiration to any young artist.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, bringing together members of the Younger Business and Professional Women's Club, with their mothers as honor guests, was a delightful event of recent date at the Y. W. C. A.

Exquisite flowers adorned the tables and the Maytime motif was reflected in the clever placecards in the form of tiny baskets filled with pastel colored flowers.

After the introduction of the guests by Miss Bess Sharp, a toast was made to the mothers by Lucille Wallace, president of the club. Response was given by Mrs. Charles Bennett.

The main features of entertainment for the evening were a number of vocal selections by Miss Betty Rinehart, accompanied by Mrs. Margie Watson, and a poem, read by Miss Rudelle Timmermann.

The guests included Mrs. C. D. Wallace, Mrs. H. A. Brownlee, Mrs. B. R. Roe, Mrs. J. D. Johnson, Mrs. Hundley, Mrs. A. J. Strother, Mrs. E. R. Timmermann, Mrs. D. W. Caldwell, Mrs. E. G. Arnold, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Schrodt, Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mrs Annie Benton, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Margie Watson, and Miss Betty Rinehart.

Of interest to friends is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shaw, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Frances, to Mr. Francis Jordon Fitch.

The wedding will take place on Tuesday evening, June 4, at the Methodist Church, Oak Ridge, at 8 o'clock.

Friends are invited to attend the wedding through this medium.

Open house for seniors and faculty members of Ouachita Parish High School will be held Sunday at the home of Miss Beverly Ann Thatcher, 610 North Third Street, West Monroe, from 3 to 5 P. M., with Miss Sue Hunt as co-hostess.

FORMER ARTIST OF MONROE PAINTS PORTRAIT OF A FAMOUS MOVING PICTURE STAR

Monroe's art colony has never become thoroughly converted to the idea of giving Roy Henderson to California. When western fields seemed irresistable, the various groups with which he had worked were torn between their interest in his future and the need which he had filled so splendidly in this city. Those were the days when he was art instructor at Northeast Junior College of Louisiana State University. But his talent was not cloistered within academic walls. The Monroe Little Theatre made heavy demands upon him, and then there were portraits to do for several prominent persons.

Now comes a thrilling announcement—the completion of a formal portrait of Miss Ginger Rogers. An added excitement is the knowledge that it is the only portrait for which she has posed.

What is it like? The dominant color is blue, which harmonizes with the surroundings of Miss Rogers' formal living room. She wears a honey-colored satin strapless dress with an embroidered pattern of rhinestones and small, flat beads. Her only jewelry is a connected brooch and necklace designed for the gown by Josef. Her hair-do is a formal upsweep, a beautiful two-braid effect, which forms a crown to top her majestic figure.

The composition was carefully designed to portray the grace and dignity of Miss Rogers' movement. The frame is a wide, antique white executed especially for the portrait by the Green Art Gallery.

On completion of the portrait, Miss Rogers gave an unveiling party at her home in Beverly Hills. The guest list included a host of filmdom's great: Lela Rogers, Florence Lake, Greer Garson, Richard Ney, Edith Head, Van Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benny, Mr. and Mrs. David Loew, Mr. and Mrs. David Tannenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rubin, Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Green, Capt. Bill Bakewell, Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Milland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred MacMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Menjou, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Colman, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Wolff, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ames, Mr. and Mrs. A. Morgan Maree, Jr., Mr and Mrs. Charles Einfeld, Mr. Earl Ebi, Mr. Dick Powell, Miss June Allyson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hakim, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Katz, Lt. and Mrs. Rufus Henderson and many others.

For the occasion, Richard Ney created a special cocktail, which he dedicated to Mr. Henderson and to the portrait—a rich and luscious concoction with a camellia floating in each glass. Baskets of camellias were used also throughout the reception suite.

The portrait was received most enthusiastically and was declared to be a beautiful likeness of Miss Rogers.

Monroyans will be eager to see a photograph of the original, so interested are they in Mr. Henderson's work. Since he gained unusual recognition for the murals which he painted in Allen Hall on the Louisiana State University campus in Baton Rouge, he has steadily gained favor and applause. His experience during the years at Northeast Junior College seems to have enhanced his work and broadened opportunities for him. Painting Miss Rogers' portrait offers inspiration to any young artist.

GIVE A JOB TO A VET

2000 Veterans are Jobless in Ouachita Parish

Because they lack training and experience. You can cooperate with the 'on-the-job' training program and train a veteran in your business

Results of Application of Solution

Increased pay for veterans presently employed by uncertified places of business. Work for jobless veterans through expansion of personnel. A higher standard of living and profitable vocational training for both. Additional consumer money to be spent with local merchants. Men and women of greater value to the community through knowledge acquired.

How Broad Is the Program?

Virtually as broad as the field of human enterprise. The subsistence allowance is available to any veteran working at a job, trade or profession where there is a possibility of learning and advancing.

Who Puts the Program in Operation?

In almost all instances, the veteran and his employer. The veteran applies for the subsistence allowance. The employer applies for certification of his establishment as a place for training.

What Rights Are Surrendered by the Employer?

None. The conditions of certification are easy to meet. It is a program of no red tape and only a few periodical reports.

Where Does the Veteran Apply for Certificate?

At the office of the Veterans' Administration contact representative in the Monroe City Hall or at the office of the Ouachita Parish Service Officer in the Courthouse in Monroe.

Where Does the Employer Apply for Certificate?

For apprenticeship training, at the United States Employment Service Office on South Grand Street. For on-the-job training, at the office of the Ouachita Parish Superintendent of Schools in Monroe or at the Ouachita Valley Vocational Training School in West Monroe. A telephone request for certification at either place is all that is necessary.

All that our G. I.'s and Janes want is an opportunity to earn a decent living. They are no beggars. They are honest, hard-working citizens who have fought and earned the right to earn a decent living, to become a part of this community, to work at gainful employment. Our government is co-operating by helping to finance a training program, so that our Vets may become a part of The Apprenticeship and On-the-Job Training Program.

EFFORTS TO PLACE THESE RETURNED MEN IN JOBS IS BEING SPONSORED BY THE OUACHITA PARISH VETERANS' COUNCIL

DIXIE—DO YOU EVER WORRY ABOUT CHARLEY GOING OUT WITH OTHER GIRLS?

OF COURSE NOT

I FIGURE IT OUT THIS WAY—THE MORE "ROPE" A GIRL GIVES A MAN, THE LESS HE'LL TAKE

NOW IN CHARLEY'S CASE, HE KNOWS I LIKE HIM A LOT AND CHECK ON HIM NOT!

NO WONDER MEN LIKE YOU—

-BUT, DIXIE—DO YOU THINK IT'S RIGHT FOR A GIRL TO ASK A MAN FOR A DATE?

THAT ALL DEPENDS

Y'SEE, HONEY—SOME MEN ARE TOO BASHFUL TO SPEAK THEIR MINDS AND IT TAKES A LIVE-WIRE GAL TO PUT THE WORDS INTO THEIR MOUTHS

THEN IT'S NOT WRONG

THERE'S NOTHING RIGHT OR WRONG BUT "THINKING" MAKES IT SO—BUT WHAT'S THIS LEADING UP TO?

A "MAN"—NATURALLY

THAT'S WHAT I THOUGHT—WELL—GO AHEAD AND ASK HIM FOR A DATE IF YOU WANT TO

I-I ALREADY HAVE

STRIEBEL

THEN WHAT ARE YOU SO UNCERTAIN ABOUT?—AFRAID YOU MADE A MISTAKE?

MAYBE—

—YOU SEE I ASKED CHARLEY TO TAKE ME TO A DANCE AND HE AGREED—WELL—I'D BETTER GO NOW

AFTER FINDING THE UNCONSCIOUS APE-MAN VICTIM OF THEIR TRAP, THE MUMMY-MEN CARRIED HIM BACK TO THE TEMPLE.

"SECURE HIM WELL,' TULA, THE VAMPIRE GODDESS, HISSED, 'THE MIGHTY TARZAN SHALL BE SACRIFICED TO RU-OK, QUEEN MOTHER OF ALL THE BATS!'

LITTLE NKIMA THE MONKEY HAD WITNESSED TARZAN'S CAPTURE. FEARFULLY HE WAITED OUTSIDE THE CITY WALLS FOR HIS RETURN.

AT LAST, IN DESPAIR, HE WENT TO THE APE TRIBE AND JABBERED THE STORY OF HIS MASTER'S PLIGHT.

THE APES WERE UNCONCERNED UNTIL KE-LAK THE KING BELLOWED AN ORDER FOR THE TRIBE TO GO TO THEIR BROTHER'S ASSISTANCE.

LED BY NKIMA, A CAVALCADE OF HAIRY ANTHROPOIDS WAS SOON SWINGING THROUGH THE TREES TOWARD THE CITY OF PTAH-NAK.

ON THE WAY, THE MONKEY SPIED TANTOR THE ELEPHANT AND STOPPED TO ENLIST HIS AID.

WHEN TANTOR HEARD OF HIS FRIEND'S CAPTURE, HE JOINED THE APES IN THEIR MAD DASH TO THE RESCUE.

YES--I KNOW WHO THEY ARE--

THEIR NAME IS SORREL--THEY'RE FRED'S SECOND COUSINS--ONLY BLOOD KIN HE HAS LEFT-- THEY LIVE OVER THE OTHER SIDE OF THE RIDGE--

WELL, IF THEY'RE FRED'S RELATIVES MAYBE THEY'VE COME TO SEE IF HE'S BACK-- WHY DON'T THEY COME IN AND ASK?

IF FRED WERE HOME HERE THEY WOULDN'T DARE COME EVEN THAT CLOSE--

GEE! THAT GUY IS A MEAN LOOKIN' CHARACTER-- THEY'RE DRIVIN' AWAY NOW...

Little Orphan Annie

"THERE ARISETH A LITTLE CLOUD ... LIKE A MAN'S HAND" ... KINGS XVII, 44 ... YES, ONLY A LITTLE CLOUD AT FIRST, BUT IT COULD MEAN DISASTER FOR HONEY...

YOU MEAN TO SAY YOU'VE KEPT FRED'S HOUSE UP JUST AS IT WAS, EVER SINCE HIS FOLKS GOT KILLED OVER FOUR YEARS AGO?

OF COURSE... I FIGURE FRED WOULD WANT IT THAT WAY...

BUT YOU'VE EVEN KEPT IT SWEPT AND DUSTED... SPICK AND SPAN... WHY, IT'S MEANT A LOT OF WORK TO KEEP IT JUST AS IT WAS...

IT REALLY ISN'T WORK, WHEN YOU WANT TO DO IT...

AND IT WON'T BE THE SAME AS HE'LL REMEMBER IT... IT CAN'T BE... OH, THE CHAIRS AND THINGS WILL BE IN THE SAME PLACES... BUT HIS FOLKS WON'T BE HERE...

IT'S PEOPLE WHO MAKE A HOME... NOT FURNITURE... YOU CAN DUST A MUSEUM EVERY DAY... BUT IT'S STILL JUST A MUSEUM...

GEE! ALL THE WORK YOU'VE DONE TO KEEP THIS FARM GOING ALL THESE YEARS...

IT'S BEEN EASY, ANNIE... JUST MY WAY OF DOING WHAT I COULD...

WHY NOT? IT WILL BE OUR FARM, WHEN FRED COMES BACK... IT WILL BE OUR HOME...

NEVER SAW THOSE FOLKS BEFORE... THEY'RE STOPPING OUT IN FRONT...

NOT GETTING OUT... JUST SITTIN' IN THEIR OLD CAR AND HAVIN' A GOOD LOOK... DO YOU KNOW WHO THEY ARE, HONEY?

YES... I KNOW WHO THEY ARE...

WELL, IF THEY'RE FRED'S RELATIVES MAYBE THEY'VE COME TO SEE IF HE'S BACK... WHY DON'T THEY COME IN AND ASK?

IF FRED WERE HOME HERE THEY WOULDN'T DARE COME EVEN THAT CLOSE...

I DON'T KNOW, ANNIE... BUT I HAVE AN IDEA... ... AND I DON'T LIKE IT...

SMILIN' JACK

NO, SHE DECIDED SHE'D GET A JOB OUT IN DENVER OR SALT LAKE CITY!

SHE WANTS TO STAY OUT WEST SO SHE'LL BE NEAR BY IN CASE REX'S BODY IS EVER FOUND!
